Kari thanked all the other contestants for making the experience so enjoyable and the people who worked with the pageant for their efforts in making it possible. She also thanked her family and friends.

ISD 564 okays contract with Johnson Controls

School District 564 board has approved a performance-based services contract with Johnson Controls. The initial contract would cost the district $29,300, but could lead to additional projects.

Harry Nelson, business manager for the district, explained that Johnson Controls would conduct an energy audit and come back to the board with a list of projects, which could lead to energy savings for the district. The board and Johnson Controls could then discuss and possibly reach agreement on what projects would be undertaken. The board could back out and would lose only the $29,300. The projects, if any, would be paid for through bonds and the savings realized by efficient energy use. A 10- to 15-year payback is anticipated.

Superintendent Dr. Jerry Robicheau said it's not intended to be a money maker for the district but a money saver.

Under the agreement, Johnson Controls would act as the general contractor for the projects. The district and Johnson Controls would still be bound by legal requirements regarding bids on certain projects for the district.

Nelson said that if the board was uncomfortable with the projects and estimates, the board could ask the Public Utilities Commission to look at them.

The board authorized the district to enter into a Performance Based Services Project Development Agreement with Johnson Controls authorized under Minnesota Statute 124.85.

Dr. Robicheau presented the list of positions filled at Franklin Middle School as of June 23. To date 12.0 FTE positions, new or replacements, have been filled at the school.

Dr. Robicheau also reported on two education programs — Leadership Academy and Cohort. Both offer additional training. The Cohort program would allow teachers to obtain a Masters in Educational Leadership or a Specialist in Educational Leadership without having to travel to a distant campus. Participants in the two year program would pay for the education.

The resignation of Carol Ihle, district volunteer coordinator was accepted by the board. Ihle has acted as the district's volunteer coordinator for the past seven years. Board Chairman Carl Clark said Ihle spent a great deal of time and effort with the program and the program became a model for other districts across the state. He said he was sorry to see her leave.

Dr. Robicheau said a motion will be presented at the next board meeting which will recommend how to restructure the district volunteer coordinator program.

Dr. Robicheau presented a copy of a Minneapolis Star Tribune article from Sunday, June 22. The story is based on a scientific poll taken by the newspaper which indicates that parent participation is critical to children doing well in school. It is far more important, according to the poll, than being able to choose a school, either public or private, which is what Governor Carlson is proposing.

The board denied a grievance filed by the Teamsters on behalf of food service employees.

The school board recognized the following: Shaun Brandt and Adam L. Kennedy of Thief River Falls for recently completing their graduation requirements through the Area Learning Center, the following businesses and organization which recently made donations to the Volunteer Luncheon — Hartz Foods, Eagles Club, Hugo's, Eagles Auxiliary, Coca Cola, Bridgeman's and Arctic Cat; and the Eagle's Club for the graduation party and calendar project.

The board accepted the following business items regarding personnel: the resignation of Scott Bergland as assistant hockey coach; the resignation of Kent Holmes as assistant hockey coach; the resignation of Kent Holmes as assistant girls golf coach; the resignation of Brian Olson as boys and girls co-head swim coach; the following ALC summer session 1997 employment — Wayne Johnneson as coordinator/teacher, Jim Goldesberry as teacher, Patricia Smidt as teacher, Peter Solem as teacher, Robert Wayne as teacher, Audrey Kasprowicz as teacher at Roseau Satellite site, Chris Vacura as teacher at Roseau Satellite site; the employment of Robert Wayne as social teacher at Franklin; the employment of Charles Walrath as math/science teacher; the employment of Michael Wienen as sixth

After serving three years in the Pennington County Dairy Princess program, Ingrid Hanson made the most of her experience Saturday, June 28, when she was crowned Region I Dairy Princess at the contest conducted during the community dairy day in Mahnomen. Ingrid was also selected by the contestants as Miss Congeniality.

The Region I Dairy Princess contest alternates each year between Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls and another county in the 17-county region. There were 14 contestants in the competition this year to represent Region 1 in the state Princess Kay of the Milky Way contest at the Minnesota State Fair in August.

The daughter of Mark and Audrey Hanson of rural Thief River Falls and a 1996 graduate of Lincoln high school, Ingrid is the fifth Pennington county entry to be crowned Region 1 Princess and the first since Lynne Krohn of the Viking area was crowned in 1980. Barbara Droppo of Thief River Falls was the first Northwest Dairy Princess in 1955. Suzanne Bruggeman and Brenda Mathson won successive regional titles in 1972 and 1973.

Assisting with the coronation were Rachel Klopp of Kelliher, 1996-97 Region 1 Princess and Kristi Pettis of Winthrop, 1996-97 Princess Kay of the Milky Way.

Contestants for the 1997 competition stayed at the Shooting Star Casino Motel Friday evening after participating in dairy product promotions at the bank and grocery stores in the afternoon. Coronation ceremonies were at 1 p.m. Saturday and contestants visited Mahnomen business places in the morning and invited owners and managers to attend the downtown dairy day events, including the coronation.

During the 1996-97 school year Ingrid attended Asbury College near Lexington, KY, where she was a member of the speech team. She qualified for the Novice Nationals for first year participants in the National Forensic Association and placed sixth at the national event in Making costumes for their trip to Emerson, Man., Canada to participate in the Manitoba International Theatre Festival are cast members of "Nunsense II: The Second Coming." From left are Kari Frisch, Diane Haven, Deb Jacobson, Marilyn Wigness and Heidi Hoks. The group is seeking sponsors to assist with the approximately $2,000 in expenses for costumes, travel, royalties, music rights other costs. A public dress rehearsal is planned for July 8.

TRF resident wins $7,000 playing Sizzling 7s lottery

Jerry Oaklund of Thief River Falls won $7,000 playing the Lottery's Sizzling 7s instant game. The prize was claimed June 25. Oaklund bought the winning ticket at Al and Laura's Foods, Fertile.

Sizzling 7s is a $1 instant tic-tac-toe themed game. To win, uncover a black tic-tac-toe combination. Find a red tic-tac-toe and the prize doubles.

Other prizes include $3,500, $700, $350, $100, $60, $30, $15, $10, $8, $6, $4, $2 and $1. Overall odds are 1 in 4.11.

Local players will perform at Theatre Festival in Emerson

Actresses from Thief River Falls have been invited to perform at the Manitoba International Theatre Festival in Emerson, Man., Canada July 12 and 13.

Nunsense II: The Second Coming will be presented at the festival, according to Kari Frisch, producer of That's Entertainment, the organization which will take the play on the road. Making the trip will be Deb Jacobson, Heidi Hoks, Marilyn Wigness, Sally Erickson, Deb Have and Frisch of Thief River Falls and Diane Haven of Newfolden.

The public is invited to a dress rehearsal to be held Tuesday, July 8, at 8:15 p.m. at the Thief River Golf Club as part of an effort to raise funds for the trip. Free-will donations will be accepted. Frisch estimates the costs will be about $2,000 for costumes, travel, programs, music rights and royalties and is looking for local sponsors "to help send the sisters north."

Because the invitation was received too late to permit ordering costumes, the cast members are making them. The experience has been an eye-opener—which is good, because there have been a number of late nights put in at the sewing machines.

"We always wanted to have our own habits," notes Deb Jacobson, who plays Reverend Mother Sister Mary Regina.

"We didn't have any patterns so we had to design some things on our own," adds Marilyn Wigness, cast accompanist. "It takes a lot of material to cover a nun properly." She estimates that 40 yards of material have been used so far, "—and we're still going," quips Jacobson.

Rehearsals are being held daily to refresh memories and fine tune the presentation. "I was amazed at how much I remembered," states Sally Erickson, who plays Sister Hubert.

"And we all did much better just singing what came naturally rather than trying to look at the music written in five parts and trying to figure out which note we each sang during the previous production," adds Diane Haven, who plays Sister Leo.

The Little Sisters of Nunsense II are collecting funds from local individuals and businesses to "support their habit(s)," so to speak, by helping pay for the expenses of participating at Emerson. As of Tuesday, July 1, they had received donations from Bakke Insurance, Tom Kaye Auction-2-Sell, Stan Sjoberg, Gerald Wigness, Cellular 2000, Express Mart and The Times.

"We greatly appreciate the support," Frisch said, "because we don't want to miss out on this opportunity to take our show on the road. We're hoping to see a lot of people at our final dress rehearsal July 8."

There will be general seating for the show and persons desiring more information about the rehearsal or interested in becoming a sponsor are encouraged to contact Frisch at 681-6604.

Kansas. She also traveled as a member of the speech team with the college debate team to a number of meets during the season.

This fall she will transfer to Moorhead State University to major in theater and minor in business.

Ingrid also participated in speech and drama at Lincoln high school and believes that her speech experience was very helpful in winning the Region I Dairy Princess title.

Ingrid served as Pennington County Junior Dairy Princess for two years before she graduated from high school and was old enough to participate in the regional contest, which she did last year. She was starting her second year as county princess when she received the Region I title.

In addition to her crown, banner, bouquet of roses and a trip to the state fair competition late this summer, Ingrid received a set of luggage as a prize for winning the title and a bracelet to commemorate being named Miss Congeniality.

"It's exciting," Ingrid said of her new position in the dairy royalty hierarchy. "I look forward to continuing being a strong advocate for the dairy industry and for healthy dairy products, and to do so on a wider level. The state contest should be a lot of fun and I expect to enjoy that experience as well."

Where can 125-pound "Freddie", the mountain lion, sit? Anywhere he wants!

by Kathi Carlson
Times Reporter

Finding an outdoor cat on the doorstep trying to get in isn't what anyone would consider unusual. If one doesn't want a cat inside, one usually just slides it over with the side of his foot to get the cat out of the way. However, if the kitty weighs 125 pounds, one would have to reconsider his dilemma.

The few times that Brian Stenseth's cat, Freddie, has been on the loose, like most other cats, she's home around the door waiting to get in.

Freddie is a fourteen-month-old mountain lion, and Brian is the 20-year-old son of Rick and Deb Stenseth of rural Thief River Falls.

Currently living at home with his parents and younger sisters, Brian is a repairman at Arctic Cat Inc. He informed me that his parents were "surprised" when he sprang his new pet on them. That would be considered a rather mild but normal reaction to a cat that looks like it might want to have you for breakfast.

Brian purchased his pet from Ken and Nancy Kraft of Racine, a town in southeastern Minnesota. The Krafts raise lions, tigers, bears, foxes, ostriches and just about every kind of zoo-type animal one can imagine. The animals are sold as pets and to be used for entertainment and promotional purposes. Brian's cat had been photographed for some print advertising before Brian acquired her at the age of three months.

Because there are laws with regard to owning "exotic" animals, Kraft provided Brian with the necessary license and made the Department of Natural Resources aware that Brian owned the animal.

Brian was quick to point out that he is not responsible for female Freddie's name. She had been given the name before he got her.

When Brian brought Freddie home, the cute three-month-old kitten weighed about thirty pounds. Nearly a year later, she is a handsome animal. Her thick fur is made up of tawny-gray hairs tipped with reddish brown. Her throat, belly and the inside of her legs are white, and the tip of her long tail is black. Characteristic of mountain lions, her body is slender and her legs are long. Her head is round and, in proportion to the rest of her body, seems rather small. She currently weighs about 125 pounds. Brian describes her as half-grown. While she will probably gain only another 25 pounds, she is expected to get much longer. A mountain lion may reach a length of five feet or more, not counting its tail. The heaviest mountain lion on record weighed 227 pounds.

Her physical characteristics aside, Freddie is just like other cats. She lies around, purrs, plays, eats and sleeps. She's very independent and curious and has a mind of her own.

Because she likes to play, and because of her size and strength, some extra precautions had to be taken. She had been completely declawed at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester before Brian got her. Her teeth were filed down by Dr. Gemma Drees, a Red Lake Falls veterinarian.

Finding a veterinarian for Freddie was no easy task. According to Brian, Dr. Drees was the "only vet who would touch her." Along with her dental work, Freddie had to have all the regular pet shots and is given worm pills periodically.

Freddie is fed turkeys from Northern Pride, and Brian is able to take advantage of a program offered by the Department of Natural Resources and use deer that have been killed by motor vehicles. Freddie also likes a certain brand of dog food and is still bottle-fed a nutritional subsitute.

In case you're curious, Freddie does not use a litter box, but rather a wading pool. It is instinctive for a mountain lion to hide her scent, and without a river or stream nearby, the wading pool is the next best thing.

When she's getting the attention she thrives on, Freddie purrs. Her purr is loud and at first I wasn't sure if it was a purr or a low-pitched growl. The mountain lion is the only big cat that purrs. Asked if she roars, Brian referred to her sound as a "chirp", and only once did she make the sound during my visit. It sounded like a short, quick, loud meow.

She lives in a kennel surrounded by a chain link fence. Her concrete runway is large with a house at one end. She also has access to the garage, and Brian feels very fortunate that his dad allows her to "mess up the garage." A playful kitty, she has a tendency to drag things around. She also spends some time in the house.

When I've observed other large wild cats in captive situations, they continually pace the perimeters of their cage or pen. Freddie does that only when strangers come into the yard.

While outdoors, she is kept on the end of a leash. She has, on occasion, gotten out of her kennel or slipped out of her halter. Instead of taking off, she hangs out on the doorstep, or as Brian found out this past winter, she plays with the dog. One morning as Brian was leaving for work, the cat leaped over the hood of his car in hot pursuit of the dog. Brian discovered that she had been loose most of the night.

Asked if his family appreciates his pet, Brian grinned and replied, "pretty much." Freddie has managed to get herself in a spot of trouble now and then. For the most part, however, everyone enjoys her. Brian's parents take her for walks, and Brian takes her for the rides in the car that she thoroughly relishes.

When I inquired about how long she was expected to live, Brian answered, "A l-o-n-g time." Recently, his dad asked, "Brian, what are you going to do with that cat?" When I repeated the question, he simply replied, "Keep her." If and when Brian leaves home, he realizes that not every neighborhood will welcome his pet.

While others may wonder why Brian would want such a pet, I didn't have to ask. The good-natured, mischievious little boy who had lived next door to me for eleven years has grown up to be an adventurous young man with the same impish grin and twinkle in his eye. Sitting on Stenseth's porch scratching Freddie's neck, I was as comfortable with his cat as I was with Brian.

It was as I was leaving that Freddie decided that it was time to play, and without warning, she leaped at me and wrapped her powerful legs around my mid-section and I forgot that those big paws had no claws and that her teeth weren't sharp. I felt my eyes widen as I inhaled deeply. Once Brian came to my rescue, and my heart resumed a steady beat, I realized that I had overreacted, but for a moment or two, I can truthfully say, "The cat had my tongue."

Twenty-year-old Brian Stenseth is the owner of one of the area's more unusual pets – a 125 pound, female mountain lion named "Freddie". The son of Rick and Deb Stenseth, Brian lives with his parents and younger sisters at their rural Thief River Falls home. Freddie occupies a large kennel, has the run of the garage and sometimes hangs out on the doorstep.

Freddie, the pet of Brian Stenseth of Thief River Falls, is a mountain lion. At fourteen months, Freddie is considered half-grown. Weighing 125 pounds, she will probably gain only another 25 pounds or so but is expected to get much longer. A mountain lion may reach a length of five feet or more, not including its long tail.

Stenseth purchased this baby mountain lion–nearly a year age in Racine, a small town in southeastern Minesota.

ON MY MIND

Kim Chadwick-Quade

Here comes the bridesmaid!

My mom was recently lamenting the fact that she'd only been a bride, never a bridesmaid. I told her I didn't think she had missed much.

After performing the special duties of a bridesmaid five times I'm crossing my fingers and wishing upon a star every night that I'm not asked to be a bridesmaid again. Nightmare is one word that comes to mind when describing this experience.

It seems as if a wedding gives a bride a license to go off the deep end. Brides, during this special time in their life, get stressed and often show the other side of a dual personality, and it's not good. Of course, I was the perfect bride – just ask my husband.

The challenge starts with the selection of the bridesmaid dresses. Each bride personally assured me that her goal was to select a dress that we could wear again.

Tell me, where am I going to wear a floor-length, peach, polyester gown with a high neck and a ruffle running down the front of my chest? Or the floor-length fuchsia dress, too small for me in the bust, that had a big bow decorating the derriere. At the company Christmas party? I don't think so.

The only thing those dresses are useful for now is a costume party – a very spendy costume at that. They won't even sell for a buck at a rummage sale.

Not only were the gowns not able to be worn after the wedding, they were not flattering for me. Of course, no one is supposed to look better than the bride, but some went too far. In the photos from one wedding I look like a charming, sparkling helium balloon.

For each lovely dress I have a pair of beautiful matching shoes. The only ones who knew the color of our shoes were us and the bride. But shame if someone sneaked a peek under our dress and our shoes didn't match. Life would definitely end and it would ruin the wedding.

By now you can probably tell that I'm a non-traditionalist when it comes to weddings and all the activities attached to them. My reasons for wanting to avoid the bridesmaid gig are many:

- I don't want to attend any more bridal showers where we make the bride a toilet paper dress or see how many words we can make out of the couple's name in under a minute or see how many wedding terms we can unscramble in two minutes. All these contests to win a prize that you have to give to the bride anyway.
- Being a bridesmaid isn't for me because I'd have to actually wear makeup and earrings - for a whole day.
- If I'm not a bridesmaid I don't have to sit at a head table while everyone watches me eat.
- I won't have to dance the wedding party dance with the goofy guy (third cousin twice removed of the groom) who escorted me down the aisle earlier in the day.
- No more bridesmaid means I can wear anything I want to the wedding and dance and be comfortable. I won't have to suffocate in an unflattering dress and pretend I'm having fun.
- By being a guest I won't have to watch my mild-mannered friend (now the bride) turn into a tyrant. At one wedding we weren't allowed to eat or drink anything before the pictures and ceremony - in case we spilled on ourselves.
- If I boycott the bridesmaid role I can avoid the mother-of-the-bride whose expectations oftentimes exceed those of the bride.

At the next wedding, don't be looking for me on the altar in a dress I can never wear again. Look for me in the pew enjoying my anonymity.

Parents of the couple are Claude and Marilyn Beach of Valley City, ND and Cal and Vicki Lindberg of Thief River Falls.

Trinity Lutheran church Blood Drive July 2-3

United Blood Services will hold a blood drive July 2-3 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls. The blood drive will be held on Wednesday, July 2, from 1 to 7 p.m., and Thursday, July 3, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. For more information contact Rhonda Joppru, blood drive coordinator at 681-4423.

Blood drives held around holidays are especially important. Because United Blood Services' blood drive schedule is often reduced over a major holiday, an additional supply of blood is needed to meet patient demands.

Platelets are a special blood component that enables blood to clot. They are needed each day by area cancer patients and traumatic surgeries. But platelets can only be kept for five days, so they can't be made in advance and saved for a holiday. That's another reason our blood drive is so important — to help ensure an adequate platelet supply.

And while many people take advantage of a holiday weekend to take a "mini-vacation" out of town, hospital patients can't take a vacation — they need blood every day, even holidays.

Most people think, "Someone else will donate, I don't need to." But you are needed. Contact Rhonda Joppru, coordinator, at 681-4423 to schedule an appointment.

Donors must bring identification which includes your legal name plus one of these: date of birth, social security number, United Blood Services assigned donor number or photo.

Creative Castles

Here's a castle craft that encourages creativity. Cut a quantity of cardboard tubes into various lengths, cutting the tops of some to resemble a castle's towers. Your child can manipulate and build with the tubes. Then provide him or her with a sheet of sturdy paper and a small tray of glue. To make a castle, dip the side of each of the tubes into the glue and arrange them in a on another sheet of paper. When the glue is dry, paint the castle gray, or, to duplicate the look of a sand castle, paint the tubes yellow and sprinkle the wet paint with a mixture of sand and glitter. Complete the castle with paper flags. What a stunning structure!

PARENTING TIPS

More On Playing Together

Many preschool children enjoy cooperative play (as discussed last week) with pretend play to form what is called "social fantasy play." In this type of play, each child is assigned a specific fantasy role (firefighter, nurse, super hero, mom) in a game with a specific fantasy theme (a trip to the moon).

Through social fantasy play, children assume leadership roles and learn to better manage their own feelings and to be more understanding of others.

As children progress through the various stages of play, it is apparent that play is very important in their development. It is how they learn about the world around them. Parents and care-givers need to be aware of all the things that are going on when a child plays and provide for it. Play is important work for children.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Encourage your child's pretend play. Your child will enjoy it if you join in the fantasy with him/her.

Regional data center serving Northwest Minnesota

Polk-Marshall Family Services Collaborative has become the newest regional data center for First Call for Help, serving Northwest Minnesota. The Collaborative is based in Crookston and has been coordinated by Joyce White since March 1996.

First Call Minnesota is a statewide infrastructure for information and referral that manages an electronic database of services available to families in their own locality as well as across a five state area. According to Krista Bostum, systems analyst for First Call for Help, First Call creates an integrated network of computerized information systems. "Once connected to the network via a family center, through the library or through a family service representative at any one of the locations, one could access any number possible types of information. For example, a mother could utilize an on-site dedicated terminal to locate the nearest food shelf or social services agency, a father could work with a family center to register his child for school, a family could get on the Internet and find out where the local YMCA is located or get help in signing up for temporary assistance without having to take the bus or find transportation to the local social services agency, a young person could find a job or change jobs or just browse over the Internet at the local community center. Most of all, this network would allow families to get connected to a community hub that will welcome their strengths as a contribution to the local community."

Coordinator White from Winger was formerly director of counseling and Learning Resources at Dickinson State University and recently completed her doctorate in educational administration at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. She received training in the administration of FirstCallNet software applications from the First Call Minnesota headquarters in Minneapolis. "Living in a small community with limited local services, I am aware of the importance of an information and referral source such as First Call for Help to rural Minnesotans. The 911 system was a welcome and essential tool for addressing immediate safety concerns such as fire, health emergencies, and criminal acts. First Call for Help will allow rural people to access up-to-date information, not only during crises but proactively in regard to basic subsistence, mental and physical health, education, consumer services, environmental quality, income security, criminal and legal services, individual and family life, and organizations and community services.

"It was evident during the flood crisis that all segments of the community — churches, neighborhood groups, fraternal organizations, businesses, as well as the formal, traditional human service organizations — are vital caretakers in the rural society. First Call for Help brings all the resources of the community to light and provides people the information to make their own decisions about needed services and how to access them. We are excited to be able to initiate this service."

Hardware was delivered to the Crookston office the first week in June, and software was installed shortly thereafter. The office is now busy collecting and inputting data about services in Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Mahnomen, Norman and Polk counties and is taking applications for a system administrator and a data input clerk. The Crookston First Call for Help office is located at 223 East 7th Street, Suite 100 and can be reached by calling 218-281-3820. Once the majority of area services have been putted to the data base, a toll free number (1-800-KIDS-709) will give anyone in the eight-county service area direct access to the Crookston office. Until that time, calls on the 800 line will be answered at Fergus Falls and re-directed to the appropriate agency or service.

She has spent four years as a mission pastor and eight years teaching Bible schools among the Inuit people near the Arctic Circle. Prior to coming to Thief River Falls she was pastor of a church in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada for four years.

Pastor Haverkamp has traveled extensively on mission fields in Russia, Israel, Mexico, France, Holland, Norway and Canada and been a retreat and conference speaker across the U.S. and Canada for churches and women's organizations. Fr. Pribula appointed pastor of St. Mary's

Bishop Victor Balke, Roman Catholic bishop of the 14 counties of Northwest Minnesota which comprise the Diocese of Crookston, has appointed Fr. Duane J. Pribula as pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church of Warroad and St. Philip's Catholic Church of Falun. This appointment takes effect on July 1.

Fr. Pribula served the tri-parishes of St. Francis Xavier in Oklee, St. Joseph in Brooks and St. Vincent in Plummer since August 1993. The previous pastor of St. Mary's and St. Philip's parishes was Fr. Pat Sullivan. He has been appointed pastor of St. Mary's Mission, Red Lake, St. John's parish, Nebish, and Sacred Heart parish, Wilton.

Fr. Duane J. Pribula is the son of Leon and Irene (Vanyo) Pribula, a retired farm couple who reside near Alvarado. A former parishioner of St. Joseph Catholic Church, Oslo, Fr. Pribula was ordained a priest for the Diocese of Crookston on June 13, 1970, at Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Warren. In 1989 he received a Master's Degree in Divinity from the St. Paul Seminary School of Divinity, University of St. Thomas, St. Paul.

During these 27 years of pastoral ministry, Fr. Pribula has served on various diocesan boards and commissions as well as community boards and commissions. During his four years of residing at Oklee, he served on the Oklee School Community Education Advisory Group and the Diocesan Board of Consultors and various other organizations. As a past director of rural life office, Diocese of Crookston, he was a charter member of "The International Coalition of Soil and Water Stewardship in the Red River Basin." This commission recently organized the Red River Basin Board. This new board has appointed membership from Manitoba, North Dakota, Minnesota and South Dakota following the devastating floods of 1997. It is hoped that the Red River Basin Board will develop basin-wide water management and flood prevention programs and be recognized as a major player in future RRV basin water management planning.

In his new assignment, Fr. Pribula will serve over 330 households registered in the two communities of St. Mary's and St. Philip's Catholic Churches.

Fr. Dennis Wieland, pastor of St. Bernard's Parish, Thief River Falls, has been appointed pastor of St. Francis Xavier, St. Joseph's and St. Vincent, while retaining his current duties as pastor of St. Bernard's, St. Ann's, Goodridge, and St. Clement's, Grygla. SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

...The Fourth - A Family Celebration

Once again our fair city will host a grand American Festival for Independence Day. What a way for the family to spend the Fourth of July - and right in our home town, too!

For years many of us grumbled that Thief River Falls was "dead as a doornail" on the Fourth of July. We moaned and groaned that we had to go to other area towns to do some celebrating with our families, and that the only way the kids around here could celebrate the Fourth was with illegal fireworks.

Many's the year I remember staying in town with several youngsters on the big holiday, trying to make some sort of a celebration with a family cook-out and a few illicit sparklers. As soon as it was dark, the sparklers were brought out of hiding to be secretly lit and waved around the back yard while we all took turns keeping watch for the cruising copsters (whose station is only a couple of blocks from our house, of course).

Every so often the bigger children would somehow obtain a few larger, rather noisy fireworks for our back yard celebration. It seemed that these boisterous salvos somehow always drew the attention of the police (no doubt they could hear the loud bursts from their station), who would slowly cruise through the alley. This would, of course, put an end to our celebrating for the evening, as father, mother and children raced for the back door, one after another, like a family of frightened ducks. Thank heaven our illicit family Fourth of July entertainments didn't do lasting harm to the children. It appears that they have all grown up to be law-abiding citizens.

Anyway, families no longer have to hide away in their dark back yards to celebrate the Fourth of July. Now Thief River Falls has a wonderful, free celebration for everyone with spectacular fireworks to top it all off. What a treat!

The Festival is like an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration, beginning with the parade on Friday morning, and ending with a grand fireworks display on Saturday night. In between the two, there are events planned all over town, things to see and do, tasty things to eat and drink, tests of courage, tests of strength, games, prizes, shows of all kinds.

Yes, this year there is no need to go out of town to find a holiday celebration. Everything will take place right here. Be sure you take part in at least some of the activities this year, and celebrate the American independence the way it was meant to be celebrated.

By the way, thanks to all of the individuals, businesses and companies who have had a part in sponsoring the American Festival.

Seniors eligible for assistance with heavy work

Senior citizens who are 60 years of age or older and live in their own homes are eligible to receive assistance with outside heavy chores according to the Northwest Area Agency on Aging.

Persons eligible who need help with raking, tree trimming, shoveling, minor painting, window washing or other outside chores may call the Senior Linkage Line at 1-800-333-2433. The Northwest Area Agency on Aging is the referral agency for the Chore Programs in Region 1. The agency will connect those who inquire with the chore service in their area.

The Senior Linkage Line may also be called for information about service providers who can help the elderly remain active and independent in their own homes. It is used frequently by persons seeking help for aging parents who seem to have a difficult time maintaining their homes.

For more information, call the number listed above or contact the NWRDC area Agency on Aging at 115 South Main, Suite 1, Warren, MN 56762, phone 1-218-745-6733.

The Area Agency on Aging of the Northwest Regional Development Commission has set July 31, 1997 as the deadline to submit a letter of intent to apply for Federal Older Americans Act funds. Only agencies submitting a letter of intent will be invited to submit a grant application. The deadline for submitting grant applications will be September 19, 1997.

Funding is available to provide services which will maintain the independence of individuals age 60 and older in Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Red Lake, Norman and Pennington counties. Some of these services may include chore service, legal services, advocacy, housekeeping, guardianship, volunteer respite care, telephoning, information and assistance, transportation, home repair and renovation and development of residential services as an alternative to nursing homes. Funding is also available for health promotion and wellness programs designed to encourage individuals to adopt more healthy lifestyles.

Public or private agencies and political subdivisions of Minnesota are eligible to apply for the matching grant funds. Federal Older Americans Act funds are provided through the Minnesota Board on Aging and administered locally by the Northwest Area Agency on Aging (a program of the Northwest Regional Development Commission).

To obtain a letter of intent packet, or for further information, contact Danica Robson, Northwest Area Agency on Aging, 115 South Main, Suite 1, Warren, MN 56762, telephone 218-745-6733 or 1-800-333-2433 Senior LinkAGE line.

Tracy elected president of U.S. Wheat

Subject to approval through a mail ballot vote among U.S. Wheat Associates' board of directors, Alan Tracy has been selected as the new president of USW. Tracy has been serving as the Wisconsin Secretary of Agriculture.

Tracy has served in his current position since 1990 and was a special assistant to the President for agricultural trade and food assistance from 1986 to 1989. He has held several positions in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, including deputy assistant secretary of ag for marketing and inspection services, deputy undersecretary for international affairs and commodity programs and general sales manager.

From 1970 to 1981 he worked in his family's farming business in Wisconsin, raising hogs and cattle and producing hybrid seed corn. Tracy holds a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics from Cornell University and masters degree in international business from the University of Wisconsin.

He will begin his duties as USW president in August, succeeding Winston Wilson, who has served in the position since 1981.

23 MN counties show dairy growth

Twenty-three counties in Minnesota had net growth in number of dairy cows from a year ago, although overall number of dairy farms in the state continued to decline, according to Minnesota Department of Agriculture dairy development specialist Harold Stanislawski.

The 23 counties had increases from 100 to 1,000 cows for a combined growth of 6,700 cows and included Big Stone, Pope, Stevens, Wilkin, Clay, Kandiyohi, Meeker, Renville, Sherburne, Sibley, Jackson, Stearns, Murray, Pipestone, Redwood, Brown, LeSueur, Martin, Nicollet, Rice, Steele, Fillmore and Wabasha.

Stanislawski predicted strong possibilities of future dairies being built in western Minnesota, "largely because of crop farmers interested in dairy as a value-added opportunity, less pressure from urban sprawl, processors that are interested in procuring milk and an entrepreneurial spirit of promoting dairy to make money."

He said he is enthusiastic about boosting cow numbers and improving milk production because that's what it takes to maintain the state's processing facilities.

Soo Line roundhouse has lengthy history

Railroad roundhouse operations in Thief River Falls were terminated June 15, bringing to an end a 92-year history of engine repair and service in this community.

Stuart J. Nelson of Anoka, son of Millard and Helga Nelson of Thief River Falls and a railroad historian as well as a railroad employee, has provided the following history of the local roundhouse operation:

by Stuart J. Nelson

The Soo Line Railroad built into Thief River Falls on Sunday, September 11, 1904. On Oct. 6, 1904, a passenger train between Thief River Falls and Minneapolis was inaugurated.

A roundhouse was at Mahnomen and freight train crews operated Glenwood to Mahnomen and Mahnomen to Emerson (Manitoba). No terminal facilities were at Thief River Falls.

Early in 1905 construction began on the Wheatline, Thief River Falls to Kenmare (ND), being completed that fall.

The terminal facilities at Thief River Falls began being constructed in 1905. The original six-stall cement block portion of the roundhouse was built in January of 1905. The water tank and coaling station were not built until June and July of 1905.

The original roundhouse also had a 37x41 machine shop. In 1910 a larger boiler room, 32x50, was added that heated the buildings and also had connections for heating standby passenger cars.

An eight-stall wood addition to the roundhouse was also built in 1910. Traffic had increased and the Plummer line through to Duluth was completed that year.

Each stall was 80 feet long. Later six stalls were extended eight feet because of longer locomotives.

For accessing the roundhouse and turning engines, a 60-foot turntable was built. This was replaced with a 75-foot table in 1908 and again replaced with a 90-foot table in 1944.

In 1949 No. 3 stall was remodeled for diesel-electric locomotive servicing. As times changed, No. 1 and No. 2 stalls were remodeled for parts and equipment storage and No. 14 stall was made into a locker and shower room.

Trains were operated out of Thief River Falls in all four directions—west to Kenmare and Drake, north to Noyes, east to Duluth-Superior and south to Glenwood and the Twin Cities.

The roundhouse was equipped for replacing flues and some major repair work. During the 1930s this was phased out and only running repairs and servicing was done.

With the current changes, locomotives will be serviced at St. Paul and Winnipeg.

Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce visited the open house for the Thief River Falls Workforce Center. The Workforce Center is located in Northland Community and Technical College, along Highway 1 East. It is open Monday through Friday 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and until 8 p.m. on Thursdays. Pictured from left are Bob Berg, chamber executive vice president, Patricia Ueland of the Workforce Center, and Deb Quesnell, chamber ambassador.

Heidi Johnson's essay, entitled "Sandra Day O'Connor," was awarded first prize in the local essay contest, and was recently awarded second place in the Minnesota AAUW writing contest.

The essay contest, "Women in Government: Working to Make a Difference," focused on interviews, library research, and essay writing to explore the influence, contributions, and impact of women in local, state, national, and international government.

"AAUW encourages young people to consider the impact of women in government for their contributions to equity and positive societal change. These student winners are recognized for their research skills and writing abilities, and we applaud them for their efforts," said Peggy Walker, Minnesota AAUW Writing Contest Chairman.

Heidi was presented a certificate and a $25 award from the Minnesota AAUW in a recent ceremony. She will also receive recognition in the nationally recognized AAUW newsletter, The Minnesota Pine. For more information about AAUW, contact Gayle Borchert, president Thief River Falls AAUW branch.

Alyson Gilbert is winner of Miss Marshall Co. Pageant

Alyson Gilbert, 18, daughter of Phyllis Harsin and Jim Fischer of Crookston and a 1997 graduate of Crookston Central high school, was named the 1997-98 Miss Marshall County Sunday afternoon, June 28, at the Middle River school gymnasium. She sang Memories from the musical Cats as her talent number.

First runner-up was Allison Widner, 18, daughter of Neil and Leslie Widner of Stephen and a 1997 graduate of Stephen high school. Second runner-up was Marisa Toren, 19, daughter of Gary and Marg Toren of Alvarado (formerly of Middle River) and a 1996 graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

The new Miss Marshall County won the evening gown/on-stage personality and swimsuit divisions of the pageant. First runner-up Allison Widner won the talent division—with a piano solo entitled "Toccata" by Kachiturian and second runner-up Marisa Toren won the personal interview division.

Other contestants were Sara Gustanzik, daughter of Stan and Gloria Gustanzik of Argyle, Angie Kovarik, daughter of Randy and Tammy Kovarik of Alvarado, who was selected by the contestants as Miss Congeniality, and Kelly Liedberg, daughter of Rodney and Eunice Liedberg of Newfolden.

Alyson Gilbert now has two crowns to wear as she is also the reigning Miss Crookston, 1996-97. She received her Crookston title at the pageant during the city's Ox Cart Days last August and will crown her successor at the same community event this year.

Having a dual title is not expected to be a problem, Alyson told The Times in a special interview, since the one year reign as Miss Crookston will be completed soon and there will likely be no events which both Miss Crookston and Miss Marshall County would be expected to attend.

"I'm willing to make whatever appearances the committees for either pageant want me to make," she said. "I'm pleased to be honored with the Miss Marshall County title and will do my best to represent the county well at the Miss Minnesota Scholarship Pageant in Austin next spring."

Vocal music has been a strong interest for Alyson for many years although she has just recently taken private voice lessons. She sang in the school choirs in Crookston for nine years, lettered in high school choir three years and won nine gold pins in state area vocal ensemble competition. This year she won the J. W. Thorson Memorial Scholarship for excellence in music.

"I participated in the high school musicals and have done a lot of solo work for community events and at my church (Trinity Lutheran in Crookston)," she said.

"When I attend Moorhead State University this fall I will be majoring in vocal performance, and that requires me to take private voice lessons on a daily basis. I hope to sing professionally after college, but I know that's a tough field to get into, so I'm minoring in the business area of music production to have another area of training that I could use to work in the music field."

In addition to her mother and step-father in Crookston, Alyson has a father and step-mother, Chris and Nan Gilbert, who live in Texas. She is the only girl in a family of four boys who include Trent Fischer, 21, Hagen Gilbert, 15, Kit Gilbert, 13, and Henry Fischer, 6.

While singing is one of her major interests, she also enjoys fishing, in-line skating, spending time at the lake (but not in the water) and the companionship of her cockapoo dog, named "Sam."

As her Miss America program platform, Alyson will emphasize a passion for working with children, encouraging them to be involved with the arts and to follow their dreams and goals. She hopes to go into Marshall county elementary schools and share those views and enthusiasm with pre-teen youngsters.

Among her first appearances as Miss Marshall County will be at the Marshall County Fair in Warren.

Alyson Gilbert, 18, a 1997 graduate of Crookston Central high school, was selected as Miss Marshall County Sunday afternoon in the Middle River school gymnasium. She won the evening gown and swimsuit divisions of the pageant and will represent Marshall county at the Miss Minnesota pageant next June.

Depot project change orders are approved

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Change orders to the Soo Depot restoration project in downtown Thief River Falls were recently approved by the Thief River Falls City Council. Project coordinator Don Stewart said that with these sorts of projects it's not uncommon to find something completely unexpected, which is why a contingency fund was established for the project. The cost of these change orders will not deplete the contingency fund.

Rumors of other elements of the depot project have also surfaced recently. In an interview recently, Stewart confirmed rumors that the city had been approached by a party interested in purchasing the main engine at the site. Stewart said a verbal offer that included a substantial sum of money and the replacement of the engine with a Soo Line engine that actually was used in the area was discussed in November and again in February. Since then there has been no contact with the potential purchasers and the city has not received a written offer.

Stewart said the subject was discussed with a group of train supporters and a few other individuals. He said they seemed to view the offer positively. The city council has not formally discussed the offer though they are aware of it.

The other rumor, which was broached by individuals at a public hearing but not discussed, has to do with possible expansion of parking facilities for the project.

Stewart also confirmed that rumor. With the closing of the feed mill north of the depot, Stewart said the city would be crazy not to consider purchasing the property for additional parking. He said he sent a letter to CP Rail but has not heard back from them.

For now, although the rumors have some basis in fact, they remain rumors.

McKnight commits another $100,000 to flood recovery

McKnight Foundation has added $100,000 to its commitment to the Northwest Minnesota Foundation (formerly the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund) for support to help communities plan and coordinate flood recovery efforts.

The McKnight Foundation also committed $100,000 to the West Central Initiative, and $100,000 to the Southwest Minnesota Foundation for flood recovery efforts in their respective areas.

"McKnight created six Minnesota Initiative Funds in 1986 as independent nonprofit organizations which could respond to specific human and economic needs of communities in Greater Minnesota," said Michael O'Keefe, executive vice president of the Foundation. "The three initiative funds whose regions have experienced the worst flooding have shown the value of that approach. Because they are close to the situation, they have been quick to step in to provide planning, coordination, and technical assistance wherever they have seen the need. Our additional resources will enable them to do more."

Selmer and Helen Holen, who portray Oscar and Sena Johnson in the Goodridge dinner theater presentation of "Saturday Night Barn Dance," take a break during a recent rehearsal. The play will be presented Friday, July 4, with dinner at 7 p.m. and the play to follow about 8 p.m. in the old Goodridge hall.

Adrian Prestebak, Adelle Prestebak and David Hanson are part of a dance group participating in the Goodridge Area Historical Society's dinner theater production of "Saturday Night Barn Dance" Friday, July 4, at the old city hall in Goodridge. Not pictured is Rachel Hanson.

Dinner theater July 4 at old Goodridge hall

"Saturday Night Barn Dance" is the title of the dinner theater production to be presented by the Goodridge Area Historical Society, Inc., Friday, July 4, at the old city hall in Goodridge.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the theatre production—written and directed by Norma Hanson—will begin about 8 p.m. Mrs. Hanson also wrote the theme song "Saturday Night Barn Dance."

Tickets are sold in advance only and will be available until noon on July 4 by contacting Norma Hanson at 378-4380 or Marcella Hanson at 378-4252.

James D. Prestebak and Marcella Hanson have the lead roles of Sven and Maggie Sorenson. Dean Hanson is Jacob Thompson, the country peddler. Selmer and Helen Holen as Oscar and Sena Johnson participate in special dancing roles.

Irene Lovly plays the busy neighbor lady, Ingeborg Dahlen, who is trying to raise money for a new school to be built in the community by holding a pie auction at the dance. She is assisted by Dale Svendsgaard as Lars Larson, the auctioneer.

Linda Hanson and Norma Hanson are cast in the dancing roles of Tina and Lena Sorenson, who call themselves "The Irish Stumpers." Andy Hanson, the son of Dale and Dawn Hanson, plays Billy Joe Johnson, the son of Oscar and Sena Johnson.

Laura Norried of Ankeny, IA, a sister of Norma Hanson, will play Laura Bjorklund and sing and play her guitar. A special dance routine will be presented by David, son of Michael and Linda Hanson; Rachel, daughter of Dale and Dawn Hanson; and Adrian and Adelle, son and daughter of Tim and Michelle Prestebak.

Providing music for various acts in the play and as part of the theater production will be Vernon Iverson, Edgar Miller and Orlin Hanson. Square dancers whose dance is part of the play include Elson and Gladys Mae Hamilton, Selmer and Helen Holen, Lynn and Norma Hanson and Tim and Michelle Prestebak with Dale Svendsgaard as caller.

This production is made possible in part by a grant provided by the Northwest Regional Development Commission through funding from the Minnesota State Arts Board and the Minnesota State Legislature.

Rachel Hanson, daughter of Dale and Dawn Hanson, and David Hanson, son of Mike and Linda Hanson, team up for a dance number in "Saturday Night Barn Dance," a dinner theater production on Friday, July 4, at 7 p.m. in the old Goodridge hall.

Niccole Goulet named Kennedy Center intern

The John F Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts has selected Niccole Goulet of Thief River Falls as a summer 1997 intern. Goulet's Kennedy Center assignment is in the membership services of the development office.

Daughter of John and Linda Goulet, she is a graduate of Lincoln High school. She received a bachelor of music education degree in voice from Concordia College. Her honors include graduating magna cum laude, performance in Concordia's Senior Honors Concert, and the Concordia Music Performance Scholarship. She would like to work in development or educational outreach for either a professional orchestra or opera company, and give private voice lessons.

The Kennedy Center's 28 summer interns were selected from a pool of nearly 500 applicants. Assignments are full time, and responsibilities include assisting with the administrative and/or technical aspects of the center. In addition, interns are required to attend weekly seminars which involve presentations by executives of the center and other major arts institutions in Washington, D.C.

Internships at the John F. Kennedy Center, the national performing arts center, are designed to offer meaningful learning experiences for people interested in careers in performing arts management and/or arts education. The application deadline for the fall 1997 session is June 22. For more information, contact the Kennedy Center Education Department at (202) 416-8800.

On the boards at the Kennedy Center this summer are two shows scored by Andrew Lloyd Webber: "The Phantom of the Opera" and the musical comedy "By Jeeves." Other events include the comedic whodunit Shear Madness, the National Symphony Orchestra Mozart Summer Festival, and daily free performances on the Millennium Stage.

Baudette bridge closed to vehicle traffic Sept. 8-12

Due to reconstruction of the Minnesota approach to the International bridge at Baudette, the bridge will be closed to vehicle traffic from September 8 to 12, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation (MnDOT).

Advance signs will be posted in early July throughout the region advising motorists of the closing dates, according to Bob Kleinschmidt, MnDOT project supervisor. The bridge approach work will be done in conjunction with the shoulder widening and overlay of Highway 11 from Baudette to a point 10.2 miles west.

Kleinschmidt added that pedestrian traffic on the bridge will be maintained during the vehicular closure, and reminded motorists that extreme caution should be exercised by slowing down and following all instructions when entering a work zone.

TH 175 bridge west of Hallock to be repaired

Construction on the TH 175 bridge over the Red River of the North west of Hallock in Kittson county will begin on or about July 7, according to Todd Broadwell, resident engineer for the Minnesota Department of Transportation in Thief River Falls.

Work will consist of bridge deck repair and rehabilitation, requiring a detour to be put in place. All bridge traffic will be detoured from TH 175 on the Minnesota side and from TH 5 on the North Dakota side, Broadwell said.

Small Business Administration disaster application deadline nears

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) officials issued a reminder that the extended deadline of July 7, 1997 is only two weeks away. They also noticed that in nearly three months since President Clinton's declaration of a major disaster, less than 50 percent of the SBA disaster applications issued had been returned.

SBA District Director Edward A. Daum said, "Individuals and businesses should submit their applications immediately. Because all applications are processed on a first-in-first-served basis, the sooner an applicant turns in their application, the sooner they will know the extent of their assistance." Officials also pointed out that there is usually a rush of applications at the deadline which could delay the processing time.

Homeowners, renters, and businesses that were affected by severe flooding, severe winter storms, snow melt, high winds, rain and ice which occurred March 21 through May 24, 1997 are advised that applications postmarked after the deadline will not be accepted. SBA will of course review each late application for special circumstances that may have caused the delay.

To register for all forms of disaster assistance, individuals should call the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) teleregistration unit at 1-800-462-9029. Those with SBA specific questions should call the SBA helpline at 1-800-359-2227 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m., EST.

Higher speed limits take effect July 1

Higher speed limits on certain Minnesota roads will go into effect July 1.

State Representative Jim Tunheim said, "I generally support increasing speed limits, but I encourage drivers to use caution. With the chance to drive faster on certain roadways comes the responsibility of using care and caution to avoid an increase in the number of accidents. I believe legislators, and the Governor, should keep a close eye on what happens. If the number of accidents increases sharply we might have to look at a highway safety improvement package in the near future," said Tunheim.

Tunheim's office reported that top legal speeds will go to 70 miles per hour on rural interstates, up from 65 miles per hour; 65 miles per hour on four-lane divided rural highways, up from 55 miles per hour (such as U.S. 2 and U.S. 10); 65 miles per hour on urban interstates, and four-lane highways up from 55 miles per hour. (The Governor has indicated that he will order lower speeds on some of those roadways. It's likely most urban interstates will not be raised to 65 miles per hour.)

The stage for higher speed limits was set two years ago when the U.S. Congress repealed the 1974 law establishing a 55 mile per hour national speed limit. During the 1996 session, the Minnesota Legislature gave the Governor executive authority to raise speed limits. He chose not to because in conjunction with the higher speed limits he wanted funding for more state highway patrol troopers, something the legislature did not approve.

During the 1996 session my proposal to increase speed limits on rural two-lane highways to 65 miles per hour day and 55 miles per hour during the night was blocked mainly by metro legislators, according to Tunheim, who have no concept of the vast stretches of open space on rural Minnesota roads.

This session the Governor indicated he would veto this year's speed limit bill, but in the end he reluctantly signed the bill without the funding for more troopers.

This year the legislature approved $892.9 million for state road construction — $645 million for County State Aids and $195 million for Municipal State Aids. Even with this appropriation, the Highway Construction Industry Council says that Minnesota has a projected $476 million annual funding gap in its highway reconstruction program. A report it published states that failure to close this gap will result in rapid deterioration of the state highway system.

Many legislators have been fighting for years to drastically increase the amount of money budgeted for highway and bridge construction. Perhaps raising the speed limits may bring the deteriorating state of our highways to the forefront.

Rep. Tunheim can be reached about this matter or any other legislative matter at Box 66, Kennedy, MN 56733 or 1-218-674-4480.

22 artists to exhibit at Roseau Art in the Park

Twenty-two artists are included in the list of exhibitors for the annual Art in the Park on the Farm Sunday, July 13, from noon to 5 p.m. at Pioneer Farm and Village, 2.5 miles west of Roseau on Highway 11. There is no admission to the event sponsored by the Roseau Area Artists Association.

Included are 12 painters, three artists specializing in collage, two potters, two woodworkers and a calligrapher, according to information provided by Annette Hermansen.

RAAA volunteers will offer refreshments from the Snack Shack beginning at 11 a.m. Roving minstrels will sing or play instruments, the Roseau Renaissance and Ancient Music Society will perform in the Nannestead Church, talespinner Bev Slevin will read aloud at various points on the grounds and the day will conclude with a drawing for an acrylic painting by Mary Espe, valued at $500 and entitled "After the Game."

In case of threatening weather the event will be moved to the commons in the center of the Roseau school.

Rural housing needs community meeting planned

Residents of Deer Park, Mayfield, Hickory, Highlanding, Reiner and Star townships are invited and encourage to attend a Rural Housing Needs Community meeting at the Goodridge Senior Center at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 8.

The purpose of the meeting is to gather information and to determine the type of housing programs needed in the area. Examples of programs that could be developed include housing rehab for owner-occupied and rental units and homeownership assistance to purchase homes to replace units that are no longer suitable for rehab.

Northwest Multi-County HRA has contracted with Pennington County to prepare a Small Cities Development Program grant application to fund the activities identified at this meeting. The input of township residents is needed in order to develop a competitive application.

The application will be submitted on October 1, 1997 with awards being made in February or March of 1998. If successful, funds will be available to residents of the above mentioned townships mid to late summer of 1998.

Crookston runner Troy Kleven was called out as he went out of the base line in an attempt to avoid the tag by Thief River Falls first baseman Dustin Swan in the third inning of Monday's American Legion baseball doubleheader opener at Irv Wilson Field. Pitcher Courtney Skjerven (36) came over to help out on the play, if needed. Thief River Falls won the game 8-7.

TRF, Crookston split Legion doubleheader

Thief River Falls was able to overcome a 5-0 deficit to win the first game 8-7, but two second-game rallies came up short as Crookston won a 12-8 decision for a Monday night American Legion baseball doubleheader split at Irv Wilson Field.

The results put Thief River Falls at 3-15 for the year. Post 117 is 1-9 against Ninth District foes Fergus Falls, Roseau, Moorhead, and Crookston. They have yet to face district rivals East Grand Forks and Detroit Lakes.

Crookston appeared to be in position to win Monday's opener. Jason Perala hit a first inning solo home run and in the second inning, RBI singles by Andy Fee and Garret Rock, along with a run-producing sacrifice fly by Pete Reck, made it 5-0.

But Travis Black had a two-out, bases-loaded single off the pitcher to put Thief River Falls on the board in the third inning, and in the fourth bases-loaded walks issued to Andy Harbott and Black helped shrink the difference to 5-4.

Paul Frank hit a two-out, three-run home run over the left field fence in the fifth to put Thief River Falls ahead 7-5.

Support for Thief River Falls pitcher Courtney Skjerven was a little shaky in the top of the seventh when a Perala single fell in front of the center fielder, Rock reached base after his foul pop-up was allowed to drop down the left field line, and a two-out Reck double went over the right fielder's head to tie the game 7-7.

However, Skjerven wound up with the game-winning RBI in the bottom of the inning when Dustin Swan was hit by a pitch, pinch runner Greg Wick advanced on a back-to-back sacrifice bunts by Jeremy Houske and Nick Swanson (who reached base when nobody covered first on the play). Skjerven then lifted a sacrifice fly to right field for the win.

Crookston got off to another fast start in Game 2, and this time was able to hang on for the win.

A game opening error and a two-out home run to left field by Rock quickly made it 2-0.

Three walks, a hit batsman, wild pitch and two Thief River Falls errors, along with an RBI single by Rock, hiked the spread to 6-0 in the second inning.

Post 117 tried its hand at another comeback in the bottom of the second when singles by Houske and Wik, along with an error, loaded the bases for Frank, who then delivered a grand slam homer over the center field fence.

But Rock hit his second home run of the game in the fourth – a two-out, two-run shot down the left field line – and Fee had a three-run home run to right field in a four-run Crookston fifth that opened up a 12-4 spread.

Down 12-5 in the bottom of the seventh, Thief River Falls tried once again to rally on an RBI double by Paul Sethre, who later scored on a wild pitch and a run scoring error.

A scheduled doubleheader against Roseau Tuesday was to close out a five-doubleheader, 10-game Thief River Falls homestand. Post 117 will be at Moorhead Tuesday for a 5 p.m. twinbill.

First Sports Boosters Open fund-raiser has 105 golfers take part

There were 105 golfers who took part in the first Sports Boosters open fund-raising tournament at the Thief River Golf Club Friday.

Winning team included Delroy Sparby, Joe Ranum, Kyle Anderson, Steve Wilson, and Adam Nordin.

Second place went to a group featuring Denal Grabn, Mark Rislov, Gordie Peterson, Chad Stark, and Chip Lohmiller, an NFL kicker with the St. Louis Rams, who was a special guest for the day.

Under the scoring system used for the event, just 2.3 strokes separated the top nine teams.

Proceeds will go to the Lincoln High School football program and the sports programs at Northland Community and Technical College.

Post 117 is 1-3 at EGF Classic

Offensively, Post 117 had a good weekend, but the bats weren't able to cover shortcomings elsewhere the Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team came out of the East Grand Forks Classic with a 1-3 showing.

The Bruce Elseth coached squad lost a 16-5 first round game to host East Grand Forks Friday, beat Red Lake Falls 5-4 and lost to Dilworth 4-3 in Saturday match-ups, then fell to Roseau 16-11 in Sunday's fifth place game.

"We really hit the ball well," reported Elseth, "and we hit with power. Even our outs were impressive."

However, Thief River Falls' defense and pitching didn't enjoy the same success as the Post 117 hitters. "We made some errors that really hurt, and our pitching staff is really thin," explained Elseth.

Greenbush handled East Grand Forks 11-0 in the tournament finals. Edina shut out Red Lake Falls 3-0 in the third place game, while Cavalier, ND got by Dilworth 2-1 in the seventh place contest.

Qualifies for national meet...

Nicole Kopari wins Star of North titles

Nicole Kopari

Nicole Kopari of Thief River Falls was a double event winner in the track-and-field portion of the 1997 Minnesota Star of the North Summer Games held in the St. Cloud Area.

Kopari, who recently completed her sophomore year at Lincoln High School, won the shot put and discus titles in the girls 16-18 age group. A 39-2 effort in the shot and 129-4 throw in the discus were a little short of her Lincoln school record tosses of 39-4 and 130-9, respectively, that produced a pair of Section 8AA titles this spring. She wound up with a fourth place in the shot and a fifth place in the discus in the Class AA state meet at the National Sports Center in Blaine June 6-7.

By winning the Star of the North track competition that took place in Sauk Rapids, Kopari qualified to compete in a national meet scheduled to be held Aug. 1 in Charlotte, NC. She will make the trip as part of a group led by Grand Forks, ND coach Pat Peake, who has helped develop a long list of national-caliber athletes. Kopari is currently part of a summer throwing camp directed by Peake.

That's just part of a busy schedule for the versatile athlete, who is also one of the top swimmers for the Prowlers during the fall months and a starter in basketball during the winter. Kopari just completed a stint at a basketball camp conducted at North Dakota State University, where she was named camp MVP, won the free throw shooting contest and was a member of a title-winning team in the camp playoffs.

Participation in an acceleration camp in Grand Forks adds to a busy summer schedule.

Winning pitcher Courtney Skjerven turned in a complete-game performance in the first half of an American Legion baseball doubleheader against Crookston Monday at Irv Wilson Field. Skjerven, who gave up seven hits, walked six and struck out two. He also delivered a tie-breaking sacrifice fly in the bottom of the seventh to give Post 117 an 8-7 victory.

A pair of Crookston runners tried to occupy third base at the same time in the first inning of Monday's American Legion baseball doubleheader nightcap against Thief River Falls at Irv Wilson Field. Jason Perala (right) took off from second for third on a pitch to the plate, only to find teammate Luke Radke standing on the bag when he arrived. Third baseman Travis Black awaited a throw from catcher Andy Harbott, who wound up tagging Perala himself on a run-down. Crookston eventually won 12-7.

Two coaches added to LHS hockey staff

Wendell Grand and Jeff Tunberg have been named assistant hockey coaches at Lincoln High School, it was announced this week by Jim Sims, Director of Student Activities for School District 564.

Grand served as the Prowlers' head hockey coach from 1976-77 through the 1986-87 season. Tunberg coached at the Bantam A level for a number of years and has been an assistant coach at the high school level as well.

It was also announced that Stacey Hoien will coach softball next spring at the middle school level.

Coaching appointments are pending school board approval, noted Sims.

Pacesetter Basketball Camp begins Monday

Thief River Falls will play host to a Pacesetter Basketball Camp Monday through Thursday, July 7-10 for all area girls entering grades 1-10.

Girls entering grades 8-10 will meet from 8 to 10:30 a.m.; grades 6-7 will meet from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., grade 1-3 will meet from 1:30-3 p.m.; and grade 4-5 will meet from 3-5 p.m.

All players will receive a thorough program of basketball fundamentals that apply to half-court and full-court play. Teams will also play games in a 3-on-3 and 5-on-5 league. Trophies, medals and ribbons will be awarded for various contests.

Sessions will be held at Lincoln High School.

Players will call 320-243-7460, or register at the beginning of their sessions on Monday.

States receive funding for fish, wildlilfe

State wildlife agencies within the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Great Lakes-Big Rivers Region will receive a total of $90.8 million in Federal Fish and Wildlife Restoration Act apportionments for Fiscal Year 1997. The Region includes the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Total funds to be distributed within the region is the highest of any of the Fish and Wildlife Service regions in the country, and is a portion of the record $439 million collected and redistributed nationally. The previous record of $411 million was collected in 1994. Five Region 3 states were among the top 10 combined Fish and Wildlife Act apportionments nationally: Michigan (4th), with 16.2 million, Minnesota (5th), with $15.1 million, Wisconsin (6th), with $13.9 million, Missouri (9th), with $11.3 million, and Ohio (10th), with $11 million.

"This is outstanding news for anyone who cherishes our nation's natural heritage," Interior Secretary Bruce Babbitt said. "As we mark the 60th anniversary of the federal aid program, we can thank hunters, anglers, and recreational shooters who have made it possible for states to have effective fish and wildlife conservation programs. The record amount collected in 1996 under the federal aid program will continue this long tradition and help improve conservation in every part of the country."

Funds come from excise taxes paid by anglers, hunters, recreational shooters and boaters as well as manufacturers and suppliers for their activities. The monies are then redistributed to the states under the Federal Aid in Sport Fish and Wildlife Restoration programs for use in state fish and wildlife restoration projects, with the common philosophy that the user pays the excise taxes and the user benefits from the projects the money is used for in the states.

"We have reason to be proud as we celebrate the 60th anniversary of the program," U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Acting Director John Rogers said. "Federal aid is a model of partnership among the federal government, state governments and the sportsmen and women who contribute funds to conservation through the excise taxes."

Region 3 states will receive $34.2 million of the total $165.7 million distributed to the states under the Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act, commonly known as the Pittman-Robertson program after its Congressional sponsors. Three states within the region were among the top 10 dollar recipients for Fiscal 1997: Michigan (4th), with $6.1 million, Wisconsin (6th), with $5.4 million, and Minnesota (7th), with $5 million. In 1996, a total of $202.4 million was distributed nationally and $42.3 million in Region 3. This decrease is attributed to a return to a normal sales pattern for firearms and ammunition after a brief surge in 1994 and 1995.

The money collected under the Wildlife Restoration Act is derived from an 11 percent excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition, a 10 percent tax on pistols and revolvers, and an 11 percent tax on certain archery equipment. Half of the tax on handguns and archery equipment is made available for state hunter education programs.

Projects eligible for federal aid include acquisition and improvement of wildlife habitat, introduction of wildlife into suitable habitat, wildlife research, surveys and inventories, acquisition and development of wildlife-related recreational facilities and hunter education programs (including constructing and operating public shooting ranges).

The Region will also receive $56.3 million of the total $273.2 million distributed under the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Act, also known as the Dingell-Johnson or Wallop-Breaux program. Five states within the region were among the top 10 recipients of Sport Fish dollars for Fiscal 1997: Minnesota (4th) with $10.1 million, Michigan (5th), with $10 million, Wisconsin (6th), with $8.6 million, Missouri (9th), with $7 million, and Ohio (10th) with $6.9 million. In 1996, a total of $197.1 million was distributed nationally and $40.4 million to the region. The overall increase is attributed to $20 million held in reserve in Fiscal 1996 pending legislation which did not pass, thus making funds available this fiscal year, as well as a small increase in motorboat fuel receipts and improved excise tax collection procedures.

Sport Fish Restoration dollars come from a 10 percent excise tax on fishing equipment, a 3 percent tax on electric trolling motors and sonar fish finders, taxes on motorboat fuels, and import duties on fishing tackle and pleasure boats. States can use their apportionment for efforts including improvement of sport fish habitat, stocking of fish, research into fishery resource problems, surveys and inventories of sport fish populations, and acquisition and development of boat ramps, fishing piers and other recreational facilities.

Brad Johnson, Assistant Regional Director for Federal Aid in Region 3, explained "There are set formulas to determine the distribution of dollars for use in Fish and Wildlife Act projects. For sport fish funds the formula is based on the land and water area and the number of fishing license holders in each state. For wildlife restoration funds, the figure is based on land area and the number of license holders in each state." "The formula has been very favorable to Region 3 and has resulted in many outstanding projects in each of our states," he said. "For example, sport fish funds were used for radio telemetry research with muskies in the Mississippi and wildlife dollars were used for wildlife population surveys by the states, and hunter education through firearm safety classes."

Federal aid program began in 1937 when a group of hunters lobbied Congress to dedicate existing excise tax revenues on firearms and ammunition to state conservation projects and programs. This was in response to sharp wildlife population declines caused in large part by the Dust Bowl drought. Since then, these taxes have helped in the recovery of many popular species including white-tailed deer, wood ducks and wild turkeys. In 1950, Congress created the parallel Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Act to promote conservation in the nation's lakes, rivers and other waterways, and to expand recreational opportunities for hunters and anglers. Through six decades, the two federal programs have raised more than $5 billion.

Butterflies Project at Itasca Park

Pack a lunch, bring a hat and binoculars, and prepare to spend the day with park naturalists and others as part of a fun research event. The annual butterfly count at Itasca State Park is an event for the whole family that will take place from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, July 13. Itasca is home to 20 different species of butterfly. This event is an opportunity to learn more about one of nature's most beautiful and graceful creatures. Itasca State Park Resource Specialist Becky Marty encourages individuals of all ages to participate in this event.

"Children are especially good at spotting the butterflies and give great detailed descriptions of what they see," said Marty. "Typically, butterflies are pretty easy to count since they tend to stay in an area as they fly from plant to plant. They don't dart away and out of sight like birds or wild animals will do when startled. As a result, participants in the count can often spend the day slowly moving through or sitting in an area while observing the butterflies. It's not a strenuous activity."

Although the research project is relatively easy to do, the information gained from the project is significant. "Butterflies are excellent species to use in monitoring the health and diversity of an ecosystem," Marty said. "We know which plants and ecosystem qualities attract certain species of butterfly. By comparing the year-to-year results of our annual butterfly count, we get a pretty clear indication of the number and variety of plants present. Significant jumps or slow and steady increases and decreases alert us to changes that are occurring in our ecosystem."

The day before the butterfly count, the public is invited to attend a butterfly hike at 2 p.m. on Saturday, July 12, that will begin at Forest Inn in the park. Participants on the hike will discover places to spot butterflies and learn how to identify different species. The program is an opportunity for butterfly count participants to learn more about their task before the event the next day. It is also open to those who just want to learn more about butterflies. Both programs are free and open to the public. For more information, contact the park at (218) 266-2114.

For butterfly enthusiasts who live in the south-central Minnesota, Sibley State Park near New London is also hosting a butterfly information program on July 12 from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. For more information on this event, contact Sibley State Park at (320) 354-2055.

Money penalties dismissed against Central Boiler Inc.

All money penalties for either alleged child labor violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) have been dismissed against Central Boiler of rural Greenbush. Officials of Central Boiler contended at the time allegations of violations were made that the charges were in error.

"We have reviewed your firm's letter of exception to our assessment dated September 25, 1996," wrote Denise Schuhlemann, District Director of the U.S. Department of Labor Wage and Hour Division, in a letter to the Greenbush company dated May 15, 1997.

"Based on information provided during our recent reinvestigation of Central Boiler, we are withdrawing this assessment," she wrote.

Central Boiler Inc. was investigated twice during the previous 13 months. At the time of each investigation Central Boiler was neither found in violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act nor were there any employees under the age of 18 working there. The investigation covered the period from June 1994 through May 1997 and was conducted by the Labor Department's Wage and Hour District Office, under Schuhlemann's supervision.

The U.S. Department of Labor issued a news release dated Oct. 7, 1996, which stated "Federal child labor laws prohibit such occupations from minors under 18 due to the hazards inherent in the work."

However, publication WH-1330, issued by the U.S. Department of Labor Employment Standards Administration Wage and Hour Division and revised in August of 1990 states that these laws "... contain exemptions for 16 and 17 year-old apprentices and student-learners ..." and also include "permitted occupations for 14 and 15 year-olds."

The company said at the time of the original allegations that it had been assisting with a program of the local school system in providing job training for students.

Central Boiler administration feels the U.S. Department of Labor was negligent by failing to conduct a proper investigation which led to a premature and misleading news release on alleged violations. Repeated requests by the company to present the matter before an Administrative Judge were denied, Central Boiler officials said.

After the reinvestigation, all alleged charges and penalties against Central Boiler Inc. were dismissed by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Central Boiler has been informed that Richard Church, the original investigator and Deirdre Zoupken, who was involved with preparing and distributing the news release, are no longer with the department.

Officials of Central Boiler, Inc. who feel the company's reputation was damaged by the allegations and news release, said they are considering seeking restitution for damages under civil law involving the incident.

Two people injured in accident Mon.

Two people were taken to Warren hospital with injuries following an accident Monday, June 30, about four miles west of Karlstad on Highway 11.

Minnesota State Patrol received a report of the accident at 1:24 p.m. Monday. According to the accident report, Andrew Waterworth, 19, Newfolden, was driving a 1985 GMC pickup west on Highway 11 and attempted to turn left at the junction 20 in Kittson County. At the same time, James Nelson, 36, Miles City, MT, driving a 1987 Chevrolet Suburban was attempting to pass Waterworth. Nelson tried to get back behind Waterworth but ended up striking the rear of the Waterworth pickup. Waterworth, and his 17-year-old passenger, Juan Hernerozvninga, Jr., Argyle, were taken to Warren hospital and held over night. Nelson was not injured. A passenger in the Nelson vehicle, Robert Tallent, 19, Forsyth, MT, had minor injuries.

Three stores of 65 in a four-county area sold cigarettes to these minors. Four of the five students under contract with the Minnesota Department of Human Services, drug surveillance, recently stopped in Thief River Falls to report the results of their efforts. Their news conference was held at Pennington Main, an active participant in a campaign to prevent tobacco sales to minors. Pictured above are: (front row, from left) Nikki Peterson, Ann Newton, Marisa Holmstrom; (back row) Mike Barry, owner of Pennington Main, Juvenile Police Officer Craig Mattson, Brett Johnson, participant, Police Chief Ken Froschheiser, and Helen Anderson, compliance check contractor. Not pictured is Bridgette Stock.

Fourth of July gas prices expected to be lower

Motorists traveling for the Fourth of July holiday can expect to pay less for gasoline than they did last year, according to AAA Minnesota/Iowa. A recent survey shows the average price of unleaded self-serve gasoline is $1.26 per gallon, 3 cents lower than last July 4th. The national average price of self-serve unleaded is $1.33 per gallon, 6.2 cents less than last year.

According to AAA, prices have remained relatively steady this summer with slight increases in the Midwest this month because of lower regional gasoline inventories. In Minnesota, gas prices have increased three cents since May. This is expected to be a short-term phenomenon, in fact, in many Midwest states prices are already declining.

Seventy-five percent of retail outlets will be open during the July 4th holiday. Only twenty-five percent of the 80 outlets surveyed will be open 24 hours.

July 4th is Busiest Travel Holiday. The Fourth of July will continue the tradition of being the heaviest traveled summer holiday, as an estimated 35.9 million Americans plan to take a trip 100 miles or more from home, according to AAA. AAA's projections are up 1 percent from last year when 35.6 million people traveled over July 4th and are the highest since 1988 when 36 million people took a holiday getaway.

This July 4th, an estimated 30.7 million Americans are expected to travel by auto, light truck or recreational vehicle, a 1 percent increase over the 30.4 who drove last year. Another 5.2 million will travel by airplane, train or bus -- the same as last Independence Day.

Alcohol Key Factor in Holiday Fatalities. As nearly 31 million Americans hit the road for the Fourth of July weekend, AAA reminds motorists that two of the most important things to remember are common sense and preparation.

In 1996, 659 people were killed in motor vehicle crashes over the Fourth of July holiday. Forty-nine percent of those fatalities were alcohol related.

Salvation Army campers needed

The local service unit of the Salvation Army has several slots open for its camp in August at Lakewood Park Bible Camp near Devil's Lake, ND, August 4-9. There is no cost to participants.

There are 10 slots available for children ages 8 to 12. Transportation is available. Anyone interested in having their child attend the camp should contact Melinda Freitline at Pennington County Social Services (218) 681-2880 prior to July 6. Campers need to fill out registration forms, which include a camper profile, list of special needs and medical information.

The Salvation Army strives to show campers fun, friendship, security, and a relaxing atmosphere in a grace-filled environment. Some of the experiences campers will have include the opportunity to walk in the woods, crafts, group games, cookouts, Bible study, drama, boating, sports, swimming, music and other activities.

Counselors are selected for their skills and ability to work with children and young people. Each staff member participates in one week of intensive training and orientation. At least four Salvation Army Officers will serve as camp pastors throughout each week of camp.

Moe says manufacturing growth includes rural areas

Commonly held belief of decline is a misconception

Senator Roger Moe says a commonly held perception is that the manufacturing sector is declining in Minnesota and across the nation. [illegible] national trends show a steady decline in manufacturing employment, Minnesota has posted impressive job gains since the early 1980s.

National, state and county industrial sector comparisons were compiled recently by the State Demographer's office. The comparisons indicate manufacturing growth has been spectacular in portions of rural Minnesota.

The nation lost 900,000 manufacturing jobs between 1982 and 1992, according to the most recent economic census conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau. Minnesota added 49,700 manufacturing jobs over the same period. Payrolls in Minnesota factories increased by a healthy 24.1 percent during that time period, even after adjusting for inflation.

The analysis indicates that the recession of the early 1990s hit the Twin Cities are the hardest, but many rural counties thrived despite the downturn. Our state's largest share of manufacturing shipments comes in food production. Plants often are located in rural areas near the source of agricultural commodities. Sugar processing in the Red River Valley where beets are grown is a good example.

Our emphasis on food production helps stabilize the manufacturing sector. Food production is only minimally affected by economic swings for the simple reason that putting food on the table comes before all other buying decisions.

Although the industrial machinery and equipment sector ranks second in state manufacturing, it employs the most people — 17,400 in 1992. Printing and publishing is the third-largest manufacturing sector and it's the fastest-growing segment. In 1992, printing and publishing accounted for 8.3 percent of all Minnesota manufacturing goods shipped, up from 5.5 percent only a decade earlier.

In reviewing county-by-county comparisons, the statistics revealed some good and bad news for those of us living in Northwestern Minnesota.

On the favorable side of the equation is the impact of new high-paying industrial machinery manufacturing jobs in Clearwater County. Even when accounting for inflation, average manufacturing wages in Clearwater County rose from $4.85 an hour (1992 dollars) in 1982 to $11 an hour in 1992. The wage increase in Clearwater County is especially impressive when compared with statewide figures indicating that real wages (adjusted for inflation) declined over the same period.

On the negative side, Mahnomen County ranked at the bottom in manufacturing wages at $5 an hour in 1992, which is only one-third of the average pay rate in the top-salaried counties. Red Lake was one of only five Minnesota counties to experience [illegible] value of manufactured goods shipped in [illegible] periods 1982-87 and 1987-1992.

Manufacturing employs 14 percent of the Minnesota work force compared with slightly more than 11 percent nationally. These industrial opportunities tend to be high paying jobs that contribute to the [illegible] overall economic strength. [illegible] Minnesota [illegible] counties [illegible] during the past [illegible].

Expanding these opportunities to all Minnesota communities is a top priority.

Three packs of cigarettes and a few lighters were all a group of students were able to purchase from 65 stores in a four-county region during a compliance check for the State of Minnesota. The five students were working under contract with the Minnesota Department of Human Services, drug surveillance division.

Brett Johnson and Ann Newton review a check list that was completed by the students performing tobacco law compliance checks for the State of Minnesota. Of 65 stores checked in a four-county region, they were able to purchase only three packs of cigarettes.

Plummer Community News

Effie Byor
465-4375

Burnel and Effie Byor visited on Friday evening with Ray and Shirley Vigstol of rural Thief River Falls.

Annie Blair of Altona, Manitoba, came on Friday to spend the weekend of parties with her cousin Edna Hyde; other cousins Lorna and Ab Jackell of Fenlon Falls, Ontario, came Sunday and were overnight guests at Edna's.

Rendezvous Festival

Burnel and Effie Dyer accompanied by his sister Bernice and Jack Roll of Hallock, attended the Rendezvous Festival at Icelandic Park near Cavalier, ND, on Saturday. This is a two day event held annually to celebrate the heritage of northeastern ND. The cities of Pembina, Cavalier, Langdon and Walhalla form the Rendezvous Region rich in history of the Icelandic people, British, Canadian, French, Ojibwa, Metis, Scandinavians and others. A fine museum, an old school and church are beautifully kept and were very interesting. A newer section houses, machinery displays and other items besides a small museum in the old Bathgate depot. The Saturday agenda began with a flag raising ceremony and drill by Custer's 7th Cavalry of Minot, ND, in which my son Leo rides. They had an encampment close by many of you remember when they were at Plummer in 1992 and camped in our park. The Buckskinners, another group, were also camped there with their black powder shoots. We saw many folks in colorful Indian costumes and there were arts and crafts and other displays to keep the crowd busy. In the afternoon there was entertainment by the Magnus family of Walhalla, the Simpsons Folly group from Canada, Eagle Feather Dance Troupe as well as childrens activities. The 7th Calvary had another drill at 4 p.m. when they shot off the cannon and demonstrated a charge. Then much needed rain came and we left for home. Quite a festival and well worth attending.

AAL Chapter of Immanuel held a meeting on Sunday following coffee hour at Immanuel with Don and Connie Hagen in charge. Reports were given and plans are underway for a trip by bus to Itasca State Parks Threshing Bee in August. The Chapter will also assist in the benefit for Jesse Dekko at Salem Lutheran Church of rural Oklee on June 27th.

Frances Schiefert spent the weekend fishing with Frank and Izzy Knoll and Eunice Haupt, all of Red Lake Falls. Nephew David and Marie Knoll of Wabasso met them at Lake of the Woods, also Orville and Gen Knoll. Sidney Schiefert of Bloomington and Harley Schiefert of Fargo, ND, also got in some fishing with them.

Birthday for Art

Flag day, the 14th, is Art Froilands birthday and his daughter, Marie Foster and Bill Swick arrived on Friday to spend the weekend. His birthday was celebrated on Sunday with a picnic in their new garage for Father's Day and Grandpa's Birthday. Guests were Marv and Bill Fick and Arlone Froiland, Jerlen and Ginger Froiland of Grand Forks, Kerry and Griffin Newland of Thief River Falls, and of course wife and grandmother Avis was very much a part of the celebration. Another daughter Shannon Nelson of Lakota, wasn't able to attend because of her Guard Camp. Happy Birthday from the rest of us, Art!

Father's Day guests at the Lloyd Sorenson home for a meal from the grill were Tom and Rebecca Sorenson, Kail and Rita Sorenson and family, Tony and Sheila Geraldy and children.

Father's Day dinner guests at the home of Don and Shar Fox were Burton and Joyce Carlson, Scott and Deb Greelis of Thief River Falls, David Fox, Jason and Paula Cater, Tommy Greelis, Rachel Melby and Gaylen Jenson.

Vivian and Willard Englert of Rosemount arrived on Sunday at their daughter Connie and Don Hagens home accompanied by another daughter, Carol Westergreen, and son Adam of Bloomington, also niece Sarah Kellner of Park Rapids. They were houseguests until Wednesday.

Harold and Marion Valthaum visited Lorena Westerlund on Sunday evening.

Norway Company

Alice Johnson entertained several cousins from Norway at dinner on Monday. They were John Ullestad of Arendal, Norway, Marghit Tvedt of Olgor, Norway, Inga and Omar Dalke of Jorogl, Norway. Alice had brought her sister Martha Hamre from the Nursing Home in Clearbrook and another sister Jennie Uljestad of Mankato was also there. Pastor Clarence Johnson had left on Sunday to spend a few days with his sister at Mall, ND, who is ill, so he missed out on the Norwegians.

Rick and Chancey Greenwald of Stacy visited on Monday evening with Loren Westerlund.

Myrtle Painodo returned home from Norwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls where she had spent some time. Welcome home Myrtle and good wishes.

Birthday Echoes

Wednesday morning Goodwin and Lucille Kvasager, Ron and Kathy Juneau, Kelly and Alysa Krueger, Della Rewertz, Jean Carpenter, Alma Hanson, Bunny DuChamp, Amelia Eskeli and Fern Eskeli and Ruth Wilkens enjoyed breakfast at the Casino as a further celebration of Edna Hyde's birthday. Ruth made the super dooper cake and was assisted by Lucille in serving it. Edna has been the birthday lady for many parties in the past, so is truly deserving of all these parties.

Correction: In the writeup about Bryce Marquis graduation party last week the names of grandparents Earl and Angie Marquis, also Virgil Sorenson were inadvertently omitted.

Yeast Infections

If you are a woman who frequently develops yeast infections, you aren't alone. Three out of four women experience these infections. They account for over 22 million doctor visits. While over-the-counter medications have helped, knowing the cause may be the biggest help in preventing these infections.

Vaginal yeast infections are commonly linked with the use of antibiotics (they upset the natural balance of microorganisms), douches, pantyhose, tight jeans, poorly controlled diabetes and pregnancy.

Remember, successful use of over-the-counter medications should not replace a regular examination with your physician, especially if the infections occur on a regular basis.

Strandquist

Roy's Kentucky pole beans are already coming up and that has made me remember Spring years ago when I was eight and Isaac was soon to become 7 years old. School was out and we were already wanting to go visit our friends, the Gustafsons. Mother handed us the old aluminum kettle, a six quart job as I recall, full of brown beans, 2 small 3 inch sticks to measure the distance she wanted each bean to have to grow on with the promise of a visit to the Gustafsons as soon as we had them in the ground. We worked as hard as we could lay one bean and moving the stick and then another bean. All forenoon went by and only half the beans were planted and we knew there was not much left of the day before it would be too late to go any place. After deliberating on the situation we concluded we would have to speed up the planting. To do that, we dug a hole about 2 feet wide and poured the rest of the beans in it and covered them completely. Imagine how surprised we were a couple of weeks later when Mom looked out the kitchen and spied what she thought was the biggest gopher pile in Marshall County. She sent the older boys to see what in the world it was and when the reporters gave her the facts she said a few good Swedish words "Gud bevar us for sonnar unger" (interpreted meant "God preserve us from such kids.) After a taste of a part of the lilac bush on the legs, we were sent out to transplant the mess but it would have been much better if she would have let them grow right there, as they had grown into a big ball and perhaps it could have been the first time that beans would be strong enough to support the Jack and the Beanstalk theory.

The Strandquist Senior Citizens met at the Center for their first meeting this year with eight members and two guests present. The guests were Julia Kittleson from Seattle, WA, and Sheldon Frei. Time was spent going over the inventory for the sale and visiting to catch up on events taken place the past months.

The weather in northwest Minnesota has been warm and sunny and now that seeding is done we are getting a much needed slow rain. No wonder that Roy has to give the lawns a haircut twice a week. It seems everything grows a certain amount each year by a certain time of the year, even the lilacs which budded, blossom and withered in a weeks time. It could be due to the late Spring or the winter that stayed long after it had worn out its "Welcome Mat."

The Strandquist Seniors met on Thursday with eight members present: Elphie Adlis, Helen Jacobson, Evelyn Kline, Ida Bruce, Evelyn Kujava, Elsie Kimbrough, Ivan Kimbrough and Lorraine Frei. Their guest was Sheldon Frei. Their hostess was Elphie Adlis and the door prize was won by Ida Bruce. They day was spent tying rugs to replenish their supply and ordering more towels to embroider.

Elphie Adlis and her daughter Kim Kraft with Anika and Amanda, visited Elsie Lefrooth on Saturday.

Alvara Donaldson celebrated her 7th birthday at Vance Lefrooth's on Sunday after church. Helping her to celebrate were Jeff and Margaret Donaldson and Sara, Henry, Vanette, Krystine and Noella Pollis, Pete and Shelly Lefrooth, Taylor and Emily, Laurits Englund, Marion Englund and Clara Nelson joined them in the afternoon for cake and coffee.

Judy Kleinvachter attended the 50th anniversary celebration for Morris and Hazel Anderson on Sunday. Later she visited Marie Kleinvachter in Thief River Falls.

ECOSYSTEMS - PIECES OF NATURE'S PUZZLE
by Alexander Nelson
Age 12, Grade 6
Our Saviour's Christian Academy
First Place — Elementary Division

An ecosystem is the relationship between living things such as people, animals and plants, and non-living things such as air, water, soil and temperature. It is also anything something needs to survive.

Every living thing is a part of an ecosystem. The size of an ecosystem varies for each creature and plant. An ecosystem includes all other living and non-living things an organism needs to live. An ecosystem can be a lily pad or an ocean. All the ecosystems fit together like pieces of a puzzle. Our planet, Earth, is an ecosystem called a biosphere.

The key word in an ecosystem is interaction. This interaction may include competition for food, water, living space and other resources. A type of interaction is the transfer of energy in an ecosystem. Through photosynthesis green plants absorb the sun's rays. These plants are producers. They produce food for themselves, animals and people. Grass, corn and oats are examples of producers.

The consumers are herbivores, carnivores, omnivores and decomposers. The creatures that eat plants are called herbivores. Herbivores are eaten by the carnivores, and omnivores eat both plants and animals. The decomposers break down waste materials and dead plants into carbon, oxygen and nitrogen. These converted waste products are then reused by the producers.

A simple food chain would be a rabbit eating grass and a fox eating the rabbit. In an ecosystem there are many food chains overlapping. These overlapping food chains are called a food web.

Other interactions in an ecosystem are called cycles. A cycle happens when a resource such as oxygen, carbon or water is used or decomposed and given back to the environment. Important cycles in ecosystems are the water cycle, the carbon oxygen cycle, and the nitrogen cycle. Water cycles through the processes of evaporation, condensation and precipitation. Carbon and oxygen cycle through the processes of photosynthesis and respiration. Nitrogen cycles through the processes of nitrogen fixation and decomposition. Nature recycles and reuses all of the things necessary for life.

Ecosystems are constantly changing. Changes as a result of natural causes and changes as a result of human actions can have a positive, a minimal or a negative affect on our ecosystem. Some of these changes occur quickly, and some occur over long periods of time.

We are all responsible for our ecosystem. Our actions have an effect on the ecosystem. We are beginning to realize the need to make choices that will effect the whole ecosystem and the ecosystems connected to it. This is called ecosystem-based management. This approach takes into consideration the whole system and brings people together to work for the good of the land and the communities it supports. This system seems to be the best for sustaining opportunities for current and future generations.

The key strategies in an ecosystem-based management are: Work with nature. Learn from experience and work with partners. Use nature as a model for managing the natural resources. Make changes to operate within the natural cycles of change. Learn from experience and think about the outcome of our actions and change activities to meet changing conditions and the people's expectations.

Remember to build upon the things that work. Work together with the community and the state to identify problems and opportunities. Work even harder to find common solutions. When we work together to protect our resources, we will end up with a stronger economy and better jobs. Community, environment and economy are all parts of an interdependent system.

Storms bring beneficial rains some hail damage

Thunderstorms moved across the state during the week, dropping moderate to heavy amounts of rain in most areas, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service.

As of Friday, topsoil moisture was rated 14 percent very short, 28 percent short, 50 percent adequate and eight percent surplus. Through Friday, rainfall had been very spotty in a west to east band lying across west central, central, and east central Minnesota. Rains over the past weekend are not reflected in topsoil moisture ratings. Severe and extensive hail damage was reported from Lincoln, Lyon, Meeker, Murray, Pipestone and Renville counties.

Warm, humid conditions helped corn and soybeans grow vigorously. Average corn height as of Sunday was 23 inches, a gain of nine inches from last week. The five year average height for corn on this date is 24 inches.

Soybean height increased three inches over the week and has reached an average of eight inches, which equals the five year average height. Application of post-emergence herbicides for soybeans was a major field activity during the week.

Spring wheat was 68 percent jointed and 18 percent heading, compared with five year averages of 87 percent jointed and 46 percent heading. Small grains were in generally good condition in the main growing area of the Red River Valley, but were growing poorly and heading very short in areas where soils had become too dry.

"Hotel Markham, now nearing completion, is one of the finest and most modern equipped hotels in the northwest, costing $10,000. Mr. J. M. Markham, having disposed of his hotel property at Aitkin, was requested by Mr. Clark of Shevlin Carpenter Co. to come and look over the field in St. Hilaire, having a marked ability for and several years experience in hotel work, he immediately saw there was a good opening for a first class hotel. A good location was secured and excavatings for the basement began. The structure is three stories high with a basement. It has a frontage of sixty feet, is eighty feet deep and has a Mansard roof. The interior throughout is heated by steam. Several of us had a chance to wish Ann Nylund a happy ninety first birthday this week. We think of Ann as our "Champion Angel Food Cake Baker." This time Ann was excused from baking the cake and another top rate cake baker Edna Engdahl provided a pretty decorated birthday cake and we all enjoyed it with coffee and other sweets. When one is 91 a birthday can last quite a while and on Tuesday Lillian Groven from Thief River Falls brought an arrangement of flowers for Ann. On Wednesday, Herb and Vonny Larson from Roseau came and took Ann out for dinner. On Friday Grace Nylund, Emma Nylund, [illegible], [illegible] Benson, Edna Engdahl, Polly Carlson, Cheryl and Janice Nylund and Sanna Brovold enjoyed a good afternoon and lunch with Ann.

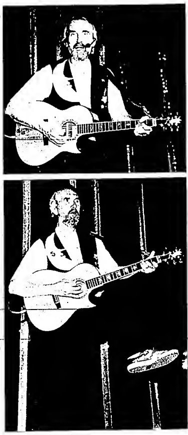
Carol Torgerson visited at the Arnold Brovold home for Father's Day. Her main Father's Day gift was not wrapped and tied in pretty ribbon, instead it was a good deed. She mowed the yard and at our age that gift was really appreciated.



Energetic children's entertainer Fred Penner of Winnipeg entertained a responsive audience at two concerts presented at the Lincoln high school auditorium June 10. In the photos above he leads the children in the audience in a lively version of "This Old Man..."

Entertainer Fred Penner made a hit with his young friends during his June 10 concerts in Thief River Falls when he left the stage to go into the audience and meet some of them.

Involving the audience in his recent concerts at the Lincoln high school auditorium, children's entertainer Fred Penner borrowed a baby from its mother as part of his program. The concerts rescheduled to June 10 were well received by those in attendance and were sponsored by the Early Childhood Family Education program of School District 564.

TRF council approves even-numbered elections

Tuesday, Thief River Falls City Council has decided to go with elections during even-numbered years to coincide with state and federal elections. The potential savings resulting from this change could be about $6,000 per year.

The transition to holding elections only on even numbered years would require the council to develop a transition plan. In a memo to the council on May 12, Roger DeLap, city administrator, explained that the November 1997 elections would be for three years terms. Terms of office up for election that year would include Mayor, normally a two year term, second ward, fourth ward, and an alderman at large position, which are typically four-year terms. The change to even-numbered years would also require three-year terms for candidates running for office in November of 1999. Terms of office up for election that year would include an alderman at large position, first, third and fifth wards.

The first mayor and council elections in the even years would be in the year of 2000.

DeLap also presented the council with the option of extending the transition terms to five years instead of the proposed three years.

■ Tuesday night the council gave its approval to a proposed Environmental Quality Incentive Program. Mike Ratzlaff, Natural Resources Conservation Service, explained the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) was established in the 1996 Federal Farm bill to provide a single, voluntary conservation program for farmers and ranchers. EQIP combines the best features of the former Agricultural Conservation Program and the Water Quality Incentives Program into a single coordinated program. This program offers the opportunity to implement traditional approaches but also to use less traditional, alternative practices to protect soil, water and related resources.

To qualify for assistance through EQIP, a producer must agree to implement practices through a long-term agreement covering between five and 10 years. This agreement must address the resource concerns identified both by the producer and by the agency personnel providing technical assistance. EQIP provides cost share funds to pay up to 75 per cent of the cost to implement conservation practices as well as providing incentive payments to producers for implementing improved management practices. Examples of practices for which incentives may be provided to encourage farmers to perform land management practices include nutrient management, manure management, integrated pest management, irrigation water management and wildlife habitat management. The maximum payment for EQIP is $50,000 over the life of the contract.

Ratzlaff asked for and received a letter of support to apply for the

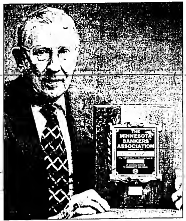
Orville Hanson receives 50-year banking award



Orville Hanson, senior vice president and cashier at Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls, was recently awarded the 50-year service award by the Minnesota Bankers Association. Hanson began his banking career at Security State Bank of Oklee a few days after graduating as valedictorian of the Class of 1947 at Oklee high school.

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

If he hadn't been valedictorian of his graduating class of 13 students at Oklee high school and had his picture in the Oklee Herald, Orville Hanson might have had a career in education instead of in banking.

Now senior vice president and cashier of Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls and director on the board of Marshall County State Bank of Newfolden, Hanson was recognized at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Bankers Association in Rochester recently as one of nine recipients of 50-year service in banking awards.

Never Asked For A Job

"I never asked for a job in my life, including my first one," Hanson said in a Times' interview following receipt of his recognition. "And I might not have had that job if my dad had been a little more perturbed."

The way Orville tells it, the bank at Oklee apparently had been having some trouble keeping its traditionally female employees for any length of time. The managing officer, A. N. Ries, decided maybe he should try a boy in the bookkeeping department and noticed Orville's picture in the paper as head of his graduating class.

"The bank was about half a block from the grocery store," Orville said, "and one day around graduation time when dad was heading for the grocery store, Mr. Ries came out of the bank and hollered that he wanted to see him.

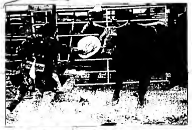
Eric Olson to protect cowboys at Bullride '97



Bullfighter Eric Olson, who will be one of two bullfighters at Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair July 18 and 19, takes pride in his cowboy protection abilities. He recently teamed with Scotty Brown of Powell, WY, to win a cowboy protection competition in Caldwell, ID, winning over three other teams.

Change in profession from bull rider to bullfighter was the result of a revelation to Eric Olson, who will be one of two bullfighters at Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19.

"I realized I was paying money to eat dirt," Olson said, commenting on his lack of success in staying aboard a ton of bad attitude wrapped in cowhide for an eight second ride.

"But I grew up hanging around rodeo chutes most of my life and I like being around the action," he said. "I started fighting bulls to protect my buddies who continued riding, and that is still my main objective in this business."

Hailing from Grand Forks, ND, which is hardly considered a rodeo or bullriding hotbed, Olson has managed to establish himself in a business known more for its guts than its glamour. And he has had some recent competitive success.

Late in June in Caldwell, Idaho, he teamed with Scotty Brown of Powell, Wyoming, to win the team cowboy protection competition. As opposed to professional rodeo bullfighting—which tests the skill, daring and abilities of the bullfighter one on one with a bull—the cowboy protection competition measures ability to safeguard fallen riders from the hooves and horns of their former mounts.

In 1995 he was named bullfighter of the year by the Minnesota and North Dakota high school rodeo associations, North Dakota Rough Rider Association and Thunder on the Prairie Bullriding Tour.

Olson describes his style of bullfighting as "aggressive" and says one of his character traits is being "mentally strong." He graduated from a four-day bullfighting school operated by Rex Dunn in Oklahoma and this year is participating in the Wrangler Bullfighting Tour.

Dunn teaches how to handle bulls by staying close, which is sometimes difficult to remember "when they have three feet of horn on each side," Olson said. He said it is impressive to watch Dunn fight bulls during an instructional session with a clipboard in his hand and talking all the while he is working a bull.

"I pride myself in cowboy protection," Olson said, "and in my ability to keep the audience entertained, especially the children."

Prowler marching band from Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls added sound and color to An American Festival parade on Friday, July 4. A good crowd turned out for the parade, taking advantage of a sunny break after several rainy days.

Community input session scheduled for the library

To solicit information on how to better provide library services for the public, Thief River Falls Public Library is holding a community input session Monday, July 14, at 6:30 p.m. at the library. A youth input session was held July 7.

Refreshments will be served at the July 14 session and everyone is welcome to attend and make suggestions. Those unable to attend but who would like to provide input are encouraged to contact the library at 681-4325.

From these input sessions as well as from surveys being distributed from the front desk at the library and to various groups, the library board plans to formulate a new long-range plan for the library.

Four years ago the library held similar input sessions and used information obtained at that time to work on projects that the public indicated were wanted. Examples include an increase in materials and paving of the library parking lot located between the library and the Bridgeman's Dairy plant.

Currently the library provides books for people from preschoolers through senior citizens in fiction and non-fiction," notes librarian Heidi Hoks. "The library tries to purchase all the Caldecott and Newbery Award winners, New York Times best seller list books and books the public recommends.

"Because the library serves the community as an information center," Hoks added, "it also has books on both sides of issues. All library materials must have three good reviews before they are purchased. Reviews are used from professional sources."

Hoks said book selection is done monthly and new books arrive weekly. Members of the public are allowed—even encouraged—to place requests on books they want to read. Because some authors go on the book promotion circuit prior to their book being published or hint in one book that there may be a sequel, many books have requests placed on them before they are published. As an example, Tami Hoag's Thin Dark Line had requests placed for it seven months before it was published, Hoks said.

Last year the library circulated 104,225 items. Money for books, as well as audiocassettes, videocassettes, newspapers and magazines comes from federal, state, county and city funds as well as donations and grants from individuals, organizations and foundations.

Except for reference books, which are marked with an R before the call number and located in a special section of the library for in-library use only, books are checked out for two weeks at a time.

The library subscribes to a number of national, regional and local newspapers. The current month and one month prior are kept for national and regional papers and six months of back copies are kept for local newspapers. The Thief River Falls Times is kept on microfilm with copies from Jan. 3, 1895 and on. Hard copies of The Times are kept until the microfilm of those issues is received.

Copies of the St. Hilaire Spectator from 1890 to 1942 is also available on microfilm. Newspapers also are for in-library use only. Persons who want to view either microfilm or back copies of a newspaper can ask the staffer at the circulation desk. A microfilm reader is available in the library to view the microfilmed newspapers.

The library also subscribes to a number of magazines for the public's informational and recreational purposes. Subscriptions are reviewed annually to note if they are fulfilling the needs of the library's public. The current year and preceding four years are kept for the public to check out. Currently the library has a book index to magazine articles (Reader's Guide), a computerized summary index of magazine articles and the online full text magazine index which also makes full articles available from some magazines to which the library does not subscribe. Magazines may be checked out for one week at a time, except for the current issue which remains in the library.

Hoks said the audiocassette collection began in response to area truckers. The collection is now being used by many people and includes best sellers, classic fiction and instructional audios in subjects ranging from professional issues such as business to personal issues such as weight loss.

Both adult and children's books-on-cassette are available and may be checked out one week at a time. A listing of the library's current videocassette collection is available through the online catalog and a printout that can be picked up at the library. A listing of the current year's additions to the videocassette collection is also available at the library.

The library's music collection is on compact disc format and ranges from classical to popular. Discs may be checked out for a week at a time. For those who wish to listen to a disc before bringing it to the desk for check out, a compact disc player is available at the desk for in library use.

Also included in the library's selection is a collection of pamphlets on a variety of subjects. A Rolodex file on top of the pamphlet file cabinet indicates the subjects contained in the file and cross-references those pamphlets. The pamphlet file is divided into a general section and a specialized Minnesota section. Pamphlets may be checked out for a week at a time.

All library materials are selected using specific criteria that appear in the Northwest Regional Library system's materials selection policy, Hoks said. This policy is available upon request from the library staff at the circulation desk.

Because Thief River Falls is a member of the Northwest Regional Library system, it is able to receive books, audiocassettes, videos and magazine articles from across the state on interlibrary loan. This enables the public to have access to more materials in an economical way.

The ready reference section of the library provides many answers to questions from a variety of general and subject encyclopedias, general and subject dictionaries, almanacs and indexes. All reference material is for in library use only. If a question cannot be answered by the ready reference collection, the library staff is willing to forward it to the regional library's reference service in the Twin Cities.

While the library has had textual Internet access for some time now, it will be adding a full graphical Internet browser (Netscape) in mid July as a service to the public. It also has its own homepage and people can access it from their home computers and place requests for items from their homes via this homepage. Address for this homepage is northernlights.lib.mn.us/trf/htm

The library's meeting room is also open to all non-commercial groups, clubs and other organizations whose meeting purpose is also of a non-commercial nature. All meetings held in the meeting room are free and open to the public and must be scheduled in the library's meeting room book prior to the meeting. This can be done in person or by phoning the library at 681-4325. The room can be used during any regular library hours.

The library also makes available computers for word processing, FAX and typewriters to the public. It also has two machines to help those who have difficulty reading. The Reader's Edge "reads" materials electronically to people and the CCD enlarges print. In addition the library has a number of pieces of equipment for rent.

Persons who wish more information before the community input session should feel free to contact the library at 681-4325 or in person, Hoks said.

What he wanted was to tell my dad to have me stop in and see him about a job.

"Dad came home with the message but a little perturbed. He was of the school that believed you didn't buy anything until you had the money to pay for it. When Mr. Ries came out of the bank and said that he wanted to see him, my dad was sure half the people in town thought he was overdue on a loan."

After high school graduation the Oklee high school class of 1947 made a class trip to Winnipeg by school bus. On June 7, a Saturday, Orville started what he expected to be a summer job by posting ledger sheets in the bookkeeping department of the Security State Bank of Oklee.

Teacher Training Rejected

He had been enrolled for fall to attend the normal training school at Red Lake Falls—a teacher training program that in a year's time prepared its students to teach in the rural one-room schools of the era. When fall came, the bank offered a healthy boost in salary from $75 to $95 a month and a banking career was born.

On June 11, 1954, Orville was married to Marilyn Johnson of the rural McIntosh area. She had a job at Munsingwear in Minneapolis and through a friend had arranged for Orville to get a job in a bank in the Twin Cities.

But George Beito, who owned the Oklee bank as well as Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls, wasn't to be denied a good employee. He offered to hire both Orville and Marilyn at the bank in Thief River Falls. Over the years, Marilyn worked a total of about 20 years at the local bank.

Advancing Through The Ranks

Orville advanced from teller to assistant cashier and then cashier and in 1961 became a member of the bank's board of directors. He was made vice president and cashier and in 1976 was named to his present office of senior vice president and cashier.

During his career he was worked with three generations of the Beito family—George, Gene and now David. "I have been very happy working with the Beito family and the way things have gone in my world of work," Hanson said.

Two situations stand out in Orville's mind as having happened during his 50 years in banking. One is his military service from April 11, 1951 to Jan. 16, 1953, including January through December of 1952 in the Republic of Korea. The other is the abduction and murder of fellow bank employee Kenneth Lindbergh by con man James B. Taylor in November of 1955.

Treasurer Of Organizations

Like many bank employees who belong to community organizations, Orville has been treasurer or financial officer of various groups, but he had been elected to a number of other offices as well. He has been a member of the Lions Club since 1961 and served as assistant treasurer and treasurer as well as a board member several times. He was the second member of the local club to receive the Melvin Jones Fellowship.

Orville became a member of the American Legion in 1955 and has served several offices including finance officer and commander. He has been awarded life membership in the American Legion and also holds life membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

In 1963 he became a member of the board of the Thief River Falls Foundation, a local student loan organization, and has served all the offices there. A member of the HRA board of commissioners which administers Skylite Apartments since 1979, he serves as chairman of the board.

30-Year Temporary Job

In the early 1960's he was named temporary auditor of the Eagles lodge until a permanent auditor could be found. The lodge is still making do on that "temporary" basis while looking for someone permanent.

Orville and Marilyn took square dance lessons in 1982 and Orville became treasurer of that organization. He is also a member of the Elks lodge, served as treasurer of Trinity Lutheran Church several times and has gone through the offices of the Bank Administration Institute comprised of North Dakota and Minnesota banks. He has been treasurer of the Pennington County Sportsmen Club, member of the board and chairman of the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce and is a past member of the Thief River Golf Club board.

Orville and Marilyn have three daughters. Barb is married to Tony Vik and they live in Woodbury with their three children. Bette is married to Mike Jorgenson and they live in Thief River Falls with their three children. Paula is single and works for Federal Express in Richfield.

Noting that Hanson has been employed by the Beito banks for the entire 50 years of his career, board chairman Gene Beito said that "Orville is a real team player. He is a knowledgeable banker with a strong customer orietation, and that is why people like him. He is a dedicated employee and it has been our pleasure to have worked with him these many years."

Having received his 50-year banking award, Orville is now one of approximately 120 members of the MBA Pioneer Club—a group comprised of 50-year award recipients. So far he has avoided being elected treasurer.

Young attends institute to study German teaching

Paivi Young of Thief River Falls participated in the Summer Teaching Institute at Carleton College in Northfield June 22-27. The Lincoln high school German teacher spent the week in a workshop studying that subject.

The institute is designed for teachers of existing or proposed advanced placement courses, enriched classes, accelerated classes or small group tutorials for students in grades 10 through 12 who are capable of college-level work.

The 29 intensive workshops at the institute are designed to address the individual needs of the participants.

Johnston herd leads D.H.I.A. group in May

Dairy Herd of Todd and Jay Johnston at Angus led the Red Lake-Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of May, according to Melvin, Randy and Margaret Rasmussen, supervisors.

Ninety percent of the Johnstons' herd of 63 cows was in milk during May and the herd averaged 74 pounds of milk, 2.6 pounds of butterfat and 2.3 pounds of protein in daily production.

Lyle Swanson herd was in second place with 87 percent of the 46-cow herd in milk and averaging 71 pounds of milk, 2.7 pounds of butterfat and 2.3 pounds of protein.

Third place herd was owned by Tom and Diane Kolstoe where 96 percent of the 45-cow herd was in production and averaged 70 pounds of milk, 2.4 pounds of butterfat and 2.1 pound of protein.

Other herds in the top 15 in the association for the month were as follows with number of cows, percentage in milk, and average pounds of milk, butterfat and protein listed respectively:

Richard Oummer, 89, 89%, 69, 2.0 and 2.2; Northwest Agricultural Experiment Station (large cow herd), 49, 90%, 68, 2.4 and 2.2 and (small cow herd) 58, 91%, 66, 2.3 and 2.2; Wayne Vettleson, 139, 86%, 62, 2.1 and 2.0; and Mylo Carlson, 74, 81%, 62, 2.1 and 1.9.

Also Warren Malwitz Dairy, 114, 89%, 61, 1.9 and 1.9; Mark Hanson, 47, 91%, 60, 1.8 and 1.9; Tom Willett, 46, 83%, 60, 1.8 and 1.9; Walter Bros. Farm, 167, 84%, 57, 2.0 and 1.8; Goodvue Ayr Farms II, 47, 91%, 56, 1.9 and 1.7; Arnie and Barb Schmitz, 38, 95%, 55, 2.0 and 1.7; and Wesley Bring, 34, 91%, 54, 1.9 and 1.7.

Herd averages are adversely affected by the number of dry cows since averages are computed using all cows in the herd, no only those in production. This method is used to give the dairyman a record of his or her herd's earning power for the month.

TRF council approves even-numbered elections

program. He said it would reduce sediment coming into the reservoir.

■ Discussion of the reservoir led to discussion of funding of the city's proposal to dredge the reservoir. The city has been told that the governor has signed a bill that included the city's $500,000 request to dredge the reservoir.

Council representative Don Barron proposed a motion to thank Gary Lane of the Soil and Water Conservation District for pursuing the $500,000 request. The motion was supported by the council.

Lane, who was at the meeting, said the council or someone needs to start working on the project to secure a site for the spoil from the dredging.

Barron said there are many hurdles left and did not know who will be in charge. As far as he's concerned the city is already late.

Ron Lindberg, public works director, said he had talked to a representative of the Red Lake Watershed District and they thought it was too early to settle on a disposal site. Much more work needs to be done, he said.

Barron said it is still imperative that the city work quickly.

Mayor Robert Reese suggested that a meeting between those directly involved in the project be held to discuss these issues.

■ There was considerable discussion and finally a vote on what will be printed on the westside water tower. The tower is under repair and will be re-painted. The council had decided to print "Thief River Falls home of the Prowlers" on the side of the tower. Paw prints will also be added to the tower. Tuesday night they discussed what type style would be used.

■ Low bids on a proposal to move the Airport Fuel Farm came in way above estimates. Ron Lindberg said it didn't go well. There were only three bids and the lowest bid was $199,000, considerably higher than the engineer's estimate of $[illegible]. Lindberg said he had discussed the bidding results with a state representative, as the state would be paying for a considerable portion of the project. They said they had [illegible] of funds any way and would have to fund it next year. Lindberg said the city's options [illegible] the cost of the project would be to move it further north to reduce length of pipes etc. or eliminate disposal cabinets and go to a truck dispensing operation. Lindberg recommended that in any event, the council should take a step back to review the project.

A motion was made and approved to table the issue for study.

■ An administrative services committee recommendation to approve waiving the connection fees for sewer and water on three lots adjacent to Kendall Avenue (Knox school property), which is being developed by Minnesota Multi-County Development Commission, was referred to the public works committee.

There was considerable controversy over the city's current policy and whether this represented a change in the city's policy. The [illegible] council representatives want to take another look at it.

■ A recommendation to approve a loan of $180,000 to Hi-Performance Engineering Inc. from the Revolving Loan Fund was approved. A $227,808 expansion project is being planned at the factory. The council approved the loan with an annual rate of interest at 4 percent amortized over 15 years. Collateral for the loan shall be a first position on the real estate, personal and corporate guarantees, and life insurance on Glen Follett (decreasing term acceptable) in which the city is either a direct beneficiary or through which there is a collateral assignment to the city. Further, that the wage level and job creation goals for the project shall include the creation of two to four seasonal positions at an average hourly salary of $7.52.

■ The council approved a conditional use permit request by Family Bowl to construct a mini storage facility. Originally he had proposed to construct two units, but a easement across the property was discovered.

■ The council approved an agreement with the University of Minnesota Archaeometry Laboratory for archaeological evaluation of two sites in Thief River Falls. The project is a result of an FERC inspection requirement on the dam.

■ The council approved the purchase of a 1997 Ford three-quarter ton pickup.

■ The council approved a change order that would allow for covering of the parking lot for Northwest Medical Center.

■ The council approved the offsetting Engineering Technical Services costs from the city's $18,000 IOU from School District 564.

■ The council approved a recommendation setting the pension level for the Thief River Falls Volunteer Firefighters Relief Association from $2,000 to $40,000.

In other business, the council: approved an agreement with American Legion Post 117 for displaying of flags on designated holidays; approved the annual 1997 budget allocation of $4,000 to the Greenwood Cemetery Association for operations; approved a progression raise for James Anderson; advertisement for a category II public works maintenance-airport employee; approved an application for beer in Oakland park as requested by the VFW.

Lynn Berard

Lynn Berard is national contest winner

Lynn Berard, a 1992 graduate of Lincoln high school and the son of Gary and Dawn Berard of Thief River Falls, recently won the National Apprentice Contest sponsored by the National Tooling & Machining Association at the Tooling and Manufacturing Expo in Houston, TX.

A graduate of Lake Superior Community College in Duluth where he received top student honors after his first year, he completed the two-year program in a year and a half, graduating in 1994. He now is a fourth-year machinist apprentice at Remmele Engineering, Inc. in St. Paul. He competed against 19 other regional champions for the top honor in the 25th annual competition in Houston.

Contestants at the national event were judged on their ability to produce three separate parts from prints in 6061-T6 aluminum—two on an engine lathe and the other on a vertical milling machine. They were also given a comprehensive written exam.

While at Lincoln high school, Lynn won first place in the machine shop division in the regional VICA competition and advanced to the state contest. His high school instructor was Al Aaseby.

Berard is the fifth national champion employed by Remmele, the others winning their titles in 1984, 1985, 1988 and 1992. Two apprentices from Michigan took second and third places.

For winning the national title, Lynn received a two piece Gerstner wooden toolbox, an array of tools and accessories and a $1,500 check along with an engraved cup. He applied the cash prize to the down payment on a house in Becker.

As a result of Berard's national win, Remmele Engineering will receive either a Charmilles Form 20 manual diesinking EDM worth $40,000 or 50 percent off the price of most other models.

Lynn said the parts he was assigned to make in the contest were "fairly easy compared to the parts I make on my job." He said his most vivid memory from the contest was of show attendees coming up to him and asking "What are you doing?" while the contest was underway.

Lynn has nearly completed his four year apprenticeship and plans to continue his career at Remmele's Monticello plant, where he works with computer-controlled machine tools.

Seniors stay active at Heritage Community Center

Holidays are not forgotten at the Heritage Community Center. Special parties and events are planned throughout the year. The halloween party last year was a big hit with all the senior citizens who attended.

by Kathi Carlson
Times Reporter

With a host of activities available at the Heritage Community Center, the seniors of our community certainly cannot say they have nothing to do.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 9 a.m., senior citizens can partake in a cardiovascular workout when aerobic classes are held. The routine is geared toward seniors and can be individualized. For example, if necessary, the exercises can be done sitting down or from a wheelchair. Some of the more advanced participants use weights in their routines. Once the participant reaches the maximum level, pulse rates are taken. If it's determined that the heart is working too hard, the pace for that individual is relaxed. Sponsored by Northland Community and Technical College, the cost of the program is $15 for ten sessions. Connie Dorn is the instructor.

Every Tuesday at 1 p.m., the center is filled with bingo players. Equipped with their lucky daubers, the players pay $5 for a 20-game packet. Extra sheets, "3-ons" in bingo talk, are available for 25 cents each. Payouts are based on the floor sales. The center keeps 50 percent of the bingo profits and donates the other 50 percent to local charities. This month, it has been recommended that two checks for $100 be sent to the senior centers in Ada and East Grand Forks to assist them in their rebuilding efforts after the spring floods. As the progressive jackpot had reached a sum of $200, a large crowd was expected for yesterday's session. Bingo is the most popular Heritage Center activity and can be enjoyed by any bingo lover over the age of 18.

At 1 p.m. on Wednesdays a group calling itself the Senior Circle meets for lunch and an afternoon of activities.

By calling the Heritage Center, seniors are able to get information about joining the senior choir. Practicing on Wednesday mornings at 10 a.m., the choir performs at Valley Home, Oakland Park Nursing Home as well as at Heritage Center functions and at local churches and community events. Twice, they have been invited to sing at the annual community Christmas tree lighting event.

Two dances are held each month from 7 to 10 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursdays. A dance club plans these events, and the charge is $2 per person. The various bands who play for the dances cater to the senior citizens and provide a variety of the music they enjoy and an opportunity to dance the evening away.

For those who relish playing their own musical instruments and/or singing, jam-sessions are held on the third Sunday of each month. Folks from throughout the area gather to participate or just watch. With the exception of a suggested 50-cent donation for lunch, this activity is free.

Card players can enjoy a carefree afternoon playing whist on Thursdays beginning at 1 p.m.

In addition to the daily meals served at noon, four special meals are served each month, two on Monday evenings at 5:30 p.m. and two on Sundays at noon. Reservations can be made by calling the center, and the suggested donation for the meal is $2.50. Anyone, regardless of age, is welcome to enjoy these full-course meals. While entertainment used to be provided at each meal, the participants requested entertainment at every other meal giving them the opportunity to visit and socialize without interruption. On Monday evening, when the weather was cold and rainy, the Heritage Community Center was bright and cheery and filled nearly to capacity with senior citizens enjoying a pork chop dinner.

Cake is served on the last Friday of every month in honor of the birthdays celebrated during that month.

Holidays are not forgotten at the Heritage Community Center and are observed with parties and special gatherings.

With senior health and welfare in mind, a variety of clinics and classes are offered on a regular basis.

Every Thursday from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., a blood pressure and blood sugar screening clinic is held. Personnel from Pine to Prairie Home Health Care will check blood pressure for free and blood sugar levels for a $1 fee.

On the third Thursday of each month, the county nurse holds a footcare clinic at the center. Appointments for the clinic can be made by calling 681-6950.

Ken Murphy teaches the 55-Alive defensive driving course held periodically at the center. An $8 fee covers either the eight-hour, first-time course or the 4-hour refresher course. Participants who successfully complete this course are eligible for a 10 percent discount on their insurance rates for three years.

To answer questions about Social Security benefits, a representative from the Grand Forks Social Security office visits the Heritage Community Center monthly.

Meetings are also held at the center on a regular basis. The Heritage Center Board of Directors and the Senior Nutrition Council meet monthly. Other groups also utilize the center as a meeting place.

One of those groups is the Friendship Club which provides a monthly outing for mentally and physically handicapped people of the community. Val Champagne has overseen this group for more than 20 years. Pat Markstrom also helps with the club. The Friendship Club meets on the third Monday of each month.

Seniors are also given the opportunity to assist with or participate in the many fund raisers held at the center throughout the year. Often, these fund-raisers coincide with other community events.

With the monthly newsletter put out so diligently by Heritage Center Director Shannon Olson, no one can say they don't know what's going on.

Buzzing with activities, the Heritage Community Center provides the social interaction so vital to the well-being of our community's senior citizens. To the rest of us, it appears we have much to look forward to!

On Monday evening, July 7, the skies were gray and bleak, but the Heritage Center was bright and cheery with folks enjoying a pork chop dinner and the opportunity to visit with their friends.

The Senior Choir at the Heritage Community Center practices on Wednesday mornings and performs at various functions throughout the community. Anyone interested in joining the choir can find out more about it by calling the center at 681-2793.

Haugens at home in Grand Forks

Candelabras decorated with green ivy and white pew bows adorned Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls for the June 7 wedding of Amy Joy Johnson and Bret Conrad Haugen.

Parents of the couple are Dwight and Becky Johnson and Glen and Ann Haugen, all of Thief River Falls.

Pastor Galen Sylvester officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony. Reading the Scripture lessons was Doug Vacura, uncle of the groom. Singing "Endless Love", "I Do" and "Because You Love Me" were Lisa Swanson, friend of the bride and Marc Haugen, brother of the groom. Brenda Bjornstad, friend of the bride, played the piano, and Marie Hvidsten, aunt of the groom, played the flute. Cousin of the bride Melodee Rupprecht was the organist playing "Arioso" and "The Bridal Chorus" for the processional and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" for the recessional.

The bride's gown was of white satin featuring long sleeves, a scalloped sweetheart neckline and a straight floor-length skirt. Beading and sequins adorned the bodice, sleeves and lower skirt as well as the seven-foot detachable train. Her fingertip-length veil was held in place by a beaded headpiece accented with white roses. The bridal bouquet consisted of all white roses, ivy, baby's breath, gold accents and strings of pearl beading.

Attending her friend as Maid of Honor was Karlene Jolly of Bemidji. Bridesmaids were Teresa and Katrina Johnson, sisters of the bride; Ann Alger, Jackie Lappegaard, Lisa Sinton and Carisa Pederson, all friends of the bride from Thief River Falls. The bride's sister, Kristina Johnson, was the junior bridesmaid.

The bride's attendants all wore red sleeveless, ankle-length gowns with round necklines. The empire bodices featured red raised stitching and imitation gem stones. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of red and white roses, ivy and baby's breath with gold accents and strings of white beads.

The flower girl was Brittany Hesse of Thief River Falls, cousin of the bride. She wore a short-sleeved, floor-length gown of white satin. Lace accented the bodice, sleeves and bottom of her gown. Her waist-length veil was held in place by a beaded headpiece accented with flowers. She carried a white satin basket containing white and red roses with green fern and gold accents.

The bride's personal attendent was her friend, Carla Torgerson.

The groom was attired in a black formal tuxedo with white vest and bow tie. His boutonniere was a red rose with white netting, fern, baby's breath and gold accents.

Grant Larson of Fargo, a friend of the groom, was the bestman. Groomsmen were Marc Haugen and Ryan Haugen, brothers of the groom, John Azure and Jeff Novak, friends of the groom, Trevor Haugen, cousin of the groom, all of Thief River Falls and John Dondelinger, friend of the groom, of Bloomington.

The men of the wedding party wore black tuxedos with red and black paisley vests and black bow ties. Their boutonnaires were the same as the groom's.

Programs were handed out by Katie Scramstad and Tracy Kinsvisto, friends of the bride.

In a tuxedo and boutonnaire to match the groom, the ring bearer was Brandon Hesse of Thief River Falls, godchild of the couple.

The ushers were Kent Holmes, Corey Tete and Hans Helgeruset, all friends of the groom and Nathan Knutson, cousin of the bride, all of of Thief River Falls.

The ushers were dressed in black tuxedos with black vests and black bow ties. Their boutonnieres were like those of the other men in the wedding party.

The mother of the bride wore a street-length, long-sleeved white suit. Raised stitching accented the bottom of the jacket.

The mother of the groom wore a street-length, long-sleeved off-white suit which featured off-white satin lapels.

Their corsages were of red and white roses, fern, netting, baby's breath with gold accents and strings of beads.

The fathers were attired in black tuxedos with black vests and bow ties. Their boutonnaires also matched those of the groom and his attendents.

Honored guests were Rueben and Doloris Benitt and Irwin and Pearl Johnson, grandparents of the bride and Jack and Alma Vacura and Corrine Haugen, grandparents of the groom.

The decorations continued into the reception area of the church where host couples were Rob and Nonu Bollesen, godparents of the bride, Gary and Mary Brandt, godparents of the groom and Rodney and Sandy Knutson, cousins of the bride and friends of the groom.

The wedding cake was four multi-level individual round cakes baked by Margaret Rupprecht, great-aunt of the bride. They were decorated with red and white floral arrangements which coordinated with the other flowers used throughout the wedding and reception.

The cake was cut by Sue Lamm, friend of the bride and Kathy Vacura, aunt of the groom. Karen Benitt, aunt of the bride, and Ruth Ostby, friend of the groom, served coffee. At the punch bowl were Jenny Johnson and Bobbie Jo Telken, friends of the bride. The Norwegian wedding cake was cut by Patti Haugen, aunt of the groom.

Flower hostesses were Renae Jenson, Christa Jones and Liz Wigand, all friends of the bride. Carrying gifts were Sara Lamm and Christine Johnson, friends of the bride and Shara Gindry, cousin of the bride. Sara Rolfson, friend of the couple, and Jennifer Thompson, friend of the bride, were special helpers to the bride.

ON MY MIND

Kim Chadwick-Quade

Hubby or not?

Every now and then I get a "wild hair" to add another hobby to my life. I see other people enjoying such sidelines as knitting, crocheting, crafting, sewing, quilting, baseball card collecting and photography, and I feel I should join in.

I have good intentions at first. The enthusiasm is there. I gather all the appropriate materials and give it a good try, but something is lacking. My follow-through possesses a staying power similar to that of Bazooka bubble gum – short, but sweet.

For instance, I was admiring my mother-in-law's cross-stitching talents a couple of years ago. She's created pillowcases, wall hangings and dish towels. My enthusiasm surged as she explained "how easy" counted cross-stitch was. "Anyone can do it," she stated confidently. She almost had me convinced.

Armed with patterns, directions, needle and thread, I envisioned all the great things I could make. Just think of all the money I would save on Christmas presents by making them. Well, that dream lasted about five stitches before I realized my talents were lacking. More items for the rummage sale.

My rubber stamping experience lasted almost as long as my cross-stitching hobby. If you can call stamping a "hobby" with just one stamp. I saw it at a craft show and was swayed by the eye-catching display of all the cute cards one could create. I purchased a stamp that said "Merry Christmas" and green and red ink pads. I quickly discovered that one stamp does not a stamper make. Just one stamper alone cannot create extremely creative cards.

Realizing I'd have to make more of a financial commitment, I stamped just a few Christmas card envelopes with the holiday greeting and put the supplies in a drawer. Every year at Christmas I resurrect the stamper, decorate an envelope or two to impress my friends and relatives with my "creativity" and then store them for another year.

Another time I was set on making Christmas tree ornaments. It looked easy: paint some wooden hearts, glue them together with a hot glue gun, attach a hanger of some sort and voila – a reindeer ornament. Trust me, a hot glue gun is not as easy as it looks. It was difficult to glue pieces together while my fingers were all stuck to each other.

Seeing my success with that project I've written off that and all other crafts entirely as a hobby. I resolve not to be tempted to try another craft – even if it looks easy and it's cute. I vow not to be deceived.

Because crafts aren't my bag, I decided to move on to another area. Something outdoors. I'd heard many people talk about their love of gardening and how rewarding it was – especially the fresh vegetables. I concluded that it couldn't be too hard to plant some seeds, water every week and pick the vegetables. That "hobby" lasted one growing season before the mosquitoes and weeds chased me back into the house. Grass is good.

This last spring I decided I should learn to speak Spanish. I got a good start by attending a community education class – the equivalent of kindergarten in Spanish, for me. Some of it sank in so I decided to buy a book to further my education. I don't believe I've opened the book yet. I can say "hello," "good-bye" and can count to 10. But I think fluency is a few years away.

In addition, I've tried knitting, crocheting, tennis and golf - none of which appear on my hobby list today. There's a good reason for that: right-handed people tried to teach me these pastimes and they told me it was tough to teach a lefty these very technical hobbies. I believed them. (And that's a story for another day!)

I haven't tried everything yet, so I'm sure to add to the list of "I tried that." It's too bad I can't make a hobby of the things I really like to do: sit on the deck at the lake, eat, take naps and play Scrabble on the computer.

If love alone could have saved you
You never would have died
In life we loved you dearly
In death we love you still
In our hearts you hold a place

TIMES FOR TODDLERS

ACTIVITIES

Reversible Art

A "reversible" art idea for a cool day is to make something "inside" which you can later use "outside" like coffee filter art. Let your child draw with markers on coffee filters and save them for a sunny day. Outside, have your child spray the creation with water and watch the magic happen!

(Contributed by Discovery Place child care center.)

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature you will need two inch metal washers, a permanent marker and a wading pool.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

The Thief River Falls public library invites you to browse through its new selection of children's books including the following:

Hutchins, Pat — Shrinking Mouse. Fox, Rabbit, Squirrel and Mouse are very worried when Owl flies off to a faraway wood and keeps getting smaller and smaller. Is something sinister shrinking Owl?

Shannon, George — This is the Bird. Witness a quiet ritual of identity and strength as a small wooden bird is passed down, mother to daughter, generation to generation, together with stories of each owner.

VIDEO VARIETY

Maurice Sendak's Really Rosie. Convinced of her limitless talent, charm and ability, Rosie sweeps the neighborhood Nutshell Kids into the beam of her private spotlight as they perform in her pretend movie.

MAGAZINE MENTION

Volcanoes do it. Geysers do too. So do certain kinds of beetles and other living things. In the July issue of Ranger Rick you'll discover that, just like the fireworks on the Fourth of July, nature has a few "big blasts" of its own.

Don't forget to sign up for the Summer Library Reading Program! You can also attend preschool story time every Thursday from 10 to 11 a.m. and movies every Monday from 1:30 to 2 p.m.

Remember to check out the parent corner in the children's room for new information and helpful hints for busy parents on books, videos and much more.

PARENTING TIPS

Setting Limits

As a parent (or child care provider) you need to decide what is important and what is trivial before you set limits for your children. Parents who set too many rules can overwhelm their children with too many demands. The limits or rules you set should reflect your deeply held convictions or values. Once limits are set, commit yourself to consistently maintaining them. Before you set a limit, ask yourself these questions:

•Is this rule really important?

•Am I willing to deal with the conflicts that will naturally occur and assert my authority if my child disregards the limit?

For example, is it really necessary to insist that a child eat all his peas or wear certain clothes? Wouldn't it be more important to take issue when a child destroys a friend's toy, swears at a parent, or steals money out of your purse? You are more likely to be effective if you focus on those issues you believe are most important.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

State your rules to your child so that he/she knows exactly what you expect and what the consequences will be if the rules are disregarded.

Rebekah Bruno Miss Minnesota Amercian Coed Pageant finalist

Rebokah Bruno

Rebekah Bruno, 14, daughter of Dr. Phillip and Barbara Bruno of Thief River Falls has been selected as a state finalist in the Miss Minnesota American Coed Pageant to be held August 1 through 3 at the Downtown Radisson Hotel in St. Paul.

The pageant is held for girls ages 3 through 17, each competing in their own age division. According to pageant officials, since 1983, the American Coed Pageant system has awarded more than eight million dollars in scholarships and awards to deserving young ladies. The pageants are for "tomorrow's leaders", with goals and dreams based on inner beauty as well as poise, appearance, and an "All-American spirit for the family fun and friends." Emphasis is placed on the importance of gaining self-confidence, learning new skills, learning good attitudes about competition and setting and achieving personal goals. The pageant seeks to recognize the accomplishments of each girl while encouraging her to set goals for the future.

Rebekah's activities include interpretive dance and youth group activities. She also enjoys rollerblading, swimming and music. Her sponsors are Community Daycare, Jacobson Concrete & Sales, family and friends.

Two Rivers theatre asked back to Emerson

Two Rivers Area Theatre was invited back to Emerson, Manitoba, Canada, for the International Theatre Festival July 12 and 13. Last year, the traveling troupe from Two Rivers Area Theatre took Les Miserables, the Music Review, to the Festival and opened the festivities. Unfortunately, due to actor conflicts, the group will not able to attend.

According to Festival organizers, "We were hoping TRAT would bring "Phantom of the Opera, The Man Behind the Mask""

The music review was presented in Thief River Falls this winter to sold out crowds at the American Legion.

Organizers of the Festival in Emerson said they would offer the theatre group a spot next year. This year, because of the flooding, plans for the Festival were not made until early summer.

Emerson International Theatre Festival features musical, one act plays, reviews, and comedies with troups from Winnipeg, Grand Forks, Fargo, Northern Minnesota and others. A craft show, food concessions and camping are all part of the festival.

SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

...As I Was Saying...To Myself...I Think

Talking to oneself is not a sign of senility, nor is it a symptom of madness. I should know. I do it all the time.

I must admit I am a little embarrassed about it and try make sure I am alone before I do it, even though it doesn't mean there is something wrong with me. If it should happen that someone else hears me talking to myself, I usually try to excuse it by saying I am talking to the dog. It was much easier to make excuses when we had both a dog and a cat, because often the dog is outside and it is hard to say I was talking to him when he isn't anywhere near me. The cat was always around somewhere, so it was a simple thing to say I was talking to the cat any old time.

I discuss all sorts of things with myself. I try to do it only at home, but sometimes I find myself doing it in the car. I wonder what passing motorists think when they see me having an animated conversation with myself.

Perhaps I should buy one of those life-sized dummies to sit in the passenger seat of my car. Of course if anyone driving by me got close enough to see that my passenger was a dummy, they would surely think I was one too, wouldn't they? Maybe they think I am singing along with the radio. Next time I buy a car, I will make sure it has tinted windows so no one can see me discussing things with myself.

I talk to myself a lot in the basement. Usually I am down there trying to locate something that I have lost, and of course I must talk about what I am looking for and where I am and have been looking and have a lengthy discourse with myself about why whatever it was got lost in the first place, blaming it all on one or several of my children, naturally.

I talk to myself while I am cooking, too. It is only sensible to repeat the measurements of ingredients while I am tossing them into the pot or bowl, since lately I seem to be losing my memory as well as talking to myself. Because of the problem with my memory, it is necessary to say the ingredients aloud so that I don't forget what part of the recipe I am working on. It seems that the sound lingers in the air after it is said, so it is easier to remember what went in last.

Yesterday I was making bread and I talked to myself so thoroughly that I forgot what I was doing and knocked the entire bowl full of ingredients on the floor. After that I really talked to myself plenty, I can tell you, and not all of the words were so nice.

Cleaning the house is an ideal time to talk to myself. I can mutter and mumble all I want while scrubbing the floors, because my face is stuck in my scrub bucket, after all. I can talk as loudly as I wish while I vacuum, since no one can hear anything while that is going on. I whisper while I am dusting though, because it is much easier for someone to overhear me then.

At work I usually whisper to myself too, instead of talking aloud. Heaven only knows when there is someone standing at the front desk able to hear what I say! But I have to try to remember a lot of numbers at work, and it is much easier to remember numbers when they are said aloud, even if whispered to oneself.

I seem to talk a lot while I am sewing, but only when I am upstairs on my sewing machine. I hardly ever do it when I hand sew sitting in front of the television set. I wonder why that is. I can tell I've been talking to myself a lot after I finish sewing, because I always have dry lips. I think I nearly wear them out jabbering to myself up there.

Speaking of television, once in a while I talk back to the television set. Some things that people say on there is just so doggone ridiculous that someone needs to tell these people they are fools. I do. I also tell them when they are wrong about something and when they are being downright stupid. I guess I talk to the television set a lot.

The problem with all this talking to myself is that it gets harder and harder to shut up. I'm afraid that some day my loss of memory will take over and I will find myself carrying on a conversation with myself in a place where I shouldn't. If I do get caught and if I can remember to do so, I'll just say it is a privilege of getting older.

Thief River Falls Schools join Academic League

Minnesota Academic Excellence Foundation (MAEF) announced recently Thief River Falls membership in the 1997-1998 Academic League.

As a service of the Minnesota Academic Excellence Foundation, the Academic League provides assistance to public and nonpublic schools in planning and delivering organized challenges, recognitions and enrichment opportunities for their elementary and secondary students. Implemented in 1984, the Academic League provides a framework which enables schools to involve students in a multitude of high quality activities.

"The Academic League is about increasing student achievement primarily through the use of academic activities such as Odyssey of the Mind or Academic Decathlon. Thief River Falls should be commended for joining other districts in visable support of valuing these kinds of activities as integral parts of their community's offerings to its children," comments Wendie Palazzo, MAEF Regional Consultant.

"Membership in the Academic League provides a wonderful opportunity for schools to network with each other as well as involve volunteers and community organizations in the promotion of academic excellence," Greg Vandal, Co-Chair of MAEF's Academic League Council, noted. "When communities encourage and support academic activities and publicly recognize academic achievements, everyone benefits – students, parents, teachers and the community as a whole."

For more information on Academic League activities contact Jim Sims, Director of Curriculum, Thief River Falls Schools.

The Minnesota Academic Excellence Foundation is a nonprofit, public-private partnership, created in 1983 by legislative statute to be the primary advocate for the promotion and recognition of academic excellence in all schools and communities in the State of Minnesota.

Many new laws officially took effect on July 1

Because the new fiscal year starts July 1, many of the laws passed by the Minnesota Legislature in 1997 took effect on that date according to Sen. Roger Moe of Erskine. For the most part, these are budgetary items and policies directly lined to state appropriations.

Moe listed some of the changes as follows:

K-12 Education—Funding for public schools includes the first substantial increase in student formula aid in several years. The aid level goes up 2.2 percent a year for the next two years.

Additional funds targeted for students from low income families, which is known as compensatory aid, will be substantially higher in many rural school districts. This significant school funding change will be especially helpful to most schools in northwestern Minnesota.

Welfare Reform—In response to changes made a year ago by the federal government, the state has modified welfare eligibility rules and helped with the welfare-to-work transition. Beginning this month, every month spent on welfare will count toward the five-year federally imposed lifetime limit on welfare. A change in welfare residency law provides for no benefits to be paid in the first 30 days after a person moves to Minnesota, and sets benefits for the first year at the amount paid in the former state.

The state recognizes its obligation to make the transition. Welfare recipients who get part-time work no longer have to fear a reduction in partial benefits after four months in the job. Education and training comes under the broad definition of work activity, making it easier to gain the skills necessary for self-sufficiency.

Day Care/Child Care—One of the barriers to single parents leaving welfare is the cost of caring for children while at work. New day care funding totals $200 million, with nearly half expected to go to parents leaving welfare to go to work. In addition, more than $92 million is going to the state sliding fee child care assistance program aimed at lower-income families, which should be enough to eliminate the current waiting list of 5,600 families around the state.

MinnesotaCare—Health care coverage through MinnesotaCare for low-income workers is expanded to include more single adults and couples without children. Yearly income limits increase from $10,651 to $13,807 for single adults and from $14,323 to $18,567 for childless couples.

In addition, doctors no longer are required to pay a $400 annual surcharge on their license fee for MinnesotaCare, and the one percent premium tax on HMOs and other non-profit health plans is repealed for the next two years.

Small Hospital Grants—The amount of planning grants for small rural hospitals has been increased. For hospitals with 50 or fewer beds, funding of $3 million in the current fiscal year and $4.5 million in the next fiscal year is available. Up to $1.5 million in grant and loan funds per rural hospital project are now available.

Gang, Arson Strike Forces—Two statewide strike forces, one aimed at gangs and the other at arson, are starting up. These special units will be active throughout the state. Strike units will then investigate and prosecute gang and arson crimes. The strike forces will be involved in training county and local law enforcement authorities in their areas of expertise.

Speed Limits—One of the few policy changes effective on July 1 that has virtually an immediate impact is the changing of speed limits on freeways and expressways. In rural areas speed limits on interstates and other limited access expressways are typically increased to 70 miles per hour. However the Department of Transportation can post lower speeds in some locations based on safety considerations.

In addition, it will take several weeks to finish the current sign replacement effort. Until the new signs are put in place, the signs indicating the old lower limit should be followed. It is important for drivers to be aware that the speed limit as posted remains the legal limit until the sign is changed.

Leukemia Society has patient aid

Minnesota cancer patients with leukemia, lymphoma, multiple myeloma or Hodgkin's disease can receive several forms of help from the Leukemia Society of America, Minnesota chapter.

The society's patient aid program provides supplementary financial assistance of up to $750 a year to patients being treated for leukemia or related cancers. This assistance covers expenditures not met by other sources, including costs for prescription drugs, x-rays, blood services and travel. Present the Minnesota chapter is offering aid to more than 300 Minnesota patients and their families.

The society's education program is intended to alert the public to disease danger, treatment and therapy through the distribution of literature and posters, videos, speaking engagements, news releases and public service announcements in all media.

The Minnesota chapter office in Minneapolis can be reached toll-free at 1-888-220-4440.

Migrant worker grant is given to Minnesota

U.S. Department of Labor has granted $1,243,685 to Minnesota to provide employment services to economically and disadvantaged migrant and seasonal farmworkers.

Programs funded under the grant are to provide training and supportive services to farm workers who seek alternative job opportunities. This will enable them to secure stable employment at an income above poverty level. Services are also offered to help improve the standard of living of those who remain in the agricultural labor market. Support services include counseling, child care and transportation allowances.

The grant will be administered by Motivation Employment and Training, Inc., of Cleveland, TX. The Department of Labor is awarding a total of nearly $3.8 million for programs in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Mississippi.

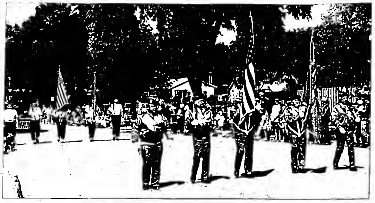
Area mayors travel to D.C.

A group of mayors from Minnesota cities devastated by the 1997 spring flood will travel to Washington, D.C. on Wednesday, July 9, and Thursday, July 10, to meet with White House staff, federal officials, and Congressional representatives.

At Governor Arne Carlson's request, Mayor Morrie Lanning of Moorhead is heading up the team of mayors to address issues on local, state and federal cooperation in long term recovery and redevelopment planning.

"Faced with the burden on the local level, we share a common concern that our communities will not be able to afford full recovery," said Mayor Lanning. "This is one of the largest disasters in FEMA's history in terms of per capita damage and will require some new approaches in government response and coordination to ensure that the economic viability of our communities is restored."

Mayors of Breckenridge, Crookston, East Grand Forks, Granite Falls, Montevideo, Moorhead and Warren will be in attendance with David Gruenes, the chair of the Governor's Recovery and Redevelopment Planning Council.



Color guards from Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793 and Ecklund-Holmstrom Post 117 of the American Legion in Thief River Falls led the parade for An American Festival on Friday, July 4, in Thief River Falls.

Thieves hold off Muskies rally to claim an 8-7 win

Thief River Falls built an 8-0 lead and then held on to escape with an 8-7 American Legion baseball win over Warroad Sunday night at Irv Wilson Field.

It was the Thieves' second one-run win of the season over the Muskies but was a much higher scoring affair than a 2-1 decision at the same site June 21. Two Thief River Falls trips to Warroad have been postponed, with one of those rescheduled to tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m.

A five-run third inning put the Thieves in control of the match-up that closed out the Fourth of July weekend. Two walks preceded an RBI double by Ryan Bondickson. A double by Mitch Bernstein and a single by Blaise Larson both plated two runs, and a Chris Nelson single made it 5-0.

Rest of the Thief River Falls scoring occurred in the sixth, starting with a one-out single by Adam Hennes, who moved up on a stolen base and scored on an infield ground-out. Jason Kempert and Steve Burslie followed with walks. Kempert scored on a wild pitch and Burslie crossed the plate on a single by Bernstein.

Shut out on two hits by Aaron Chaput over six innings, Warroad rallied against Burslie, who came on to pitch the seventh. A walk, hit batsman and a single by Brent Paule loaded the bases. Nick Stodgell drew a walk for the Muskies' first run. Pat Fenmyle came through with an RBI single, an error produced a run, and Jack Lian had a sacrifice fly to make it 8-4.

Warroad struck again in the ninth to make it close as Stodgell, Fenmyle and Lian stroked consecutive doubles and Troy Mattera had an RBI single to make it a one-run game.

But an infield pop-up and a ground-ball out ended the threat.

Thief River Falls will follow the trip to Warroad with an Irv Wilson Field match-up against Roseau Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The Royals beat the Thieves in two earlier meetings 5-4 and 7-4.

Wiseth reign ends at state

Terry Wiseth and area high school graduates have combined to produce a Northland Community and Technical College baseball program that has been competitive on a yearly basis in the Minnesota Community College Conference.

Wiseth, however, will be missing from the picture in 1998. He resigned from the position he's held the past decade at the close of the 1997 season – a season that ended with an MCCC state tournament appearance – to spend more time with his family.

He will remain as an assistant coach on the Northland football staff, and doesn't rule out the possibility of returning to baseball down the line.

"I've enjoyed it, but right now I need to concentrate on giving more time to my family," said Wiseth. "In five-six years when my kids are older, I may look to get back into baseball. If the position were to open up again in the future, I may apply."

Using a roster staffed almost entirely by products of northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota high schools, and despite a nearly annual battle with season-delaying poor spring weather, Wiseth has been able to produce teams that on a yearly basis could play with the best in the MCCC.

But the weather and smaller pool of potential recruits does take a toll. Success meant playing the top teams close, finishing at or just above .500, and qualifying – not winning – at the state tournament level.

"We've been competitive," pointed out Wiseth. "We've been in state and regional tournaments while playing area kids."

But baseball in northwestern Minnesota can be tough, acknowledge Wiseth. Football and basketball seasons are the same across the country, he pointed out, but baseball can't start here until March 1, and then you have to deal with the weather. Kids in the other parts of the country have fall baseball, and can start honing their skills in the spring, he continued. There's even a big discrepancy many years, noted Wiseth, in the weather-dictated early-season practice/game schedules for the MCCC Northern and Southern Division teams.

Terry Wiseth

This year's edition of Northland baseball finished 14-17 overall, but had a second-place 10-6 finish in the Northern Division behind Itasca's pennant-winning 12-4 and earned a spot in the MCCC state tournament.

"Our goal was to get to the state tournament, and we did that," pointed out Wiseth. "To get to the region tournament (spots awarded to divisional leaders at the midway mark of the MCCC race) would have been a little extra. We lost a game we could have won that kept us out of the region, but we won two big games against Hibbing late in the season that got us into the state tournament."

It was a team that finished with impressive numbers, offensively. The Pioneers carried a .318 team batting average, had 11 hitters with a .300 or better batting average and had four players who hit .362 or higher.

"We were never out of a game, even when we were down by six or seven runs," noted Wiseth. "We played a different type of ball this year. With seven pretty good hitters, we went more for the big inning. We didn't have to bunt to move runners up."

Grant Skibicki, a freshman from Fordville, ND, led the Northland hit parade with a .462 batting average, collecting 36 hits in 78 bats. He also led the team in doubles (1), shared the team lead in home runs (4) and finished second in the RBI count (25).

While the offense shined, the pitching and defense took a hit, admitted Wiseth. Chris Vanyo, a sophomore right-hander from Thief River Falls, proved to be a top-notch pitcher with a 5-1 record and a 4.54 earned run average, but the rest of the staff struggled as the Pioneers posted a 7.24 team ERA.

"Pitching, outside of Chris, was down, not just for us, but throughout the league," explained Wiseth. "Chris did an excellent job for us. He kept the ball down low every time out. He gave us a chance to win."

Defense wasn't one of the Pioneers' strong points, either, confessed Wiseth. "We didn't have the dominant pitcher, so it put more pressure on our defense," he explained. "We couldn't afford to make the errors and give people extra runners. But we didn't always make the plays we needed to make to get out of an inning."

Cell phone emergency 911 call diverted to Winnipeg

On July 6 Red Lake County sheriff's department received a call from the Winnipeg police department at 2:36 a.m. They said they had received a report of an incident at Voyageur's View Campground in Red Lake Falls that involved a firearm and a person pointing it at several people in the campground. The Winnipeg Police Department said they received the call via a 911 call made on a cellular telephone.

Officers of the Red Lake County Sheriff's department and Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension responded. Upon arrival they discovered that the incident had diffused itself and the suspects had left the area. The victims were from Winnipeg.

The incident remains under investigation.

Reward offered in Voni Safranski disappearnce

Minnesota Department of Public Safety and the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension are offering a $15,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of an individual responsible for the disappearance of Veronica Safranski.

Law enforcement officials connected to the investigation say offering the reward now and making the effort to make the public aware of the efforts being made to locate Safranski because of the conclusion of another criminal case. Initially they were concerned that such an effort might cause problems for that case.

On October 27, 1996 the Marshall County Sheriff's department received a complaint that Veronica Safranski was missing and last seen on October 26, 1996 at a Halloween party in in Warren. Safranski was last seen with Kevin Skjerven in Skjerven's Black Dodge Powerwagon 4x4 pickup.

Since October 27, the Marshall County Sheriff's department, with assistance from numerous law enforcement agencies and citizens in a cooperative effort, have conducted searches on both large and small scales. Their searches included the use of airplanes, dogs, horses and land and watercraft, as well as human foot searches and divers. And, the search is not over. Law enforcement officials are still searching areas. Because the area is so large they are also asking for residents to help. They should check abandoned wells and wooded areas on their property, or call law enforcement with the information.

In addition to the numerous search efforts the investigation lead law enforcement officials to believe that Veronica Safranski was the victim of an abduction. Subsequently numerous interviews and law enforcement investigative techniques were conducted and employed. These efforts led to the execution of search warrants at a rural Newfolden residence. During the service of these search warrants state of the art scientific techniques were employed and several items of potential evidentiary value were discovered.

Law Enforcement officials continued the investigation and a belt, believed to be part of Voni's Halloween costume, was found three miles north of the intersection of County road 30 and 8, in New Maine township of Marshall county.

Subsequent to the findings of the belt, more extensive searches were conducted in that area and other specific areas of Marshall county. These searches were conducted with the use of search dogs and dive teams. It is anticipated that additional searches are going to be made in the near future.

Law Enforcement officials are requesting the assistance of the public in the search for Veronica Safranski. Citizens are asked to check abandoned wells, dump sites, brush piles, abandoned buildings and any other areas wherein Veronica may have been left. Citizens are asked to contact the Marshall County Sheriff's Department at 218-745-5411 or 1-800-242-6127 with any suspicious activity or findings.

As part of the ongoing investigation the Marshall County Sheriff's Department has announced that a reward of up to $15,000 is being offered for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the disappearance of Vernoica Safranski. Flyers are being posted throughout Marshall, Pennington, Polk and Roseau counties and other areas. Law Enforcement officials encourage the public to contact the Marshall County Sheriff's Department with any information however insignificant it may seem.

Veronica (Voni) Lenhart Safranski is 40 years of age and is described as being 5-feet, four-inches tall and weighing 110 pounds with blonde hair and blue eyes.

An investigator connected with the case said emphatically, "She's still out there, and we're still looking and will continue to look for her until she is found!"

Keith Evan Melvie of St. Hilaire was treated and released at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls following an accident Monday evening.

Melvie has been charged with driving while intoxicated.

Jim Jacobson, associate pastor at Community Church in Thief River Falls, is now in Illinois on a 1,400-mile walk to Washington, DC, carrying this 50-pound basswood cross. His goal is to reach the nation's capital for the Promise Keepers Conference of a million men on October 4.

Jacobson carries cross on 1,400 mile journey

Jim Jacobson, associate pastor of the Community Church on Highway 1 east of Thief River Falls, has completed 600 miles of a 1,400-mile trek from Thief River Falls to Washington, DC, for the Promise Keepers Conference October 4.

Jacobson said the Bible verse he is responding to and proclaiming is 2 Chronicles, 7:14, which states: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

"The Lord spoke to me to carry the cross across the United States to tell the people that if they would turn to Him, He would heal their land," Jacobson said.

For the past eight years he has carried similar crosses in parades around northwest Minnesota, and they have weighed about 85 pounds. He made the cross for his trek to Washington out of basswood, which reduced the weight to about 50 pounds. He tries to complete 15 to 20 miles a day and one day completed 26 miles. He walks throughout the day, catches rides back to his vehicle at night and resumes the next day where he stopped walking the previous day.

Jacobson traveled down Highway 10 through downtown Minneapolis, through the state of Iowa and is currently south of Chicago, heading through Illinois toward Indiana and on toward his goal. He has been in contact with many churches on his journey as well as passersby who stop to talk and even walk or bike along. He has also been contacted by many newspapers as he makes his walk.

Promise Keepers will be a meeting of a million men October 4 in Washington, DC.

Visitors at the Elmer and Willie Brovold home on Saturday were Faye Johnson, Louise and Alice Fossum from Detroit Lakes, Barbara Swenson, Alvin Foro and Hazel Olson, Donna Sharman and Karen Fossum of Oklee. Arlan Foro and Sheryl Wilde were dinner guests at Brovolds on Thursday.

June is a good time to meet people from other states, the Gully Mall is a good place to meet people sometime people come to see what the old school looks like. On Monday, I met Mr. and Mrs. Parnell Myrum (Muriel Bjerkness) from Jacksonville, NC. They were with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Myrum of Fosston, where they had visited while here. They had also visited her brother Jim at Alexandria and brother John at Bloomington and at the Ken and Alice Bjerkness home at Gonvick. The Myrums chose this time of year to come to be present at Ken and Alice's Golden Wedding Anniversary held at the Gonvick Community Center on Saturday. Congratulations Ken and Alice.

People of Clearwater County had gone "all out" preparing for and hosting a "Clearwater County Relay for Life," a team event to fight cancer was held at the fairgrounds at Bagley on Friday evening beginning at 6 p.m. Friday and lasting until 7 a.m. Saturday morning. As two of Polk County Cancer survivors Alice Forsberg and Sanna Brovold drove over to Bagley to attend the opening ceremonies on Friday. A relay planning committee and Clearwater unit of American Cancer society besides willing helpers from all parts of the county had spent much time and effort in planning for "Clearwater County Down." Al Rasmussen was Emcee and introduced the Clearbrook American Legion and Auxiliary members of Post 256 as they marched in front of the grandstand presenting the colors and leading the first lap of "the walk for Life" walkers for Victory over cancer and continued efforts to fight the disease. The program would continue until 10 o'clock when the luminaries which were white and brown paper bags (each with sand and a white candle would be lit one white bag for each of the survivors or a brown bag in memory of each cancer victim. We were vividly reminded how many cancer survivors we are and for us to be thankful to be survivors and not victims. Also to remember to be grateful to the many who had helped us stay in this class including friends and relatives who prayed for us, doctors and nurses for their share and care and of course the ONE who permitted us to be a survivor. These would be entertainment including music all night long as the individuals or teams walked around the track in support of a cure for cancer.

Peggy Rosnow from Gully was one of the workers.

Visitors at Effie Handy home have been Mr. and Mrs. Larry Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. Marty Lovine of Eagan, Jonnie and Dave Borgen of Badger and Lyn and Ed Turenne. Lyn, Effie and Emma Nyland visited Mathilda Handy at Bemidji one day.

Among others who were there on Saturday were his sister Martha's children from Grand Rapids. They were the James Olson's, Betty and Charlotte, Alida Samson, Lois Klema and the Larry Samson family. All enjoyed the day of visiting and eating.

I was so happy to see Ron and Sonja Stella and still happier when I found out they have moved back to Minnesota from Charlottesville, VN. They are getting settled on their farm south of Trail. Even their address may be Trail. I think Gully will see them too! Welcome back Ron and Sonja!

The Ben and Edith Sorenson family members and relatives attended a reunion held at the Gully Community Center on Saturday. There was a good turn out even though one half of the original family are deceased. Ethel Rouland has the distinction of being the oldest living member in the family of six. The group felt the "highlight" of the day was celebrating Ethel's 90th Birthday which had been in May. The other two sisters and families present were Iva Rouland and Evelyn Heyum. They all enjoyed dinner and a day of visiting and much reminiscing. The three deceased members of the Sorensen family were Ted, Delmer and Virgil.

ECOSYSTEMS - PIECES OF NATURE'S PUZZLE

by Julie Martell

Age 16, Grade 1B

Lincoln High School

What is an ecosystem? Well, an ecosystem is the relationship of a community of organisms interacting with its environment. There are many different ecosystems like a river, or a bog, or maybe a swamp. There are also the large ecosystems which include the grasslands, desert, ocean and tundra. There are also the temperate forest, taiga and tropical rain forest. An ecosystem could be as small as a lake or as big as the Arctic tundra.

Now, after I have explained what an ecosystem is, I am going to write about the ecosystem that I picked. (It) is a little ecosystem in my back yard. It is an ordinary tree. There are many abiotic and biotic interactions within and around a tree. Abiotic factors are non-living factors, like water.

There is a certain cycle water goes through for a tree. Water in the tree goes up through and out into the air by transpiration. After that the water is made into clouds. Then the clouds rain and the ground absorbs the water. Last the roots absorb the water and it just keeps repeating that cycle.

Soil is another important abiotic factor. Like a tree, most plants are anchored in the soil which is also the source of water and minerals the plants require. Two other important abiotic factors for a tree are light and temperature. Light is the source of energy for my tree and almost all ecosystems. Temperature is one very important factor for organisms. Temperature changes with altitude and latitude. Organisms are adapted to survive within particular ranges.

The other kind of factors is biotic, like a food web. For a tree, there could be many different food chains. Here is one. It would start out with a tree. First the deer would eat the leaves from the tree. Instead of a tree it could eat shrubs also. There could also be mice that would eat the shrubs, or the grass. A snake would then eat the mice, and also a rabbit. A mountain lion could also eat the rabbit. Finally, these animals would die and the soil bacteria would recycle their nutrients back to the tree. That is just one example of a food chain.

Another biotic factor for a tree would be lichens. A lichen is a symbol of symbiosis between fungi and algae cells. Lichens could be fuzzy patches of blue, red, brown or green growing on trees. Lichens rank among the most unusual of all living organisms.

There are many changes in ecosystems. Some are caused by nature. A couple of them could be floods or tornadoes. Around where I live there are floods that are caused by the ditches overflowing. When the snow starts to melt, there is too much snow and ice in the ditches and they get plugged up. Then we get a flood in our yard. That can cause changes in my tree ecosystem, especially if the flood drowns or suffocates the roots and organisms in the soil. There are tornadoes around this area, but we have never had one where we live.

Other changes are caused by man. Pollution is one of the main causes of change by man. There are many people that pollute the earth and all the ecosystems everyday. One action by man that can reverse pollution and begin to save plants and animals is conservation. Conservation is the protection of animals and plants. If too many animals were killed, there would not be any ecosystems. You need plants and animals to have ecosystems.

My tree ecosystem has relationships with other little ecosystems around here. A relationship with my tree could be the forest nearby. It could also be the ditch next to the tree.

How do we protect and maintain our ecosystems? Not only should we be concerned about small ecosystems but also about the larger ones in the area as well as around the state. Well, my job to protect my tree and other trees on my property would be to keep our yard cleaned up. Or if we haven't had a lot of moisture, maybe water the tree with a hose. Those are just a couple of ideas.

There is one organization in this county that helps to conserve and protect our ecosystems. It is called the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District. This organization promotes the protection of soil and water resources. It also encourages landowners to conserve and protect our ecosystems.

There is one other organization in this area, which is called the DNR. Those letters stand for the Department of Natural Resources. They have divided Minnesota into ecosystems—both large and small. They now have an ecosystem-based management system. They are trying to show how the community, environment and economy are related.

We are beginning to realize the need to make choices based on researching the effects of these choices will have on the whole ecosystem and the ecosystems connected to it. We need to consider the effects these choices will have on the economy because our environment, our society and our economy are all connected.

Ecosystems are pieces of nature's puzzle, and you are an important part of that puzzle. We are connected to all the other humans, plants, animals, soil, water, air and minerals in our ecosystem. So instead of sitting in the house, you need to get up and do something to help conserve and protect the ecosystems in your area. Working together with other people, we can make better choices for healthy ecosystems. Remember, you are part of an ecosystem. You can make a difference.

Liquor Store Ordinance Is Given Reading

"The city council at its regular July session Tuesday evening heard the first reading of a proposed new ordinance providing for the establishment of a municipal liquor dispensary for the exclusive sale of liquor in Thief River Falls as authorized by the county option election June 9.

The ordinance, as drafted, provides for both on and off-sale and specifies that the building in which the establishment is housed may be either leased or owned outright. In charge of the dispensary will be an operator appointed by the council, the operator being authorized to employ the necessary assistants. The proposed ordinance is subject to revision at the time of its second reading."

Construction Well Under Way Of New Addition To Mercy Hospital Building

"Work on the temporary structure which will serve as an addition to Mercy hospital is now well under way and is being rushed to completion with the least possible delay, the board of trustees announced this week. When completed, it will provide twenty additional beds, with a complete service center. It was announced that equipment for the addition is of the best quality, and will be used later in the new permanent hospital building when erected."

'Flying Discs' Reported Seen Over City June 23

"Flying discs, mysterious objects which have been reported as seen traveling through the skies over forty states during the past month, have made their appearance over Thief River Falls, according to Mrs. Ethel Angell and her daughter, Mrs. Ruby Miller. They reported this week having seen two of the silvery discs moving rapidly over the city in a northerly direction on June 23, and said they were travelling close together."

Fire Marshal Has Condemned Court House Structure

"The Pennington county court house, erected more than fifty years ago and one of the landmarks of Thief River Falls, was condemned Wednesday by the state fire marshal's office, and the county board was allowed six months time to arrange for vacating the premises.

"Clarence Cherry of Detroit Lakes, deputy state fire marshal, who served the official notice on County Auditor A. M. Senstad, declared that the building is not only a fire hazard but a hazard to life and limb as well.

"He pointed out after an inspection of the premises that the wiring and plumbing are defective, that the roof leaks and that the second floor is unsafe for use as a district court room."

Crookston Studio Planned By KTRF

"Station KTRF will open late this month a part-time studio in Crookston with broadcasts still being made from the transmitter and tower at Thief River Falls, Henry K. Arneson, owner, stated today. This merely represents a facility for better and more economical handling of broadcast time for the merchants and program participants of Crookston and vicinity."

FROM THE NEW CITY

THE NEWS, HENRY W. LEE, EDITOR — JULY 15, 1897
THIEF RIVER FALLS, POLK COUNTY, MINNESOTA

The Gold Standard Policy (editorial)

"Three more victims of the gold standard policy, consisting of a well dressed man, woman and child were found near Cincinnati, Ohio, one day last week. The man and woman, unable to find work, had killed the child and thrown it into the river, and then opened the veins in their wrists and laid down on a raft of logs to die. They were found alive, but insensible, and taken to the hospital, the woman may recover. Can anyone truthfully say that such scenes as these are not properly chargeable to the infernal villains who, under the cry of honest money, doubles the burden of debt, halves the value of property, stops the wheels of industry, which always has and always will bring bankruptcy, ruin and despair in its wake, are they not properly chargeable with the death of these poor weak Christians? Well might an orator, in a recent speech, call upon the Almighty to damn such a policy and will He not in His own good time damn its advocates? We think so."

"Nothing but logs can be seen on the pond and river now.

"Jim Hill's accommodation train was over two hours later than usual Monday. The oldest inhabitant cannot recollect when this train came in on time. No wonder Jim is ashamed to advertise this line.

"Chas. G. Rapp received his commission yesterday as postmaster of the St. Hilaire postoffice. As yet Mr. Rapp is undecided as to whether he will build an extension to his building or make room in his store for the fixtures. At least he will not take the office until the 1st or 15th of next month.

"Half a dozen 'shingle weavers' came up from Minneapolis last Friday and are now working nights in the mill. Each of them had picked a nice bouquet this side of Crookston. While the train was in motion they jumped off, picked flowers and had no trouble keeping up with Jim Hill's 'lightning express'. They recommend this road very highly for pleasure seekers.

"The night crew at the mill went on duty Monday evening. The electric and arclights throughout and outside of the mill make it as safe to work by night as by day. The mill is working as smooth as greased lightning and large cuts are being turned out every 24 hours. Over three hundred men are at work on both shifts."

THANK YOU

I would like to thank Dr. Padilla, Dr. Botir, Dr. Hennrichs at Northwest Medical Center for the care I received.

THANK YOU

Would like to take this time to thank all the people of Thief River Falls for being so kind to my family during our stay in your great town. When we evacuated, we went to our daughter and son-in-law (Rhonda and Rick Kimball) in Thief River Falls. There was a total of 19 of us in their home. Neighbors brought a camper and put in the driveway. Beds, so no one had to sleep on the floor. Friends brought over so much food and baked goods we hardly did any cooking. The church gave us some clothes and toys for my small grand kids to play with. All of you people took very good care of us. A great big thank you to all of the folks in Thief River Falls and Rick and Rhonda Kimball, Jennifer and Mike.

God bless you

WHEREAS, Pennington County supports the Petition for Annexation for the following reasons:

1. The township is not in a position to provide maintenance and improvement for the roadway.
2. The City is in a better position to provide the needed maintenance and improvement for the roadway, and
3. That the annexation of this property will not affect the ability of the remainder of the Township to continue.

County Attorney Dave Olin had a few suggestions to make regarding the contract. In the last paragraph of the contract to change the words solid waste committee to full County Board. The other recommendation he had was to include in the contract for SWISS PENNCO to freeze the tipping fees for two to three years. SWISS PENNCO, Howard Person and Dave Olin will go over the contract and clean up certain areas and bring it back to the County Board at the next meeting.

Bob Kruse mentioned that when the SWISS PENNCO starts [illegible] there will be in place 15 ft. poles with screening to fence in the material when the trucks are being filled. To insure that SWISS PENNCO stays in compliance with the permit a stipulation [illegible] there will be benchmarks set if the company gets to repermit the facility. If these are not met there will be penalties to coincide with the deadlines. To be able to meet these deadlines SWISS PENNCO is asking for a payment in 1997 of $150,000.00 and $50,000.00 every year coinciding with the tipping freeze. Commissioner Naplin said with this $50,000.00 payment SWISS PENNCO will guarantee that the facility will stay cleaned up and if not the payments will not be made. Once a solid pellet market is established these payments would discontinue.

Howard Person discussed the dry sprinkler system with the County Board. This was put on hold until the other solid waste issues are resolved.

Commissioner Naplin moved, seconded by Commissioner Carlson to have the County Auditor receive quotes to permanently seal the wells in the basement of the Oakland Park Sanitarium Building. Motion unanimously carried.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
PENNINGTON COUNTY BOARD OF EQUALIZATION
June 17, 1997 - 10:00 a.m.

Pursuant to law, the Pennington County Board of Equalization met in the County Board room in the Pennington County Courthouse in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, June 17, 1997 at 10:00 a.m.

Present: Commissioners Don Jensen, Bob Carlson, Charles Naplin, Oliver Swanson, and County Auditor Ken Olson.

Absent: Commissioner Aiden Comstock.

Also present was County Assessor Adeline Olson and County Attorney Dave Olin.

The Official Oath of office was signed by the members of the Board of Equalization.

Chairman Jensen called the meeting to order and since no property owners were present, the County Assessor was called upon to give the Assessors report.

County Assessor Adeline Olson then reviewed a letter from Lowell Anderson regarding the property described as 2 acres in the NE 1/4 SE 1/4 Section 13 Highlanding Township. He had been to the Township Board of Review requesting a reduction in market value and is requesting the same from the County Board of Equalization. No action to reduce the market value was made.

The Assessor also reviewed a letter from the Minnesota Department of Revenue stating that the Railway line previously owned by Burlington Northern would be seeing a reduction in value and another letter from The Department of Revenue thanking Pennington County for allowing Carl Bruzek to participate with a team of assessment of properties hit by the springs flood.

The County Assessor then reviewed the actions that were taken at the Township and Cities Boards of Review. Adeline Olson also stated that at the State Board of Review it was determined that all residential property in the City of Thief River Falls would receive a 9% state mandated increase and residential structures in Rocksbury Township would receive a 18% increase. The sales ratio study in those two areas showed the City of Thief River Falls at 88.1% and Rocksbury Township at 64.4%. To be in compliance you need a Minnesota Department of Revenue sales ratio of at least 90%.

Moved by Commissioner Naplin, seconded by Commissioner Carlson that the real estate and personal property values as returned by the Local Board of Review and submitted by the County Assessor be accepted and approved. Motion unanimously carried.

Moved by Commissioner Carlson, seconded by Commissioner Naplin to adjourn. Motion carried.

School board to accept letters of application

Vacancy on board to be filled by appointment

School District 564 board of directors accepted the resignation of another of its members and set the groundwork for replacing the two vacant seats on the board. They also learned that another board member does not plan to run for re-election in November.

Monday night the board accepted the resignation of Dennis Kiesow who has been a member of the board for over 10 years. Kiesow recently retired from the police force to accept a position with Farmers Home Mutual Insurance in Bloomington as a claims investigator.

The board accepted Kiesow's resignation with thanks for his many years of service.

Kiesow is the second board member this summer to resign from the board. Earlier, Larry Belmont resigned when he moved to another community.

During discussion of how to fill the vacancies, Hank Hallstrom announced that he did not intend to run for re-election in November.

Options discussed included appointing someone to fill both vacancies, but with Belmont's position on the board coming up for election in November it was decided to leave that position open.

The board eventually decided to fill the one and one-half years remaining in Kiesow's term by appointing someone. It is hoped that this will generate more interest because it will be for a short term.

The school district will soon be advertising for the position. According to the advertisement, the board will accept letters of application through the close of business on Thursday, July 31, 1997. It is also suggested that the applicant include a statement as to why he/she is interested in holding the position and any relevant information which he/she thinks qualifies him/her for the position. The applicant must be a resident of the Thief River Falls public School District 564, at least 21 years of age and a citizen of the United States.

■ Carol Hile presented the year end report for the volunteer program in the district. Hile recently resigned from her position as volunteer coordinator and is generally credited as the individual who got the program started in the district. She presented a glowing report on the volunteer program. In all, 796 volunteers donated over 13,030 hours. She said the restructure of the volunteer program, which included home volunteer coordinators at each school, has worked out well. Each school, she said, seemed to take more ownership in the program. She said she heard wonderful comments from the staff about the coordinators and volunteers.

In her report, Hile broke down hours and volunteers by school and in each school by event. At Challenger Elementary school 360 volunteers donated 6,916.5 hours. At Franklin Middle school 282 volunteers donated 3,262.25 hours. At Lincoln High school 91 volunteers donated 1,408 hours.

■ Glenn Chisholm said Franklin Middle school was very close to filling all of its vacant positions. Chisholm said he was excited about it because with one exception, they got every person they wanted. He said he was real happy and pleased with the candidates they hired. In all, the school will have nine different "situations" than what they had last year.

Chisholm also reported that they were within an "eyelash" of completing the master schedule at Franklin. He thanked Mary Almquist for her assistance and was pleased with the potential outcome. One expected outcome of the new master schedule will be to allow teachers to go from six sections to five.

Chisholm also reported that the district is in good condition regarding the grad rule. He said the district will have had 30 individuals go through phase II training by fall. He

City council rejects fuel farm bids, readvertises

Bids for relocation of the fuel farm at the Regional Airport were rejected Tuesday night by the Thief River Falls City Council.

When bids were opened a couple of weeks ago, there were only three bids and the lowest bid was $499,000, considerably higher than the engineer's estimate of $356,000.

Tuesday night, Ron Lindberg, public works director, recommended that the council reject the bids, readvertise and open bids again on August 5. By eliminating some elements of the project or changing some of the elements of the project, he said he believes the city could cut $100,000 to $150,000 from at least one of the bids. One option under study is replacing a fuel cabinet for a fuel truck. Because of regulations, a fuel cabinet is not so attractive anymore. Because of those regulations, a fuel truck, however, could not be stored inside. That poses some difficulties during winter months in Northwest Minnesota.

A motion to reject the bids and readvertise was approved.

■ Thief River Falls Police Investigator Dennis Kiesow has retired. Kiesow has been with the police department in Thief River Falls for over 26 years. Tuesday night, his resignation was accepted. A letter of appreciation for his years of service was also approved.

■ Representatives of the Parks and Recreation committee announced Tuesday night that they are considering a permanent outdoor hockey arena at Northrop park. Council representative Dave Carlson said they are considering putting in a slab in Northrop park along with boards and glass. Plans have not been finalized but during the summer it could be used for tennis or as a in-line skating rink. Carlson said at this point they are looking for public input into the project proposal.

■ The city council has approved a parade permit for the Women of Today. The Women of Today were asked to conduct a small parade for youngsters. The parade would be held on two blocks of city streets on July 26 during Crazy Day in Thief River Falls. Details of the event are still being worked out.

■ The council has approved a permit for the consumption of alcoholic beverages outside the premises of Best Western and Black Cat Sport Bar during Western Days, August 8 and 9, in Thief River Falls. The businesses have agreed to the special fencing and control measures required by the city ordinance regulating such events.

■ The council approved a utilities committee recommendation to accept the bid of Moorhead Construction for modifications to Wastewater Treatment pond flow control manholes. Arlo Rude, superintendent of utilities, explained that as a project, it was a precursor to raising the dikes which will take place next year. The low bid was for $69,991.

In other business, the council: approved a permit to have beer in Oakland Park for Arctic Cat on August 23 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.; approved the purchase of a one-ton diesel truck considered government surplus equipment from the Department of Natural Resources in Grand Rapids.

Norma Hanson is elected treasurer of the ADA/DC

Norma Hanson of Goodridge was elected treasurer of the American Dairy Association/Dairy Council (ADA/DC) of the Upper Midwest at the annual meeting July 10 in St. Paul.

ADA/DC of the Upper Midwest is a non-profit organization funded by dairy farmers in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota to boost sales and consumption of milk, cheese, butter and other dairy products through marketing, nutrition education and research programs.

Other officers are Lyle Tjosaas, Kasson, chairman; Jerry Messer, Richardton, ND, vice chairman; and Donna Sharp, Bath, SD, secretary. Executive committee members are Glen Schroeder, Caledonia; Jim Rosmond, Howard Lake; and Allen Schroeder, Fergus Falls.

Sharp, Messer, Tjosaas, Glen Schroeder and Stan Diers of Howard Lake were elected to serve on the UDIA board from the Upper Midwest.

New members seated on the board were Kay Henniger, Carlton; Mel Kunstleben, Paynesville; Cindy Langer, Faribault; and Mary McGuigan, Spearfish, SD.

Livestock idemnity program deadline set

Deadline of Friday, July 25 has been set for the Livestock Indemnity Program offered through the federal Farm Service Agency for livestock losses caused by severe winter weather.

The program is available in all northwestern Minnesota counties which received federal disaster declaration earlier this spring. These include Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake, Kittson, Roseau, Polk and others.

Livestock producers who experienced severe losses may apply for assistance at their local FSA office. Applications will be accepted through July 25. Since there will be a specific amount of money authorized for the program, FSA will be unable to accept applications after that sign-up deadline.

Eligible livestock includes dairy and beef cattle, sheep, goats, swine, poultry, buffalo and beefalo and horses used for food or in the production of food. To be eligible, producers will have to have suffered a loss in excess of the normal mortality rate for the type of livestock.

The losses of livestock must be reasonably related to the severe weather conditions of the winter and spring. Generally the eligible conditions will include losses due to freezing, flooding and severe wind.

Producers must provide documentation to substantiate their losses when applying for the Livestock Indemnity Program. Documentation may include rendering company receipts, National Guard certification of removal, veterinary records, loan records, farm management records or third party verification in the absence of the other verification.

The documentation must substantiate the beginning number of livestock and the number of head lost. Producers should make every effort to provide adequate documentation on their initial visit to the FSA office. Advance payments equal to 33 percent of the approved payments will be available to producers shortly after the application is approved.

If the total eligible losses nationwide exceed the $50 million cap for the program, the total payments will be factored down for all producers. For answers to further questions about the program, call the county FSA office, but be sure to act in advance of the July 25 deadline.

Advise farmers to register their weather losses

Farmers who sustained damages due to the ice storm or flood this spring are advised by the Area Ag Information Center Inc. in Thief River Falls to register their losses with FEMA as soon as possible.

The advice is given following a meeting of center personnel with Pennington County Sheriff Gerald Moe and James Mason of FEMA on July 11.

Even farmers who do not believe they qualify for assistance under existing programs are advised to register their losses prior to the August 6 deadline because new disaster relief programs may be developed in the near future which would change the assistance available.

Being registered with the agency would make farmers eligible to apply for new programs, while those who do not apply by the deadline will lose their eligibility. To register call toll-free 1-800-462-9029.

Husband of former TRF resident writes book published at age 90

Author at age 90 is William Owen Sr., who is married to Evelyn Larson, formerly of Thief River Falls. They were in Thief River Falls recently to visit her relatives. Owen's book "There Is No Such Thing As A Poor American" was published recently by Vantage Press in New York City.

William J. Owen Sr., husband of Evelyn Larson, formerly of Thief River Falls, wasn't content to write articles for newspapers. He wanted to write a book about his life. Just a few months ago it was published by Vantage Press, Inc., in New York City.

There Is No Such Thing As A Poor American is the result of that effort, chronicling his life and experiences from birth into a coal mining family in Ohio through military service and a variety of jobs prior to retirement. Considering that Owen is 90 years old this year, the effort is especially noteworthy.

"When I finally decided to write the book a couple of years ago, I took a creative writing course and bought a word processor," he told The Times in a brief interview while in Thief River Falls with his wife, visiting her relatives. The book is available locally through Falls Book Company.

He drew from detailed notes he had kept over the years and his own memories for the book's material. According to the publisher, Owen's book "tells the story of a young man born and reared in a small town in Ohio, where his father was engaged in the coal-mining business.

"Hard times begin for him when the Depression costs him a good job building automobiles in Detroit. Later he leaves a civil service job at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base to enlist in the U.S. Air Force during World War II to serve aboard a ship in the Far Eastern Pacific.

"Following the war, he worked for a time in the Philippines, but eventually returned home to his wife and the U.S., where he built up a highly successful career in the cemetery business. Though hard times and good, however, he never lost his belief that it is a blessing to be living in the United States of America, where there is always hope.

"A native of Ohio, William J. Owen Sr. was born in 1907 in a coal-mining family. He attended several universities and held a variety of jobs before his retirement, as detailed in There Is No Such Thing As A Poor American. He has also written extensively for newspapers. He and his wife, Evelyn, have three grown children."

While in the area, the Owens stayed with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lois Larson (the widow of Evelyn's brother Lowell), and visited her twin sister Beatrice Boyum of Greenbush and her brother Orville Larson of Holt.

All Nations Cultural Festival a first class act

Dressed in bright costumes of red, green and blue, Casa Do Minho performed the traditional dances of Portugal at the All Nations Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire on Sunday. Due to intermittent rains, the dance floor was in less than ideal conditions, but that didn't stop these dancers from making an excellent presentation.

To the steady beat of the Native American drum, the Summer Bear Dance Troupe performed a number of dances including this amazing hoop dance at the All Nations Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire on Saturday.

by Kathi Carlson
Times Reporter

After waiting as long as possible for the weather conditions to improve, it was with a "no rest for the weary" attitude that I went to St. Hilaire on Saturday for the All Nations Cultural Festival to take pictures. Within minutes of my arrival, however, I found something special that I've been missing all these years.

In the park that I didn't know existed, I found wonderful entertainment, lots of people to visit with and a volunteer effort that deserves a hearty pat on the back.

Threatening clouds and occasional rain had promoter Ed Leeper pacing, but no one else seemed to mind. Kids danced in the rain and followed KVLY weatherman Tom Szymanski around like he was the pied piper. Crafters added tarps to the sides of their canopies, and the spectators who weren't under the protection of the huge tents popped up their umbrellas. The performers made adjustments, too, by exchanging time slots or dancing on the covered stage instead of the dance floor in front of it.

The variety of performers was nothing short of outstanding.

The Caribbean Connection got the audience up and on the dance floor with an energetic participation song. Licamntay, a group of South American singers and musicians, played different and unusual instruments and sang songs from several South American countries. The Summer Bear Dance Troupe performed Native American dances. Their jingles jangled to the primitive drum beat, and they concluded their program with a much decorated young man executing a mystifying hoop dance. A German group, Die Heimatquelle, performed as did Serenata Latina, an ensemble of Mexican musicians and vocalists.

Particularly impressive were the Spanish Folk Dancers, ten or so young women in brightly flounced dresses. Waiting for a photo opportunity, I visited with their promoter. He pointed out an eleven-year-old dancer who had already danced for two years. As the talented girl soloed, he commented in an admiring voice, "She will be a star." Another young dancer in the group was in a car accident last year and needs surgery to repair a broken leg that didn't heal properly. She postponed the operation to dance at the festival and in Winnipeg's Folklorama. Her injury was obvious when she walked, and yet, she danced to the lively Spanish music with ease.

The evening concluded with an old time dance to the music of H & V Melodies. To see people from two to 72 doing the "chicken" dance was quite memorable.

While not obligated, I returned to St. Hilaire on Sunday just for the fun of it. While the weather was still less than ideal, the crowd was considerably larger, and the entertainment was, once again, outstanding.

Aid-Ri, an Irish trio, could not only sing but delivered some very humorous Irish jokes. Casa Do Minho, vividly costumed Portuguese dancers, gave an extraordinary performance on a soggy, less-than-ideal dance surface. The group Antichi sang the music of Italy.

Everyone thought the Scottish Heather Belles Pipe Band was finished as they left the dance floor. Instead, they marched in formation up onto the stage where they completed their program. Because of the light rain, they didn't want their wool kilts to be shorter at their next engagement!

Along with the stage entertainment, there was an assortment of arts and crafts, a clown that painted faces and walked about amusing the children, and a fur trade encampment. The smell of the hamburger grill and fried onions permeated the air, drawing many to the variety of concession stands.

The All Nations Cultural Festival is an immense undertaking for a town of less than 300 people, and many, many volunteers are needed to accomplish it.

Everything begins with a committee. Members of the committee are Evelyn and Don Treitline, Jill Altendorf, David and Renee Rasmussen, Vicki and Duane Sebenaler, Don Scott, Bev and Larry Kruse and Bernard Huot.

Visiting with Evelyn Treitline, I learned that the committee's goal is to provide wholesome entertainment that can be enjoyed by families and people of all ages.

The festival is a year-round project. Once the committee has the park cleaned up and the bills paid, it will have about a month to catch its wind before starting to plan next year's event.

Provided with a list of available entertainment, the committee makes its selections. Some of the groups must be secured up to a year in advance. Because Winnipeg has become such a cultural melting pot, many of the musicians and dancers come from there. Others come from various parts of the world.

There are also sponsors to secure, crafters and concessionaires to contact and, of course, volunteers to recruit. Many of the committee members took time off from work and some even scheduled their entire vacations around the event.

The festival is advertised west into Montana, south to Nebraska, east to Wisconsin and north throughout Canada using flyers, posters, newspaper and radio advertising and a limited amount of television advertising. One year an 83-year-old lady, who—at that time—traveled continuously in a small motor home, heard about the event while in Wisconsin and made her way to St. Hilaire where she "had a ball."

The money taken in at the festival is used to pay the bills and what's left is put back into the festival. This year, new tents were purchased. Eventually, the committee would like to build a permanent dance floor, and its ultimate dream is to construct a pavilion.

Anyone who was at the festival probably wonders why I didn't mention the Fialka Ukrainian Dance Ensemble, the crowd favorite. Quite simply, I missed them both days. While the committee strives to provide different entertainment each year, they also ask favorites to return. The Ukrainian dancers will return next year to the All Nations Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire on July 11 and 12. I'll be there, too—with or without a photo assignment!

Before the Spanish Dancers performed at the All Nations Cultural Festival on Saturday, their promoter instructed the sound people to turn up the volume as "they need to feel the music."

Helen Brandt wins State Eagles Hall of Fame award

Helen Brandt was chosen as the recipient of the Minnesota State Eagles Hall of Fame award at the state Eagles Convention. This award is presented to one person each year and is presented at the Eagles Auxiliary Convention.

The recipient of the award must be nominated by letter by a fellow auxiliary member. According to guidelines set by a committee, the letter must describe why the nominee is deserving of the award without any mention of her identity nor that of the letter's author. Only after the committee has made a selection is made are the names revealed.

Helen was not aware that she had been nominated and was surprised when given the award at the auxiliary's indoor picnic held recently.

Last April, Helen was presented the auxiliary's Sister Eagle Award at the spring banquet. State Eagles Auxiliary President attended the banquet and made the presentation.

Kay Nelson nominated Helen for both awards. Kay has been inspired by Helen and feels that she represents what Eagles Auxiliary stands for. In her nominating letter Kay wrote, "She is kind to everyone and truly is the epitome of our oath which states, 'I will never do anything by word or act that will make a sister unhappy.'"

Annual Norwegian language worship services at Rodnes

The annual Norwegian language worship services at Rodnes Lutheran Church, rural Erskine, will be held on July 20 at the church in Woodside township. Conducting the services will be Pastor Steven Trandem of Dilworth, now serving as an interim pastor in Grand Rapids.

Pastor Trandem's roots grow deeply at Rodnes church where his great-grandparents were charter members in 1885, his grandparents (Johan and Ida Ramberg Trandem) were lifelong members, and where his father (Leon Trandem of Erskine) was baptized and confirmed as were his brothers and sisters. Pastor Trandem was later baptized in this 112-year-old church.

Kenneth Hviding, formerly a member of Rodnes church, and now living in Crookston and whose father served as Klokker (service leader) at Rodnes for more than 25 years, will open and close the services with prayer. The worship will follow the traditional Norwegian liturgy and will be entirely in the Norwegian language. Those in attendance will be given printed bulletins to follow. Rodnes organist, Pat Narum Dorr, and Rayome Koehler, pianist, will provide the liturgical music.

Special music by the Habbestad Family singers, direct from Norway will begin early at 10 a.m. with worship services beginning at 10:30 a.m. Also featured as musical participants for the services will be Beatrice Severson Hole of Eden Prairie, and her popular instrument from older days, the Psalmodikon. Beatrice is a former Rodnes church member and was confirmed and married at the church. She has traveled around the United States and world presenting music on her old-country stringed instrument. Grace Bertils Lee of Fosston, who was confirmed at Rodnes Church has been asked to return to her home church to sing, as has Melford Roragen of Fertile (Little Norway Church) who has sung at the services for many years. Sheldon and Rita Trandem of Crookston will serve as ushers for the services and offering. Sheldon is a cousin of Pastor Trandem and former Rodnes member. Pastor Trandem's sermon is entitled, "Hvor Meget Mere?" (How much more?)

A dinner with a free-will offering will be served by the Rodnes WELCA immediately following the worship services.

FOREVER & ALWAYS

I just saw him on Sunday
He was laughing & talking to me
He was so happy with life
He loved his family
He wasn't bad, he never hurt any one. My uncle is dead
His three loving daughters need his fatherly love.
His loving wife needs him, for she loves him so
We all need him
His happy face
His big smirk. His guilty grin
He was the life of the party

You're lying.
The world's lying.
He is not gone forever
I realize now that he isn't
He is with me every day
He sees me all the time
For he is with me, in my heart always
He is in my whole family's heart
He is with all of us

Forever & always!

In loving memory of Mark Halvorson

ON MY MIND

Kim Chadwick-Quade

It's Parade Time!

Everyone loves a parade. It's even more fun when you're in it!

Children in the Thief River Falls area will get an opportunity to be in a parade of their own on Saturday, July 26. Sponsored by the Thief River Falls Women of Today, in conjunction with Crazy Days, it's called the Krazy Kiddie Parade. It begins with line up at 9:45 a.m. July 26 at the Lincoln High School parking lot, and at 10 a.m. will march north on Knight Avenue to the gazebo at Floyd B. Olson Park.

Decorate your wagon or bike and dress in your favorite costume. Invite grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, friends and neighbors to watch and clap from the curb. Don't forget the camcorder and camera. It's not every day you get a chance to be in a parade.

The kiddie parade is a new activity (at least since I've been here) and hopefully we can continue the event yearly. I know my son looks forward to the annual pet and doll parade in Detroit Lakes. We brainstorm throughout the year to think of a fun idea for a kid size summer parade "float."

Last year's Batmobile was our best attempt. I shouldn't say "our" because I had absolutely nothing to do with the construction, but to stand around and give pointers. My husband patiently cut the cardboard, spray painted it and affixed it to the wagon. He even created a special Batman logo. Our then 5-year-old son dressed in his Batman pajamas, wore a mask and rode regally in his wagon-turned-Batmobile. Even though no prizes were awarded, we were proud of our entry.

The very first year our son was only two years old, but thinking a parade would be fun I dressed him and his cousin in firemen outfits - one in the wagon and one walking behind a plastic push fire engine. The "chief" (mom) sweltered in a yellow rain slicker while the boys donned red pants, white shirts and fire helmets. I ended up carrying one child while pulling a wagon and hauling a toy fire engine.

The next year we rounded up a couple of other kids and had a horse theme. The kids' costumes were relatively easy: cowboy hats and boots and a Western shirt. Making a wagon into a horse was another story. My sister and I spent an entire evening on this "horse" constructed mostly from paper garbage bags. His mane was an old mop head, seashells passed as eyes, and some old twine doubled as his tail. His head and neck were fashioned around the wagon handle and had a severe case of droopitis. He was definitely put out to pasture after that parade.

Another year we went with a beach theme decorating the wagon with blue crepe paper to simulate water. Our son sat in the wagon looking cool in his swimsuit, sunglasses and swim tube.

Part of the fun is watching all the other children dressed in their costumes. One large family gathered all the cousins and paraded as 101 Dalmatians and another year as sunflowers.

It's a fun event to plan for and participate in. The kids are proud and the parents are proud. Everyone loves a parade. It's even more fun when you're in it!

Tri-Valley Family Services of EGF asks for help from other communities

As summer approaches the halfway point, the Tri-Valley Family Service Center in East Grand Forks is reaching out with some urgency and asking for community help as they enroll families in Head Start for the 1997-98 school year.

Laura Johnson, with Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, says they expect new families to be eligible for services this year and need to "spread the word." Johnson says they are also looking for families displaced by the flood who had preschoolers that began last year. "We are very concerned. We have been able to find only 50% of the families who enrolled their children last year, and it has been very difficult to reach new families who have not used our preschool programs before."

To receive Head Start services, families must be income eligible. Johnson urges families to contact the Tri-Valley Head Start Program in East Grand Forks at 773-8452 or toll free 1-888-773-8486, or stop by the East Grand Forks Family Service Center for more information.

Crookston woman finalist in national Beef Cook-Off

Have you ever thought of entering a cooking contest? Becky Rude of Crookston did, and on her first try, was named one of 15 national finalists who will compete in the 1997 National Beef Cook-Off.

Rude's recipe for Grilled Steaks with Peppery Peach Salsa gives grilled steak a modern twist by topping beef top loin steaks with a fruity salsa made of bell pepper, peach preserves, green onion, jalapenos, lemon, garlic and ginger.

The recipe won first place in the Minnesota Beef Cook-Off before it was chosen as a national finalist. A nutrition instructor at the University of North Dakota and mother of four, 43-year-old Rude knows the importance of making healthy meals that are also quick. Her recipe takes only 35 minutes to prepare.

The 1997 National Beef Cook-Off will take place September 18-20 in Tampa, FL. The 15 finalists will compete for $45,000 in cash prizes, including $25,000 for the recipe named "Best of Beef." Corporate sponsor Frigidaire will present an electric or gas range, refrigerator and dishwasher to the first place winner and appliances to second, third and two honorable mention winners. The recipes will be judged by prominent food professionals for taste, ease of preparation and family appeal.

The National Beef Cook-Off, sponsored by the American National CattleWomen, Inc., in cooperation with the National Cattlemen's Beef Association and the Beef Board, is a biennial cooking contest designed to promote convenient and delicious beef recipes. This year's event will be hosted by the Florida CattleWomen.

For copies of all 15 finalist recipes, visit www.cowtown.org or www.beef.org/ancw or write "National Beef Cook-Off Finalist Recipes," 444 N. Michigan Avenue, Dept. B, Chicago, IL 60611.

TIMES FOR TODDLERS

ACTIVITIES

Deep Sea Numbers

Large metal washers make wonderful "treasures" for wading pool divers. Purchase a supply at your local hardware store. The two-inch ones are the perfect size. Use a permanent marker to mark each one with a different number or number of dots. Scatter the washers on the bottom of your wading pool and let your children take turns reaching into the water to retrieve them. Work together to identify the numbers or count the dots.

PARENTING TIPS

Say Something Positive

"How many times do I have to tell you not to...?"

"Don't do that! You're going to spill!"

"Now look what you have done!"

Sound familiar? Do you find yourself saying some of these negative statements?

As with most things in life, we have two choices. We can choose to be positive and build up, or we can be negative and tear down. Telling children over and over that they can't makes them believe that they can't. We need to break the pattern. We can accentuate the positive. Find something good to say, no matter how hard.

Instead of "Don't spill your milk" say "Hold your glass with two hands." Instead of "Don't run in the house" say "Please walk in the house." Remember to compliment your child as soon as he/she does what you have asked him/her to do. Compliments will go a long way in making you and your child feel good. Young children naturally want to please their parents. Once they learn the positive, then they will know what to do to gain your approval.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Tell your child what you want him/her to do. Be specific: words like "behave" and "be good" may be too vague and they may not know what you mean. "Walk slowly" or "Hold my hand" is easier for your child to understand.

Q&A SOCIAL SECURITY

Provided by the Social Security District Office in Grand Forks, ND

Recently, a change to the Social Security payment date was introduced. Individuals filing for benefits from May, 1997, and afterwards will usually receive their Social Security checks on the second, third or fourth Wednesday of the month.

Q. I already get Social Security and have done so for a long time. Will my check date change?

A. No, your check date will not change. People who currently get Social Security will continue to receive their benefits on the third of the month. The same is true for people who begin receiving both Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits. For them, Social Security benefits will be paid on the third of the month and SSI on the first of the month.

Q. What will the check receipt date be based on?

A. Exceptions will exist but, generally the day in the month you receive your benefit depends on the birth day of the person on whose record you receive benefits. For example, if you receive benefits as a retired or disabled worker, your benefit will be determined by your birth date. If you receive benefits as a spouse, your benefit payment day will be determined by your spouse's birth date.

Q. May I change my benefit payment date?

A. No. Social Security requires new beneficiaires to receive benefits on the Wednesday indicated by the birth date. The reason is to help balance the number of beneficiaries who receive benefits on the second, third or fourth Wednesday.

Q. Will my wife and I get checks at the same time?

A. Let's assume your birthday is on the 15th of the month and your wife's is on the 4th of the month. Your benefit payment will be the third Wednesday. If your wife receives a spouse's benefit, her payment will also be the third Wednesday. But if she gets benefits on her own work record, she'll receive her benefit on the second Wednesday. This will be true even if she receives partial benefits on your earnings record.

Housing needs survey sent in east Pennington

Residents of the east Pennington county townships of Deer Park, Hickory, Highlanding, Mayfield, Reiner and Star are being sent survey forms which will be used to establish a basis for a grant application for a housing rehabilitation program.

Pennington county has contracted with Northwest Multi-County HRA to write a grant proposal for the program. Assistance would be in the form of low interest loan and grant combinations with loan repayments to assist other homeowners.

Eligible repairs would be expected to include electrical, plumbing and heating updates; well, septic tank and drain field improvements; roofing, siding, window and door replacement; insulation; foundation repair; and additions if an overcrowding condition exists.

Also being considered is a homebuyer assistance program which would help residents whose homes are not suitable for rehabilitation to purchase a different house.

Residents are encouraged to complete and return the survey right away. A high return rate is considered important to success of the grant request. Forms must be completed in their entirety, including the question on income. Responses will be kept confidential.

As an incentive to return the survey, Red Lake Electric Cooperative has donated a $100 credit to be applied to the electric bill of one of the respondents. To enter the drawing, complete the last page of the completed survey and return the survey in the envelope provided. Names will be removed from the survey forms when received to assure confidentiality.

Residents of any of the six townships who have not received a survey by July 15 are asked to call 218-637-2435 and one will be sent. Survey forms are to be returned by July 22.

Kidney Foundation provides service

Since the Kidney Foundation of Thief River Falls has been conducting its independent program of service, it has donated approximately $118,500 to assist area people who are affected by kidney disease.

The foundation has recently undertaken its annual solicitation of funds to support its services in Pennington, Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Red Lake and Lake of the Woods counties.

A community auction was conducted to provide funds for a number of years, but was discontinued some years ago for a number of reasons. In place of the auction, letters seeking support are sent to business places and organizations and a raffle is conducted. The letters went into the mail recently.

In addition to the raffle proceeds and donations received from business and organizations some donors have considered the foundation an appropriate recipient of memorials.

Raffle prizes again this year are a hand-painted porcelain doll from Victoria House; a fishing trip for four on Lake of the Woods, donated by Duane Glass; or $100 in cash.

To make a contribution or purchase raffle tickets, contact Marilyn Winters at 681-7268 or send a check to the Kidney Foundation of Thief River Falls, P.O. Box 222, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. Tickets are also available from other board members, including Bob Bergan, Ruth Nepper, Rick Erickson, Cheryl Hinschberger and Duane Glass.

Persons in the above listed counties who have kidney disease and are in need of assistance are invited to contact any of the board members. There are no paid positions on the board which has "People Helping People" as its theme.

Forage Council holds "hay-day" in TRF July 21

On Monday, July 21, at 2 p.m. a "hay-day" event is going to take place a half mile west of Anderson Power on highway 1 in Thief River Falls. The forage council of Northwest Minnesota and the University of Minnesota Extension Service are organizing the event. Refreshments will be available, sponsored by Anderson Power. All interested in hay production are invited to attend.

The afternoon will start with a quick review of the season and pointers for good hay production practices by Dr. G. Marx of the Northwest Experiment Station. Measurements of hay quality, marketing hay via the internet, the risk of alfalfa winter injury due to fall cutting and how to predict the risk will be discussed briefly by Ray Thompson, Marshall County Extension Educator.

Following the speakers will be a cutting demonstration. Four different pieces of machinery will be used. The alfalfa will be cut with a swather, regular mower, sickle mower conditioner, and a mower conditioner. While the cutting takes place Cecil Anderson, forage council board member, will discuss the differences between the way the cutting takes place and what effect this may have on hay production. After the hay is baled, samples will be taken from the alfalfa hay which was cut with the different pieces of equipment. This information will be provided to those attending the demonstration and other interested persons.

Alfalfa production is a viable option for many producers in our area. Price of hay is determined by supply and demand but quality remains the main factor of the price. Obtaining the highest quality hay will help producers to reach the highest market value for their crop. Producers are encouraged to take part in this educational event which is free to the public.

SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

...If You Think You're Dumb...

I am one of those computer owners who pretends to know something about their computers, but I really don't know a thing. In fact, I am now taking a class to learn something about using this powerful machine I have. Actually, to tell the truth, sometimes I think that instead of me running the computer, the computer is really running me.

Well, evidently I am not alone in my lack of computer knowledge. Following are some partial excerpts from a Wall Street Journal article written by Jim Carlton that tell about some of the problems facing the technicians who answer the "trouble" telephone lines for computer companies. The stories make me feel better, telling me that others are equally computer illiterate, perhaps even more so than I.

If you are computer user, I think you may be able to relate to these problems. If you are not a computer user, just consider these a few lessons in what problems you should probably not call the technical support number about.

- One computer company is considering changing the command "Press 'Any' Key" to "Press 'Return' Key" because of the flood of calls asking where the "Any" key is.
- A technical support person had a caller complaining that her mouse was hard to control with the dust cover on. The cover turned out to be in the plastic bag the mouse was packaged in.
- Another technician received a call from a man complaining that the system wouldn't read word processing files form his old floppy diskettes. After trouble-shooting for magnets and heat failed to diagnose the problem, it was found that the customer put labels on his diskettes, then rolled them into the typewriter to type the titles on the labels.
- A customer was asked by a technician to send him a copy of her defective diskettes. A few days later a letter arrived from the customer, along with photocopied copies of the floppies.
- A technician advised his customer to put his troubled floppy disk back in the drive and close the door. The customer asked the tech to hold on, and was heard putting the phone down, getting up and walking across the room to close the door.
- Another customer called to say he couldn't get his computer to FAX anything. After 40 minutes of trouble-shooting, the technician discovered the man was trying to FAX a piece of paper by holding it in front of the monitor screen and hitting the "send" key.
- A customer called to complain that his keyboard no longer worked. He had cleaned it by filling up his tub with soap and water and soaking the keyboard for a day, then removing all the keys and washing them individually.
- A technician revived a call from a customer who was enraged because his computer had told him he was "bad and an invalid." The technician patiently explained that at the computer's "bad command" and "invalid" response shouldn't be taken personally.
- An exasperated caller to a support technician couldn't get her new computer to turn on. After ensuring that the computer was plugged in, the technician asked her what happened when she pushed the power button. Her respond, "I pushed and pushed on this foot pedal and nothing happens." The "foot pedal" turned out to be the computer's mouse.
- Another customer called technical support to say her brand new computer wouldn't work. She said she unpacked the unit, plugged it in, and sat there for 20 minutes waiting for something to happen. When asked what happened when she pressed the power switch, she said, "What power switch?"
- You'll like the following true story:

Caller: "Hello, is this tech support?"
Tech: "Yes, it is. How may I help you?"
Caller: "The cup holder on my computer is broke and I am within my warranty period. How do I go about getting that fixed?"
Tech: "I'm sorry, but did you say a cup holder?"
Caller: "Yes, it's attached to the front of my computer."
Tech: "Please excuse me if I seem a bit stumped, but it's because I am. Did you receive this as part of a promotional, at a trade show? How did you get this cup holder? Does it have any trademark on it?"
Caller: "It came with my computer. I don't know anything about a promotional. It just has 4X on it."

At this point the tech representative had to mute the caller because he couldn't stand it. The caller had been using the load drawer of the CD-ROM drive as a cup holder and snapped it off the drive!

So - next time you computer needs have to call your technical support person, don't feel dumb about it - just be glad you weren't one of the people who made the preceding phone calls.

ASK YOUR LOCKSMITH
Questions And Answers

Q I have five locks on my house with five different keys. I would like them changed and keyed alike. Is that possible?

A Yes. Your professional locksmith can key locks alike if they are the same manufacturer's brand. If they are not the same brand, there is a possibility that they may still be keyed alike if a key blank can be found that will enter into all the locks. It is not the best way to accomplish the task, but it will sometimes work. The proper way is to replace the one or two locks that are not the same and then use the original manufacturer's key blanks in the lock.

Chaput, Thieves shut out Fertile on two hits, 7-0

Aaron Chaput carried a no-hitter into the seventh inning, then settled for a two-hit shutout Sunday afternoon as Thief River Falls beat host Fertile 7-0 in amateur baseball.

First hit off Chaput was a one-out single in the third inning by Mike Norland.

Thief River Falls provided Chaput with all the offense he would need in the top of the first inning on a single by Jason Kempert, a triple by Steve Burslie and a single by Mitch Brunstein.

A double by Sean Husek and a single by Nick Chodo made it 3-0 in the second inning.

Blaise Larson homered in the third and Brunstein's sacrifice fly plated Kempert, who had singled, in the fifth.

Final Thief River Falls runs came in the seventh on a home run by Chodo and an RBI double by Larson.

The win boosted the Thieves' record to 8-6. They are scheduled to play tonight (Wednesday) in Crookston and Sunday in Dilworth before finishing up the regular season Tuesday at Roseau.

VFW is weathered out again Monday

Wet grounds forced another Irv Wilson Field postponement for the Thief River Falls VFW baseball team Monday – this time against Fergus Falls.

It was the fourth time in their last five scheduled starts the Rick Osthy-coached 16-year-olds were weathered out of a home field doubleheader.

Upcoming playoffs create problems in rescheduling. Thief River Falls, 6-10, is scheduled to play at Bemidji Thursday and at home against East Grand Forks Monday before playing host to the VFW District 9 tournament July 25-28.

Sports Briefs

Area coaching updates:

■ Thief River Falls is still searching for two fall sports head coaches – volleyball and girls swimming.

■ Bob Bjorklund, the Fergus Falls boys head high school basketball coach the past 17 years, has stepped down to become the men's head basketball coach and assistant athletic director at Bethel College, an MIAC school in St. Paul. Under Bjorklund, the Otters made Minnesota Class AA state-tournament trips in 1984, 1985 and 1990. His 1996-97 team went 18-7.

■ Dave Balfour, who resigned as head high school hockey coach at Detroit Lakes this spring, had a change of heart concerning the decision and elected to apply to be re-hired. He was. A Fergus Falls High School and Bemidji State University graduate, Balfour has guided the Lakers to a 68-45-3 record over the past five years including Class A state tournament berths in 1995 and 1996.

Sportsman Club will meet Thursday night

Pennington County Sportsman Club membership meeting will be held Thursday, July 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the club house.

Due to road construction, best route to the club is to go five miles north on Highway 32, one mile east and then two miles south to the lot ricade.

A high throw sailed over the head of Thief River Falls catcher Chanc Kaefe as Roseau runner Brad Zoallai completed his slide across the plate in the fourth inning of Thursday's amateur baseball game played at Irv Wilson Field. Zoeller scored from third on the throwing error off an infield ground ball. The Royals won the game 20-0.

TRF is 0-3 at Park Rapids

Sebeka, Fargo and Park Rapids handed Thief River Falls losses at the Park Rapids Invitational American Legion baseball tournament played over the weekend.

Post 117 struggling through a 13-2 Friday night loss to Sebeka, then turned in game performances while losing Saturday decisions to Fargo 9-6 and Park Rapids 10-7.

Thief River Falls, 3-22 for the year, took a six-game losing streak in a scheduled Tuesday doubleheader at East Grand Forks. A twinbill at Blackduck tonight (Wednesday) precedes a Friday rematch with East Grand Forks in Thief River Falls. That doubleheader, a make-up meeting from a June 24 postponement, will get underway at 3 p.m. at the Northland Community and Technical College diamond because of the Pennington County fair that pushes the team off Irv Wilson Field at the fairgrounds.

"I wasn't very happy Friday against Sebeka, but we were competitive against Fargo and Park Rapids," reported Thief River Falls coach Bruce Elseth. "We're competitive, but we're a little short on pitching when the games get stacked up."

Andrew Solem, Mike Dowers, Derek Berg, and Joey Pribula, who all play with the VFW 16-year-olds, have been pressed into service lately with the Legion pitching staff.

Thief River Falls Legion beaten by Detroit Lakes

Solid pitching and strong defense still wasn't enough to produce a Thief River Falls win Thursday in a late-reported American Legion baseball doubleheader played at Detroit Lakes.

Post 117 lost both starts, 9-7 and 5-2.

"Paul Frank (Game 1) and Andrew Solem (Game 2) both pitched very well," noted Thief River Falls coach Bruce Elseth. "They pitched much better than what the score would indicate."

Thief River Falls played error-free ball in the opener and was charged with just one error in the nightcap, and wound up out-hitting Detroit Lakes for the day, 20-17.

Tag by Roseau first baseman Mike Benko was too late to get Thief River Falls runner Blaise Larson, who went back to the bag feet-first to beat a pick-off throw from catcher Robert Mosher during Thursday's amateur baseball game at Irv Wilson Field. The visiting Royals won 20-0. It was the final home appearance of the year for the Thieves.

Chelsea Haviland is double gold winner

Chelsea Haviland of Thief River Falls turned in two gold medal-winning performances during Junior Olympic regional diving competition held Thursday through Sunday at the University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis.

Haviland, competing at the regional level for the first time, placed first on both the one-meter and three-meter boards in the 13-under age group.

The competition featured divers from a multiple-state area, including Minnesota, Nebraska, Colorado, and Illinois.

Top 12 finishers in each event at each age level earned spots at the Junior Olympic zone meet July 24-26 in Milwaukee, WI. Qualifiers will then move on to national competition later this summer in Texas.

The 13-year-old Haviland, who will be an eighth grader at Franklin Middle School in Thief River Falls this fall, competed in Minneapolis as a member of the Northwest Diving program out of the University of North Dakota, where she is coached by Brian Strom. She also participates in the Thief River Falls United States Swimming program coached by Brian Olson.

Chelsea Haviland

Olson and Sion Thompson were co-coaches of the Thief River Falls girls high school swim team last fall when Haviland placed second in the Section 8 diving competition and wound up 18th at the state meet as a seventh grader.

NCTC players honored

Six members of the Northland Community and Technical College women's basketball team were named to the Minnesota Community College Conference Academic Athlete Team for the 1996-97 winter quarter; it was announced this week by school officials.

Northland's delegation includes Meckenzie Malwitz, Plummer; Paula Hovda, Roseau; Tina Sugden, Hallock; Naomi Wilehski and Lavonne Nelson, Lancaster; and Jenny Smith, Stephen. They were members of the Pioneers' team that won the MCCC state tournament consolation title and met the criteria to be named as academic athletes.

"Each of these athletes not only worked hard on the court, but in the classroom as well, and are very deserving of this honor," said Northland women's basketball coach Rick Nikunen.

Malwitz, Sugden, Wilehski, Nelson, and Smith were also members of the Northland volleyball team, while Hovda played three sports for the Pioneers – volleyball, basketball and softball.

Rain hits Greenbush track

First rain-out of the season was recorded Saturday night at the Greenbush Race Park. Track officials, keeping an eye on the weather all day, were ready to race until heavy rains fell just 30 minutes before the start of the race card.

Greenbush Race Park, located one-half mile north of Greenbush on Country Road 7, will host the Northern Outlaw Sprints for the second time this summer Saturday, July 19. Hot laps begin at 6 p.m. Races start at 7.

Outdoors Woman Workshops

The setting was Deep Portage Conservation Reserve where more than 50 women had come to spend the weekend outdoors, learning and sharing. The May Becoming An Outdoors Woman (BOW) workshop was no different than most: it drew women ages 20 to 60, with a variety of backgrounds and experiences with the outdoors. They had one thing in common: the desire to spend the weekend learning new skills in a program for woman, instructed largely by women.

"It's exciting to see the enthusiasm of the women as they participate in the wide variety of offerings," said Minnesota BOW state chair Jean Bergerson. "They take some offerings like fly fishing to learn a new skill. Others take classes like voyageur skills because it seems like a fun activity. Still others take courses like bowhunting because they think they may want to pursue it at a later date, or they know a bowhunter and they want to better understand the sport."

During the weekend workshop, participants are able to take four offerings. And the fun is not limited to daytime classes. Evening offerings include a style show of clothing designed specifically for women, some education programs, and night hikes or campfires. "It's a full weekend but the women always seem anxious to do more," Bergerson said.

Minnesota is offering a second weekend workshop Sept. 12-14 near Nisswa. Individuals interested in getting a registration guide or more information can call the DNR Information Center at 1-800-766-6000, or in the Twin Cities metro area call 296-6157.

For those who have experienced a BOW program and wish to pursue specific activities, Beyond BOW offerings are being held at three locations this year. Laurentian Environmental Learning Center, (218) 749-1288, is offering weekends specializing in canoeing, deer hunting, fly fishing, upland bird hunting and rock climbing. Eagle Bluff ELC, (507) 467-2437, is sponsoring offerings in deer hunting, upland bird hunting and waterfowl hunting. Gunflint Lodge, 1-800-362-5251, is sponsoring a BWCAW canoe trip. Women who have completed a BOW workshop can call the facilities directly to register for one of these offerings.

"Women with any level of outdoor experience can participate in the workshops," Bergerson said. "We encourage women who have not spent much time outdoors to try a sampling of offerings. Many women return two or three times to participate in the full complement of activities."

The BOW offerings are sponsored in 47 states and eight Canadian provinces. Workshops have been held since 1991. Last year Minnesota's program drew about 350 women. This year more than 500 will participate in introductory offerings. Beyond BOW will provide 200 more opportunities. Next year's workshops will be held at Gunflint Lodge (Grand Marais) in March, Eagle Bluff (Lanesboro) in May, and Laurentian Environmental Center (Britt) in September.

Improving Wetland Conservation

A statewide plan for protecting wetlands while making life easier for Minnesota communities and private landowners has been completed. The plan, developed by a broad coalition of citizens and public officials, is the first comprehensive blueprint for conserving the state's wetlands, which filter water, buffer floods, and provide habitat.

The goal of the Minnesota Wetlands Conservation Plan is to increase the overall quality of Minnesota wetlands while taking into account regional differences in wetland types, quantity and value. The plan, which is strictly voluntary and contains no regulatory authority, was developed in part to guide local units of government and private landowners through the often confusing and conflicting tangle of wetlands laws and public policy. In addition to helping state and federal agency staff members improve wetland management effectiveness, the plan provides a rational framework that any jurisdiction or landowner can use to make plans and decisions about wetlands. Among plan highlights are components that:

- Shift state policy away from a rigid, one-size-fits-all approach and adapt wetland management to specific watershed and regional needs
- Focus attention on protecting wetlands that have the highest ecological value
- Guide efforts to restore lost wetlands
- Simplify the regulatory process
- Recognize the strong link between wetlands conservation and thriving communities.

The need for a comprehensive state wetlands conservation plan was identified in the early 1990s by state and federal agency officials concerned that Minnesota lacked a common policy framework to guide the agencies' separate programs. State and federal regulations and policies regarding wetlands are a mishmash of sometimes conflicting rules, laws and objectives that often frustrate well-meaning citizens and local governments.

The plan was created through the combined efforts of a diverse group representing the interests of citizens, counties, local units of government, farming and the environment. It is sponsored by the Minnesota departments of Natural Resources, Transportation, and Agriculture, the Pollution Control Agency, and the Board of Water and Soil Resources.

Public comment is invited on this first version of the plan, which will likely be revised over the years as it is put into use. Approximately 1,800 copies of the plan have been mailed to individuals and organizations, including local units of government. Others can read the plan on the DNR web site (http://www.dnr.state.mn.us) or by getting a copy from the DNR Section of Ecological Services, (612) 296-2835.

State Trails To Get New Blacktop

Two state recreational trails in north-central Minnesota will be paved or repaved this summer to enhance summer use, according to Butch Belcher, regional Trails and Waterways supervisor with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in Bemidji.

On or shortly after Monday, July 7, the 28-mile paved segment of the Heartland State Trail between Park Rapids and Walker will be closed for about eight weeks to undergo a major rebuild, according to Belcher. "Around the same time, a 5 1/4-mile section of the Paul Bunyan State Trail on the east side of Lake Bemidji will also be paved."

"For safety's sake, both trail segments will be completely closed during the construction period," advised Belcher. "No bicycling, skating, horseback riding, hiking, walking or jogging will be allowed; of course, no motorized traffic is allowed on state trails during the summer months."

On the Heartland State Trail, the old blacktop will be broken up and removed, the trail bed will be dug up, widened and repacked, and new blacktop will be applied to the entire 28 miles running east from Park Rapids, through the communities of Dorset, Nevis and Akeley to the north side of Walker. The new paved surface will be 10 feet wide--compared to its current 6-foot width--with a 2-foot-wide sand/gravel shoulder on each side. When reconstruction is complete, grass seed and mulch will be applied to stabilize exposed side slopes.

The Paul Bunyan State Trail near Bemidji is currently unpaved, but the trail bed will undergo similar preparation and finish work, and receive a 12-foot-wide paved surface, beginning at the old trestle bridge over the Mississippi River, north to County Road 20. A 12-foot-wide paved trail into Lake Bemidji State Park will also be constructed, terminating near the boat dock area.

The Heartland is Minnesota's oldest state recreational trail, and was the first one to be paved for bicycle use. Like many public trails throughout the United States, both the Heartland and Paul Bunyan trails were built on abandoned railroad property purchased by the state. Portions of the Heartland State Trail have been repaired and repaved in the past, but most of the blacktop is more than 20 years old.

"Since the Heartland was first paved in 1976, we've learned a lot about paved trails and the special problems associated with constructing trails on abandoned railroad beds," explained Belcher. "Two years ago, a newly paved 48-mile section of the Paul Bunyan Trail between Brainerd/Baxter and Hackensack sustained some damage when people started using the trail while the asphalt was still too soft."

"With a little luck and good weather, the trails may be reopened in time for the Labor Day weekend," said Belcher. "However, we want the new surface to remain as smooth as possible for as long as possible, so they will not be reopened before the new asphalt has had time to harden."

Shriners set clinic to aid area children

Children in need of orthopedic treatment will be evaluated for free care at the Shriners Hospital in Minneapolis during a screening clinic sponsored by the Kem Shrine Temple Wednesday, July 16, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at East Grand Forks senior high school, 1420 Fourth Avenue NW.

The clinic is an opportunity for parents to have their child evaluated by a hospital physician and well as find out whether the child is eligible for treatment at the hospital. There is no charge for any of the care or services provided by Shriners Hospitals.

Staff from the hospital will be in attendance to evaluate children with problems of the bones, muscles or joints, including scoliosis, club feet, missing limbs and cerebral palsy.

For more information or to make an appointment call Leo Luettjohann at 218-281-1561 or the Kem Temple office at 701-772-7125.

Falcons to be study topic at Rydell Refuge Sunday

Falcons will be the topic of an informational session Sunday, July 20, at 2 p.m. at Rydell National Wildlife Refuge Visitors Center southwest of Erskine.

Pat Oldham, wildlife illustrator and bird rehabilitator from the Bemidji area, will present the program about raptors. She will bring her two captive falcons—Zorro, a Peregrine and Skeeter, an American Kestrel.

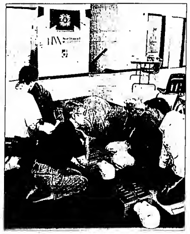
Zorro came from a raptor rehabilitation center in New Mexico after recovering from gunshot and other injuries. He has vision impairment and a disabled talon that prevents his ability to catch birds. Skeeter came from Brooten where he was hit by a car. A pin was placed in his wing but the wing rotated so he could not survive if released.

Oldham will present information about raptors in general and her experiences as a bird rehabilitator, including taking care of Zorro and Skeeter. The program is free and open to the public and co-sponsored by the Maple Lake Improvement District, Union Lake Sarah Improvement Association, Minnesota DNR and Friends of the Rydell Refuge Association.

To reach the refuge, drive three miles west of Erskine or three miles east of Mentor on Highway 2 and turn south on Polk County Road 210. Follow 210 south 2.5 miles to the refuge entrance.

If arriving from the south, turn north off Polk County Road 41 on Polk County 210 and go 3.5 miles north to the refuge entrance.

For answers to further questions contact the refuge at 218-687-2229 or Wayne Goeken at 218-571-2622.



Teaching cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) during classes conducted recently at Northwest Medical Center is Linda Wennberg, RN. She was one of a number of instructors assisting class participants. Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793 purchased a number of the mannikins used for training.

On July 13 at 1:38 a.m. police received a complaint of a fight in front of Northern State Bank. Nicholas Raymond Truleau, 21, Thief River Falls, allegedly punched a man in a vehicle breaking his glasses and giving him a puffy eye. Truleau was cited for fifth degree assault.

Chase. On July 6 at 4:30 a.m. an officer on patrol observed a vehicle speeding. A pursuit ensued after the vehicle failed to stop. The vehicle eventually crossed Lang's Bridge and traveled south. The vehicle stopped and three individuals in the car, a girl and two boys, got out and dove into the Thief River. A short time later a sheriff's deputy found one of the individuals in some woods by County road 63. Charges of obstructing legal process are pending against Robbie Grant Bakken, 21, Thief River Falls.

Contributing. On July 8 while looking for a missing juvenile, Lee Allan Kuck, 20, Thief River Falls, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The juvenile was located.

Criminal damage to property. On July 7 police received a report that a spare tire cover on a motorhome had been slashed. As a result of investigation, a nine-year-old Thief River Falls male will face juvenile proceedings for criminal damage to property.

Explosion. On July 14 at 11:17 p.m. police received a report of an explosion at a local residence. A 17-year-old male had been mixing chemicals in a six-quart kettle on top of a stove to make a smoke bomb when the mixture exploded. An ambulance met the private vehicle he was being taken in to Northwest Medical Center with burns to his neck and an injury to his eye. The explosion put a crease in the stove top and the contents sprayed all over the room.

These reports include names of individuals charged, arrested or cited with various crimes and offenses by police, the sheriff's department or other law enforcement officials. Depending upon the circumstances of a case, charges can be, and sometimes are, changed or dropped by law enforcement officials or attorneys even before the case reaches court. Readers should also realize that under the American system of jurisprudence, individuals charged with crimes are innocent until proven guilty of those crimes in a court of law.

Middle River man injured in accident Fri.

Adam Holmes of Middle River was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls and then transferred to United Hospital in Grand Forks following an accident on Highway 32, two miles north of Holt at about 3:30 p.m. on Friday, July 11.

According to the Minnesota State Patrol, Holmes was driving a car north on Highway 32 when his car crossed the centerline and collided with a 1994 Freightliner driven south by Mark Peterson of Middle River. Holmes was taken to the hospital and his car was considered a total loss. Peterson was not injured. Damage to the Freightliner was considered extensive.

The accident remains under investigation.

Lightning causes damage to TRF residences

Lightning struck the William Meyer residence at 207 South Conley early Monday morning and caused a fire.

According to the Thief River Falls Fire department, at about 3 a.m. lightning struck the roof of the home and traveled down into the basement where it started a fire. The fire department was at the scene for about two hours. A fire department spokesperson said there was considerable smoke and some fire damage. The residents were at home at the time of the fire, but were not injured.

Lightning also struck a tree in the back yard of a residence at 234 North Crocker Thursday, according to Kathy Langston. Langston said it struck the top of a tree, blew a bird feeder off the tree, stripped off some bark, and knocked out phone service to the home. She wasn't aware of any other damage.

Pennington County Dive Team received a $100 check from the Eagles Auxiliary recently to assist in its rescue and recovery program. Kay Nelson, secretary of the auxiliary, presented the check to James Josma, dive team member.

Old Mill hosts annual creameries picnic July 27

Marshall County's first annual co-operative creameries picnic was held on Sunday, June 24, 1928 at the Old Mill site on the banks of the Middle River. This picnic took place nine years before the location was established as the Middle River (renamed Old Mill in 1951) State Park in 1937. This year, the picnic will be held Sunday, July 27.

The first picnic was attended by an estimated 4,000 people, one of the largest crowds ever seen at a picnic in this region at that time. On July 12, 1933, Thorval Tunheim, former associate editor of the Warren Sheaf reported an estimated 6,000 people in attendance at the 6th Annual Picnic. In 1946 on June 12, attendance records were broken with an estimated crowd of 7,000 for the 19th annual Marshall County creameries picnic. The picnic was sponsored by creameries at Stephen, Argyle, Warren, Alvarado, Viking, Newfolden, Strandquist, Holt, Middle River and Gatzke. The Grygla Creamery joined creameries in Pennington and Beltrami counties for their annual picnic. Marshall County creameries picnic were held from 1928 to 1951. John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes, was a featured speaker for many years.

Some of the attractions on picnic days over the years included bands from area towns, kitten ball games, horseshoe tournaments, relay races, balloon blowing, balloon popping, milking, pie-eating, needle threading, butter churning and nail driving contests, airplane rides, vocal and instrumental selections, orations and guest speaker representing the creameries and agriculture. Area senators and representatives were also guest speakers. In 1991 the park held a special event in honor of the historic creameries picnics of the past during the Minnesota State Parks Centennial Celebrations. Starting in 1994 an annual picnic has been held in July. This year, a "Prairie Memories Creameries Picnic" will be held Sunday, July 27. A special program is planned featuring "Pierre Bottineau, Voyageur of the 1800s" performed by Tom Gibson with free ice cream to follow, donated by Land O'Lakes/Bridgeman's.

Local Salvation Army Unit supports community demand

A tremendous outpouring of support helped Salvation Army volunteers in Pennington County fill the need of many people displaced by the Flood of 1997.

Service Unit Chairman, Ken Froschheiser, who is also the police chief in Thief River Falls, said the Salvation Army was there when the people of northwestern Minnesota needed them and he was glad to be a part of it. But, he said, it couldn't have been done without the volunteer and financial support of the entire community.

"The outpouring of support was just tremendous," said Froschheiser.

Froschheiser noted that without being asked, local businesses and individuals donated thousands of dollars and volunteered perhaps thousands of hours of time — and it was really needed.

At the height of its efforts, volunteers were spending close to $1,600 every time they went to the store to buy essentials such as toiletries, t-shirts, underwear. In all, the local unit spent in excess of $19,000, which doesn't include the cost associated with the popular gas vouchers.

Sarah Erickson, of Seventh-Day Adventist community services, which operates in conjunction with the Salvation Army, said "these people had absolutely nothing. You can't imagine."

At community services, displaced flood evacuees could find used clothing. Sarah said during a two week period they handled out 11,000 pieces of clothing, helped 818 people, 168 families from East Grand Forks, 98 from Grand Forks, and 20 from other communities. She also noted that in addition to piles of clothing they received locally, they also received donations from people in Florida, Nebraska, Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

Froschheiser explained that the Salvation Army was there for flood evacuees just as it has been for local people for years. It provided all kinds of support and supplies, including baby supplies, toiletries, laundry services, prescriptions, dental work, baby formula, shelter, food and transportation. The Salvation Army also provided a plane ticket to South Dakota for one hospital patient from Grand Forks. The patient was moved to Thief River Falls and it was determined here that he should be with his family in South Dakota.

Many people who donated funds to the Salvation Army requested that the funds be spent locally. Froschheiser said the funds were spent according to their wishes. Sometimes, he said, donors from other counties requested that the funds be spent in their county. Those funds were sent to those counties and earmarked for the purpose intended.

Froschheiser also thanked the Ministerium for getting volunteers to help serve meals and provide valuable and essential services in the shelter, such as cleaning, serving meals and babysitting.

The most widely known service provided by the Salvation Army during the emergency, however, was the gas vouchers. For a time the Salvation Army was offering vouchers to purchase up to 20 gallons of gas for a family vehicle. Froschheiser estimated that the cost, which was sent to the main office, was around $5,500.

The local unit of the Salvation Army has estimated that there were over 1,200 flood evacuees living with relatives in the Thief River Falls area, 108 in the shelter, 37 school children and 17 infants.

The local unit of the Salvation Army is a volunteer committee organized to represent The Salvation Army. The volunteers are interested in the spiritual, moral, and physical well-being of others. They apply their knowledge and skills to bring assistance to those in need. Their primary source of fundraising is through the Kettle Drive which is held between the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. Members of the local unit include: Ken Froschheiser, Joyce Froschheiser, Robert Dahlen, Sande Drevlow, Melinda Treitline, Susan Halvorson, Anita Cardinal, Sarah Erickson, Cindy Stoneouse, Cliff Larson, Shannon Olson, and Dave Hill. The service unit field representative is Wayne K. Mills of Grand Rapids.

Sen. Stumpf addresses changes in laws from legislation session

Th[illegible] issues brought bef[illegible] time this year that [illegible] spending time out[illegible] know about. All[illegible] snowmobilers but [illegible] all I think sportsmen and [illegible] will be pleased with the [illegible] the Legislature addressed [illegible] they care about most.

[illegible] first crisis to be addressed [illegible] session was the winter star[illegible] deer. Especially in our area [illegible] the snowfall was heav[illegible] populations were hurting. [illegible] citizens call me to [illegible] sessions for annual sub[illegible] there is a great deal of [illegible] around fall deer hunt[illegible] that was in jeopardy. I auth[illegible] legislation that would [illegible] emergency spending [illegible] purchase deer feed. My bill was [illegible] by the Department of Natural Resources and was held up by [illegible] and southern Minnesota legislators who wanted to hear DNR [illegible] suggestions. Had they seen for themselves just how much snow had [illegible], they would have understood the need!

By the time the Legislature was ready [illegible] final action on the bill, much of the snow was gone and the urgency for deer feeding had passed. Any deer that we could have helped had either been fed by private efforts, found some other way to survive or had already died. Not wanting to waste money on unnecessary feeding, we passed legislation that will recommend [illegible] funds in the future can go directly to deer hunters' organizations for deer feeding. I was upset at the DNR's stonewalling, but hopefully in future winters, deer won't have to wait for an act from the Legislature to receive the help they need to stay alive.

This winter's much-publicized snowmobile accidents and deaths prompted the Legislature to provide additional funding for the improvement of snowmobile trails. After hearing that inadequate trails and lack of law enforcement were directly responsible for the rise in incidents, the Legislature more than doubled the Grant in Aid trail system appropriation, raising the total funding to $9.2 million.

The money comes primarily from three sources: 1. A snowmobile registration fee increase of $5 annually; 2. An adjustment in the calculation of gasoline tax revenues that are attributable to snowmobile use; and 3. A direct appropriation from the general fund. Additional money for trails will come from non-Minnesotans who will have to pay $15 annually for a permit to use Minnesota's trails. This new policy is based on existing law in neighboring states.

Fishing license fees were another area where the Legislature took prudent action on behalf of sportsmen and sportswomen. The DNR proposed a 28 percent increase in fishing license fees. While there certainly is a need to improve the state's fisheries and fish habitat around the state, many legislators questioned the amount of the proposed increase. This led to a deeper questioning of how current Game and Fish fund monies are used, and how the new revenue would be used. The Senate rejected the first fee increase proposal on a vote of 39-24.

A compromise was later reached, reducing the fee increase to 15 percent (about $3 per license) and requiring that the agency's administrative costs not be paid for out of this fund. Also, the Game and Fish Fund report will include an analysis of how administrative expenses are assigned to other specialized funds, as well as recommendations for future changes in funding allocation. Of new revenue collected because of the fee increase [illegible] percent – $4.8 million [illegible] must go toward fisheries. I believe this session is only the beginning of requiring greater accountability from the DNR for its management of our state's valuable natural resources.

A lot of noise was made early in our session about putting new restrictions on the operation of personal watercraft (PWC's). Citizens especially complained that PWC operators generated too much noise at all hours of the day, were disrespectful of other lake and river users, and, in general, were unsafe in their operation. A bill was introduced that would have put some severe restrictions on PWC hours of operation and would have required all operators to take a training course and receive a completion certificate before they could use their PWC's. No one would be "grandfathered."

While there are noise and safety concerns that should be addressed, many of us felt that the solution offered was too onerous and unworkable. I worked with PWC owners and manufacturers to put together an alternative bill, which would have improved the DNR's training of younger users, required more effort on the part of PWC renters to make sure that safety rules were explained and required no wake operation within 150 feet of shore in most circumstances. My bill passed the Senate, but proponents of the more restrictive language decided that they didn't want to compromise. As a result, there were no changes made to the laws governing PWC operation this year.

Those who wanted greater restrictions have vowed to be back

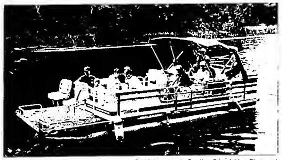
Family Friendship Picnic at Johnson's Boarding Home

Sawdust coin scramble kept many people busy during the 27th annual Family Friendship Picnic recently at Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home east of Thief River Falls.



Pontoon boat rides were popular with many of the approximately 300 people who attended the 27th annual Family Friendship Picnic at Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home recently.

The [illegible] seventh annual Family Friendship Picnic at Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home, Inc. was held recently in conjunction with [illegible] Oaks, Maple Wood and Brent Wood Residence [illegible] (SLS).

The annual picnic is planned for the residents and their relatives, friends and neighbors. Several other area residential facilities also were among the approximately 300 people in attendance for the picnic dinner and afternoon events.

Donated craft items were used for Bingo prizes. Area businesses loaned picnic equipment and supplies in addition to contributing several items for Bingo and door prize drawings.

A carnival was featured for adults and children and included face painting, fish pond, bean bag toss, pick-a-duck, egg hunt, water pistol shoot and a sawdust money scramble among the many activities. Prizes were offered for all events.

Adults attending the picnic were involved with horseshoe pitching, pontoon rides, air hockey and table tennis in addition to Bingo and four-wheeler rides.

Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home, Inc. is an intermediate care facility for 11 developmentally disabled adults. It also operates River Oaks Residence, SLS, Maple Wood Residence, SLS, and Brent Wood Residence. These are supported living services which serve four clients each. Among the four facilities, 23 individuals are currently being provided residential services.

Face painting was one of the activities enjoyed by youngsters at the 27th annual Family Friendship Picnic at Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home.

In the afternoon Grandma Hyde was invited to go for a horse and buggy ride for her 80th birthday with Gerry and Delynne Mattison. After a tour of the town, Edna spotted a sign saying there was a surprise birthday party planned for her at the Community Hall. Arriving there she was greeted by her sons Denny and Roger and 100 guests. Denny and Roger served grape floats to everyone. Three birthday cakes were served by Luan Schuman, Carol, Duane, Nick, Ben and Kelly Boucher and Ruth Wilkens, all nicely decorated (the cakes) in purple and yellow. The tables were centered with yellow roses and small purple flowers all done by Luan, Denny and Roger. A bouquet of a dozen yellow roses adorned the serving table. The cakes were made and decorated by Carol Boucher and her daughter, Kelly. A short program included a story of Edna's life by her brother Percy Blair and several musical numbers by Elsie Magnus and daughters Maria and Darmon of Langdon. Joan and Annie Blair also brought a decorated cake. Thanks Edna, for this story. She says "Oh, boy! What a great day one I'm sure I will never forget. Turning 80 really isn't so bad after all."

Junior division winners in essay contest announced

Winners in three divisions of its essay contest were announced recently by the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation District. First through third places were awarded respective prizes of $50, $30 and $20 in Elementary, Junior and Senior Divisions.

First place essays were scheduled for publication in the editorial section of The Times and Northern Watch. Winner of first place in the Junior Division was Rebecca Leach, a ninth grade student at Lincoln high school, whose essay was published in the July 5 issue of the Northern Watch. Topic for the essay contest was "Ecosystems: Pieces of Nature's Puzzle."

Junior Division second and third place winners in the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District essay contest included Becky Bray, left, and Ammie Tuthill, both eighth grade students at our Saviour's Christian Academy. First place winner was Rebecca Leach, a ninth grader at Lincoln senior high school.

Just outside Grand Forks lay a little rabbit. He was all cuddled up in his little home in the ground. All of a sudden he looked out and he saw water coming towards him, so he got out and hopped away. He found himself at a little farm. He began to search for food. He laid his eyes on some tulips. He thought they looked pretty good, so he ate them. The lady that lived there wasn't too happy. That rabbit stayed there and dug himself a little home.

That rabbit was kicked out of its ecosystem. As a rabbit so desperately depends on his ecosystem, when it was washed away, he didn't know what to do. He ended up invading someone else's ecosystem. That example right there shows you how important one's ecosystem is.

I'll start by explaining to you what an ecosystem is. An ecosystem to a frog is a lily pad, an ecosystem to a cow is its pasture, an ecosystem to a fish is a lake or some body of water. How well is that fish going to survive without that body of water?

An ecosystem is everything that surrounds us. Humans, plants and animals, all of us together make up an ecosystem. All of us also depend upon each other.

Ecosystems change every day. If a tree falls down, that ecosystem for a bird that might have lived in there, is completely destroyed. Sure, you may think that bird can just fly to another tree. But can you just move from house to house? You also may not think that throwing away your garbage is a big deal, but it is. That garbage could easily fly to a nearby lake or pond. Do you think all the animals living in there are just going to welcome all that garbage?

The size of an ecosystem is different for each living organism. It could be as small as an ant hill or as large as an ocean. They say ecosystems are like puzzle pieces; they are different in shape and size, and have all different meanings, but they all fit together to form one picture.

Chief Seattle said, "Man did not weave the web of life, he is merely a strand in it. Whatever he does to the web, he does to himself." That's very true. Although a man is only a small part in our ecosystem, his job is very important. Just picking up your trash would help. Man doesn't realize that what he does that's harmful to our ecosystem, he does to himself also. We need to start concentrating more on our part. When things get destroyed due to natural disaster, help them get it going again! Remember, their ecosystem is your ecosystem.

I really hope that you understand what I'm trying to say here. Why would you want to destroy your world? Whatever you do to your ecosystem, your world, you do to yourself. It's about time we start appreciating this world we have been given. God gave us everything in this world for each one of us to share, enjoy and keep it up. So, in conclusion, share it, enjoy it, and do your part to help keep it up.

Age 14, Grade 8

"Ecosystems" is a term copied by a British botanist named A. G. Tansley around the year 1930. He, at this time, realized that studying the interrelationships of living and non-living things can provide us with very valuable information on the workings of our environment. He figured out that all living things—such as plants, animals and of course human beings—depend upon each other and upon non-living things like soil, water, temperature, air, light, wind and minerals in our environment. So he thought for awhile and soon decided to call all these things, living or not, "ecosystems."

Some people wonder how big an ecosystem really is. Well, since like I said before, everything living or not is part of an ecosystem, so it's going to vary. Now it all depends on the size of each and every organism in that ecosystem. Now each ecosystem includes all the things, living or not, needed for an organism to survive, so it can be as small as a maple leaf or as large as the Pacific Ocean.

All the ecosystems combined make up a biosphere and that means our Earth is a biosphere. Each ecosystem is like a piece to a puzzle. When all the pieces are combined or put together they make up a picture or complete structure. That's why an ecosystem plus all the others make up a biosphere, a complete structure, or picture.

All animals are included in an ecosystem. All animals depend on something else in their ecosystem. Here is an example of how everything depends on something else.

There once was this little rabbit family that lived in the back yard of a farmer. I guess you could say they were his little helpers by taking care of the grass. Well, finally after a long winter, spring had come. The little rabbit family was so enjoyed with the beautiful spring weather.

Well, one day while they were enjoying the nice weather and eating some clover buds, they heard a loud bang and one of the little bunnies fell to the ground. They all took off running except for the little bunny just lying there. When all was clear they hopped back to see what was wrong. The little bunny was all red and wasn't moving. You see the loud bang had been the sound of a rifle being shot and the red all over the little bunny was blood.

The family of rabbits left that ecosystem to live in another. Well after awhile the grass in that ecosystem wasn't so green and healthy any more, you see, since the rabbits left they were no longer able to keep the grass nice. After awhile the other animals began to leave, too. Soon that ecosystem started to look shabby and there wasn't a whole lot of animals there any more either, but the ecosystem the little family of rabbits moved to was now even more beautiful, because they kept the grass trimmed and looking good.

You see all ecosystems are made up of things that depend upon other things and upon each other. So there is no ecosystem without animals, because they are important for that ecosystem's survival.

In all ecosystems there are cycles. Cycles of animals depending upon animals, who are dependent upon plants, which are dependent upon air, and so on. Everything in every ecosystem depends on something else. So when one thing leaves an ecosystem it becomes unorganized.

When people pollute their environment things are unable to do their job, which is depending upon other things. Keeping our environment clean and free from pollution is very important, not only for the animals and plants but also for you. Because what happens when all the plants and animals die, what are you going to depend on? Keep God's environment clean and unpolluted the way He made it and live a long and healthy life.

Congratulations!

Ben and Brad Kasprowicz, Marcelyn Lindstrom, Claudia, Jessie and Kali Berggren, June Kasprowicz, Alyce Anderson, Julia Killeson of Seattle, WA, Anna Sellen, Pat Larsen and Lloyd Lindstrom visited at Judy Kleinvachters.

Lorraine and Sheldon Frei have moved back to this area for the summer anyhow after spending seven months in Yuma, AZ, where they have a trailer in the Friendly Acres Trailer Park.

Northwest Minnesota has probably the nicest weather around, lots of sunshine and if it gets dry we get what Shakespeare called "gentle rain from heaven." I thought of that last night when we got 3/4 inch of rain and it took 6 hours to get here. Roy says that it does more good than twice as much in a windy shower. He thinks it makes for good sleeping weather.

This rain brought the nightcrawlers out of the ground and the robins are feasting on them until they are as bulgy as Santa. The one on the window ledge led their first family of three for a bit over a weekend and then they left home. We have no idea what happened to them but Mrs. Robin laid more eggs and is now "cluck" again as the Swedes would say.

The Strandquist Seniors met on Thursday, eight members and their guests were Adeline [illegible] and Gladys [illegible] of Thief River Falls. Alyce Anderson served lunch and Gladys Johnson won the door prize. [illegible]

Vince and Adrienne [illegible] left Thursday afternoon for a visit to the [illegible] at International Falls Thursday night. Friday forenoon they visited Albert and Marlene Erickson and Albert's mother Bertha and then started out for Eveleth. On Saturday they helped LeRoy and LaVonne Swanson celebrate their 40th Wedding Anniversary. They also visited Don and Dale Swanson and their wives and Eileen (Swanson) and Vernon Forsell. It was a beautiful drive, lots of wild flowers along the way and then camping [illegible]. They arrived home on Sunday evening.

If Hospice Is So Great, Why Don't More Use It?

According to statistics printed out in a recent editorial in the Star Tribune of Minneapolis, there are more than 2,500 hospice programs in the nation but only 15 percent of the 2.4 million Americans who die every year choose to use them. That seems like quite a small percentage... and it is.

The editorial speculates that much of the explanation lies in the American insistence on postponing death—an attitude obviously incompatible with the notion of welcoming it.

Still, 360,000 people in hospice care is a lot of people receiving personalized attention. If there are 2,500 hospice programs nationally as the editorial indicates, the average would be 144 patients per program. Again, that is a lot of people to be personally served. As indicated in the following editorial, however, hospice providers would like to make their services available to more—or at least provide the option on a more ready basis.

"Doctors who see a terminal diagnosis as an admission of failure aren't likely to refer patients to hospice care," the editorial states. "Patients, too, tend to think of entering a hospice program as a sign of surrender, of giving in to death rather than milking every last drop out of life."

The editorial quotes Dr. Ronald Cranford, an ethicist and neurologist at Hennepin County Medical Center. "There's money to be made in treatment," he says, "but not much money in nontreatment. Dying is not lucrative, hospice is not lucrative. It takes a little time and effort to let patients die humanely, and doctors don't have the time. It's much easier to treat patients and move on."

Medicare picks up most hospice costs—as long as a doctor certifies that a patient is likely to die within six months. Studies have shown that Medicare saves $1.52 for every $1 it spends on hospice. Now we understand that the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has mounted an effort to recover $83 million in payments from a dozen hospices whose patients outlived the six-month period specified in government rules.

More than 90 percent of all hospice patients die within the six-month "deadline" and half within the first 36 days of enrollment. But the recovery effort has caused some dying patients to stay away from a program that could be of great help to them.

"People feel that they're prisoners of medical technology and they want an escape," Dr. Cranford said. They view hospice as providing liberation as much as being thrifty.

"Whenever they suffer—wherever they die—human beings deserve the calm and comfort of palliative care," the Star Tribune editorial states. "That kind of compassionate treatment ought to be a preoccupation of medical education and of medical care. It should be a fixture in every hospital ward, in every health insurance plan, in every government health care policy.

"Surely society has more to offer at the end of life than a ventilator or a visit with Dr. Kevorkian. Somehow, it must open the door to a third possibility: a good death."

Hospice Helps Good Lives End in Good Death

GUEST EDITORIAL
by Susan J. Fuglie, Executive Director
Hospice of the Red River Valley

On June 26, the Supreme Court issued a ruling that terminally ill people do not have a constitutional right to physician-assisted suicide.

While this decision brought accolades from hospices throughout the country, it by no means put to rest the greater end-of-life issues centered around this ruling. In fact, it shouldn't put an end to this debate, which is long overdue. Whether or not one agrees with physician-assisted suicide, perhaps we are indebted to Dr. Kevorkian for having brought this debate to center stage where the end result, one hopes, will be improved end-of-life care for all people.

Clearly, there is need for greater efforts in the areas of comfort (palliative) care for pain and symptom management, an increased use of and respect for advance directives, emotional support for terminally ill patients and their families, and attention to the spiritual needs of the dying. Hospices are, and must be, an integral part of these efforts because of our expertise in the provision of these very things.

When one considers key issues in the end-of-life debate such as fear of pain, loss of dignity, and dread of burdening family members, one is essentially defining the purpose of hospice: a coordinated program of comfort (palliative) and supportive services—to provide for the physical, psychological, social and spiritual care for dying persons and their families. This care is provided in home settings, it is provided regardless of ability to pay, it is potentially appropriate for people with terminal illnesses that range from cancer to heart disease to end stages of Alzheimers Disease. And maybe most importantly, by recognizing dying as part of the normal process of living, it is focused on living until one dies.

Simply put, our goal is to deliver care that results in these three outcomes:

- self-determined life closure,
- safe and comfortable dying, and
- effective grieving.

Hospice of the Red River Valley is privileged to be an integral part of the national movement that is rapidly gaining momentum to understand and address the barriers to "good death" in our country. We are gratified by the collaborative spirits of our health care partners throughout the region and are confident that, together, we can help move the debate beyond whether or not the state has an interest in allowing a person to ask a doctor to help him or her commit suicide, to whether the state has an interest in helping citizens live out their final days as comfortably, and with as much dignity, as possible.

Last week we talked about the "Relay for Life at Bagley", the team event to fight cancer. This week we were reminded that much research and help is yet needed to fight cancer when we attended the funeral for 14-year-old Jesse Brekke, son of Arlon and Deb Brekke, held at the Oklee high school where he was a student. Jesse had put up a long and heroic fight against the cancer, but at last his body was too weak to continue and he passed away on Sunday, June 22 at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester. Rev. Robert Paulson spoke well of Jesse and the large attendance indicated many friends. For part of the service Dale Blattel on piano and Jeff Monteno on violin played "Amazing Grace." They also played "Crippled Creek" called Jesse's song when Dale played on Jesse's banjo and Jeff on mandolin. Jesse's four brothers Troy, Alex, Kelly and Kevin were honorary casketbearers. Ladies from Salem served a nice lunch to the large crowd. Interment was at Clearwater Cemetery, rural Oklee.

Rich and Doris Ware were here from Duluth for Jesse Brekke's funeral on Thursday and stayed until Friday before returning home to W. Tischer Road in Duluth.

Visitors at Effie Handy's this week have been her daughter and husband JoAnn and Frank Domarine from Bridgeport, WV. They were here from Monday to Friday. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Larry Emerson were guests for supper. On Wednesday Maja Turenne and Chad Gilbert visited Effie. On Tuesday, Effie, JoAnn and Frank visited Larry Emerson. On Thursday afternoon, Effie and JoAnn visited at the Emma Nylunds and Lydia Loe's while Frank and Darrel Christopherson went fishing and on Thursday they were supper guests at the Darrel and Shirley Christopherson home for some good fish.

We stopped at the Mall Monday morning to wish Estelle Halvorsgard from Fertile a happy retirement. She was in Gully on her last trip as our County Nurse. We have been so fortunate to see her in Gully on quite a few Mondays and hope to see her successor soon.

When at the Mall we met a new customer there, he was Norman J. Zimmey from Corcoran, riding his bicycle to Baudette. After a good breakfast he seemed happy and ready for the rest of his journey.

Carol Torgerson stopped by Gully to visit Sunday after returning from Branson, MO. She was gone for a week on a trip with old college friends Marion Bakken Wolff, Barb St. Anthony Sjoblad, Jennie Gehroy Borgen and Lyn Handy Turenne.

June Borghs Birthday in 1997 will be a pleasant remembrance for June. Family, close relatives and friends got together at the Lorry and Sandra Anderson home on Saturday evening to celebrate June's birthday. The party provided another very special surprise for June when her best friend from high school, Orpha Frigstad Fossum (Mrs. Baine Fossum), flew in from Great Falls, MT to surprise her. June has a special way of concealing her age with her youthful actions and what year the celebration was about is still a secret. The guests spent a happy evening of visiting and eating. Congratulations June and have a good year.

Liquor Store Building Deal Taking Shape

"The city council at an adjourned session Tuesday evening heard the second reading of the ordinance establishing a municipal liquor dispensary, with only minor changes or form from its first reading.

"The ordinance, which is not subject to revision on its third and final reading, provides for the sale of liquor in a municipal store exclusively.

"At its session the council also conferred with owners of two local buildings being considered as quarters for the store. While no contract was entered into at the meeting, it was indicated that the council favors the purchase of the building on Main avenue near Third street now owned by Carl Kretzschmar and occupied by the Palm Garden cafe."

Soo Line Roundhouse Remodeling Gets Under Way

"Work of remodeling the Soo Line roundhouse in Thief River Falls is getting under way this week following award of the contract to the E. W. Wylie company of St. Paul. Superintendent Philip Bryant of the Winnipeg division stated that the contract, which involves the expenditure of approximately $25,000, calls for alterations on the interior of the structure and installation of additional facilities for the servicing of the eight new Diesel engines which are scheduled to go into service on the local division before the end of the year."

Lightning Bolt Damages Trinity Church Friday

"In a severe electrical storm that occurred here early Friday morning, a bolt of lightning struck the tower of Trinity Lutheran church, causing damage that will cost an estimated $5,000 to $10,000 to repair. The loss is covered by insurance.

"Brick and stonework were knocked off the north side of the tower by the bolt, in addition to which plaster on the interior was loosened, and additional damage was caused by water entering the structure during the accompanying heavy rainfall.

"At the time the lightning struck about 5:40 a.m., B. A. Shuttleworth was in the church leaving just arrived on the train from Minneapolis to begin the work of dismantling the old pipe organ, which is scheduled to be replaced in August by a new one.

"Unnerved by the bolt, he telephoned Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor of the church, who on arriving at the scene found that no fire had accompanied the lightning, but that some smoke was caused by burned out fuses and wiring."

2.10 Inches Rain Fell Here Wednesday Night; Week's Total 4.15 Inches

"Heavy showers Wednesday night continuing until 1 o'clock this morning, brought a total rainfall of 2.10 inches, making a total for the past week of 4.15 inches including 1.74 inches last Friday, .18 inch Saturday and .13 inch Sunday, according to the KTRF rain gauge. Hot sultry weather prevailed this week, the mercury ranging from 80 last Sunday to 87 Tuesday and 88 Wednesday. A cool breeze this morning gave promise of relief from the heat."

Beekeepers From Two States To Convene Here Today

"The city of Thief River Falls, operating center for numerous apiarists, will be host today and Friday to a joint meeting of the Minnesota and North Dakota Beekeepers associations, it was announced today by C. S. McReynolds, president of the Minnesota group. Sessions are being held in the municipal auditorium."

George Peter Store Now Occupies Part Of Added Space In Meehan Block

"Following the completion of remodeling work on the former City Dairy quarters in the Meehan Block, the George Peter store, of which Burton Brosseau is manager, moved its stock and fixtures into that space over the past weekend. Work of remodeling the adjoining quarters formerly occupied by the George Peter store is now in progress and when completed the store will occupy the entire space. The attractive exterior of the building is made up of tapestry brick with large plate glass display windows."

FROM THE NEW CITY

THE NEWS, HENRY W. LEE, EDITOR — JULY 22, 1897

The City (???)

"Very carefully allowed the time for appealing to the Supreme Court (6 months) in the case of H. W. Lee against the Village of Thief River Falls to expire, before serving its notice of appeal. We wonder if this 'rump' council of un-naturalized citizens think they can work such a bluff' is that."

Not a Citizen

"We understand that at the last meeting of the 'rump' council that runs the village into debt, O. T. Tanberg informed the council that he was not a citizen and some of his confreres want to know what business he has there if he is not a citizen. Tanberg is all right. He had just as much right to vote himself a salary and help give away the license money as the other fellows and there is no more kicking now there is no more money to give away."

Lee vs. Village

"Sometime ago H. W. Lee recovered a judgement against the Village of Thief River Falls for services rendered and money expended in its behalf in the sum of $154.30. We are now informed that the Village, by the City of Thief River Falls, its lawful successor and representative, appeals to the Supreme Court. We can't understand how the Village can appeal if there is none, nor why the City should not appeal if there is one. It is evident that somebody is still 'mixed' on the question."

The St. Hilaire Hotel

"The St. Hilaire is the name of the new twenty room hotel that was thrown open to the public last Monday. It is a fine two story building and well built, has a frontage of 48 feet and is 80 feet deep. Messrs. Bjerk and Tedford, the proprietors of the building let the contract to Frank Mageau less than two months ago and he at once put on a force of men and had it put up in a very short space of time complying strictly with the plans and specifications. On the ground floor is the hotel office, dining room, baggage room, kitchen and four large rooms for the family and hired help. On the next floor is the parlor and twenty bedrooms with electric connections with office. Each room is elegantly furnished with the latest in bedroom suites which goes a long way in making a person feel homelike. This new hotel has been leased by A. McIntosh who has a reputation as a first class hotel manager and who will no doubt have a large trade both local and transient. An elegantly furnished bar in the south room is run by Messrs. Bjerk and Tedford who carry only the purest of goods which are absolutely free from all adulterations, also the finest line of imported and domestic cigars. Special mention should be made of the front of this building which is made of four large plate glass windows, size of each is 6 by 10 feet and the other four, two and a half by 10 feet. This hotel is located within two feet of this great family journal office."

S.D.S.C. Conference Room A

A Regular Board Meeting of Independent School District #564 was held on Monday, June 9, 1997, at 0:00 p.m. in Conference Room A of the School District Service Center.

The following Board members were present: Larry Belmont, Carl Clark, Hank Hallstrom, Jana Larson, Darla Twomey and Steve Young. Also present was Dr. Jerry Robicheau, Superintendent of Schools.

Chairperson Carl Clark called the meeting to order and Clerk Jana Larson established that a quorum was present.

A motion was made by H. Hallstrom and seconded by S. Young to approve the agenda [illegible] as presented [illegible]

Dr. [illegible] reported on behalf of the Multi Events Cultural Center [illegible] meeting that was held last week with the project architects. Dr. [illegible] noted that $2.1 million is left in the fund [illegible] project. The architects will be back to meet with the Joint Powers Board next week to finalize plans for this phase of the project.

[illegible] report on behalf of the Northwest Service Cooperative [illegible] looking at a workers compensation pool. He also noted that Cooperative personnel settled for 3% salary increases for the upcoming year.

Business Manager Harry Nelson reviewed the June 2nd investment report. The recommendations to adjust the mileage rate paid to staff and renew group life insurance were also reviewed noting the mileage rate would go from 31¢ to 31.5¢, which is the rate set by the IRS, and the recommended life insurance rates are the same as the current rates. Harry noted the bids received to purchase buses. Harry reported that the Food Services prices on the agenda for approval reflect no changes from the current school year and the resolution to move the 1996-97 revenue and expense budgets into the 1997-98 school year is done since we need to do something before July 1st in order to operate.

Superintendent Jerry Robicheau informed the Board that the arbitrator had ruled in favor of the district and denied the grievance regarding pay for duties performed when a department is without a supervisor. Jerry reported he had met with the TRFEA Meet and Confer Committee regarding issues dealing with substitutes including pay rates, availability and the possibility of providing inservice on such things as discipline. Jerry reviewed discussions held at the June 5th School Board Inservice relating to goals for the district and the need for program improvement by expanding opportunities for student learning. Jerry noted that the district goals for the 1997-98 school year are founded on the Strategic Plan that was approved by the Board in 1994 and includes action steps and designates individuals who will be accountable for the accomplishment of the goals. Information was distributed regarding ramifications of actions of the Governor on school district budgets.

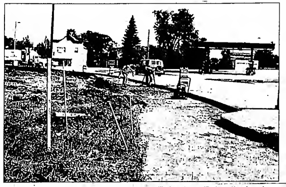
Bituminous resurfacing in Thief River Falls is proceeding at about 2,000 tons per day. Originally, the project called for about 20,000 tons of bituminous. As of Wednesday, crews had about 6,000 tons of bituminous down. There are three crews working on the project, and with good weather they expect to be done in about 10 days.



Construction at First and Pennington is proceeding quickly now. Given continued good weather, crews should be done with paving within a week. The project has realigned the curve from First Street onto Pennington Avenue. It will result in a sharper curve and force traffic to slow. It will also give traffic from Hugo's a clearer vision to the north for approaching traffic. Though it appears to be much wider, the width of the lane has been extended only by five feet. The extension will also provide a right turn lane at Hugo's.

Legislature addresses outdoor recreational issues in '97 session next session with more support. For my part, I will continue to offer what I believe is a more reasonable solution to their concerns. If this year's Senate vote is any indicator, I believe we will be successful next year, too.

Finally, passage of a Constitutional Right to Hunt and Fish was considered briefly this year, but then was put aside. Environmental activists in other states have attempted to interfere with private citizens while they were legally hunting and fishing, and this state constitutional change would ensure that law-abiding hunters and anglers would be protected. The Senate Environment and Natural Resources committee, of which I am a member, passed a bill which would have put a state Constitutional Amendment before the people in the November 1998 election.

Although the bill didn't pass this year, I will continue to do whatever is necessary to ensure that Minnesota hunters and anglers may continue to enjoy our state's outdoor resources. Hunting and fishing is part of our state's heritage, and deserves to be protected.

If you have any questions or comments for me, please feel free to give me a call or send a letter any time. It's an honor representing you in the Minnesota Senate.

Pennington Co. SWCD senior division winners from essay contest listed

Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District has named winners in the three divisions of its annual essay contest. First, second and third place winners in each division received cash prizes of $50, $30 and $20 respectively.

Sponsors in addition to the SWCD were Farmers Union Oil Company, Thief River Salvage, Farmers Co-op Grain and Seed, Evergreen Implement, Northwest Grain, Nelson Implement and Anderson Power and Equipment.

First place winners in each division were scheduled for publication in The Times and Northern Watch editorials in the issues of July 2, 7 and 9. Second and third place winners in each division are being published in The Times as space permits. Theme for the contest was "Ecosystems—Pieces of Nature's Puzzle."

First place winner in the Senior Division was Julie Martell, a 16-year old 10th grader at Lincoln high school. Entries by second and third place winners in the Senior Division are published below.

"PONDS"

An ecosystem is the interaction of all the plant, animal and human population with each other and with all of the non-living things such as soil, water, temperature, air, light, wind and minerals in their environment.

The size of an ecosystem varies for each organism. An ecosystem can be as small as a lily pad in a pond or as large as an ocean. Earth is an ecosystem called a biosphere. Ecosystems are like pieces of a puzzle, they connect to each other.

Some of the interactions that take place in an ecosystem include competition among its population for food, water, living space and other resources. Another interaction is the transferring of energy by photosynthesis. Other interactions that take place in an ecosystem are called cycles. A cycle takes place when a resource such a oxygen, carbon or water is used or decomposed, and then returned to the environment.

Some important cycles are the water cycle, carbon-oxygen cycle and the nitrogen cycle. These ponds are an important ecosystem that interact with other ecosystems, but they are in jeopardy of being destroyed, therefore, conservation practices must be used to ensure their survival.

The pond is the ecosystem that I have read about the most. A pond is a small, quiet body of water. The wind and streams carry in currents and organisms that develop into various forms of life. It is usually shallow enough for sunlight to reach the bottom. Sunlight, therefore, enables rooted plants to grow across the bottom from shore to shore.

Many ponds have rooted plants that either grow entirely under water or have parts that extend above the surface. Leafy plants float on the surface. Microscopic organisms also thrive in most ponds. Ponds have great variety of animal and plant life. Some pond animals include birds, crayfish, fish, frogs, insects and turtles. The exact kinds of plants and animals found in ponds are determined by the soil, quality of water and location.

Pond conditions can be affected by all natural conditions or by natural conditions mixed with human interactions. Water levels normally rise and fall because of rainfall. As water levels change, the type and amount of plant growth also change. As the numbers and types of plants change, some animals may become numerous while others may decline in numbers.

Many natural processes help to maintain ponds. For example, floods and the movement of ice may deepen ponds. Humans' activities, on the other hand, can seriously harm ponds. For example, the quality of a pond rapidly deteriorates when people fill it with garbage or other wastes.

Ponds may be formed by natural conditions or by human beings. Some of the different kinds of ponds are alpine ponds, bog ponds, ice-formed ponds, meadow-stream ponds, riverine ponds, sinkhole ponds and tundra ponds. Many farmers build a farm pond for flood control or recreation, or to secure a supply of water.

Ponds are making changes all the time. Nature and humans cause the ponds to change. Water levels rise and fall because of rain or snow. When the water level changes, this changes the type and amount of plant life growing. The animal life then may change, depending on which plants are most numerous. Other natural processes that may change a pond are floods or movement of ice.

Humans may also cause changes in ponds. These changes aren't always good. An example of this is dumping wastes or garbage in a pond. Another example is acid rain. Water molecules in the air mix with pollutants like burned oil or gas. The droplets can travel miles and can pollute the water and kill wildlife.

It is important to use conservation practices because ponds are of great importance. There are organizations to try to save the natural ponds. Two examples of groups are the North American Waterfowl Management Plan and the Joint Venture.

The North American Waterfowl Management Plan is a cooperative effort of citizens, government, agencies and concerned organizations. Joint Venture works with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. These diverse groups are joining forces to stop the downward trend of the continent's waterfowl population.

The U.S. Prairie Potholes Joint Venture is one of the priority initiatives. Goals are to (1) protect and enhance 1.1 million acres of public and private land in the prairie pothole region by the year 2000 to increase waterfowl numbers and provide benefits to non-game and threatened and endangered flora and fauna, (2) emphasize habitat protection on private land and work with landowners on soil, water and wildlife conservation projects, (3) increase waterfowl production on existing public wildlife areas, and (4) develop opportunities to balance wildlife, agriculture and water development needs.

Ponds can be of great value to our land. They can recharge ground water and collect water run off which reduces soil erosion and downstream flooding. They are host to unique and valuable plant and animal life.

For many years, most people thought we could manage our resources in parts, not as a whole. We now understand the need to make resource management choices based on the effects the choices will have on the whole ecosystem and the ecosystem connected to it.

In conclusion, ecosystems are always changing. As a result, natural causes and changes from human actions can have a positive, small or negative effect on our ecosystem. For many years, people thought we could manage our resources in part, not as a whole. We now understand the importance of resource management choices based on the effect these decisions will have on the ecosystem and those ecosystems connected to it.

Senior Division winners of second and third place awards of $30 and $20 respectively in the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District essay contest are Elizabeth Schoon (right) and Michelle Peterick. First place winner was Julie Martell, who is pictured with her winning essay in the editorial section of the Wednesday, July 9 issue of The Times.

Is a river your best friend or your worst enemy? I know this is not a commonly asked question and if you cannot determine the correct answer, you are not alone.

Someone asked me this very same question that led me to become very curious about the right answer. After some research and a lot of hard thinking I realized that there is no right or wrong answer. In the process, though, I did find out some extremely interesting things about this ecosystem that I have lived near since a toddler. I have many unforgettable memories involving this Red Lake River.

The word ecosystem was created to stress the concept of seeing each different habitat, being large or small, in its own ecosystem. Each of these ecosystems is a small puzzle piece of our whole earthly environment. If one piece is missing the others will be set off balance and be left to repair itself.

Since the way an ecosystem works is by following a long processed system, missing puzzle pieces, even if they are small, are more important than we realize. Every plant and animal plays its own important role.

The major parts of an ecosystem are the producers, consumers, decomposers and the non-living or abiotic components, consisting of dead organic matter and nutrients in the soil and water. A definition of an ecosystem tells us that it is the relationship of a community of organisms interacting with its environment. This definition is almost self-explanatory when you realize that we are surrounded by ecosystems in our daily life. It's quite a concept to know we have ecosystems in our own back yards already hard at work keeping our world spinning.

Rivers and streams are more than flowing waters that carry dissolved gases, minerals and bits of sand and silt in a headlong course to the sea. In a sense, they are like factories. In one way they work busily and follow a careful procedure like a factory producing goods. It is also so much more complex than any man-made factory could ever be.

For example, when we dump wastes in a factory we can fix the mistake by taking the contents out and putting them where they belong. However, when we put wastes into our rivers there is no efficient way to fix our mistake. By not taking care of our precious ecosystems we are affecting not only ourselves but we are hurting all of the species for which the river provides a shelter and habitat.

The river provides us with water to drink and fish to eat. However if we do not stop the pollution and other human threats in the river we will lead ourselves into a slow destruction of this vital, important river which God created. This breakdown does not have to happen because we are in control and it is in our hands.

It is important to know that we can help restore and maintain the health of our river systems. Education is the key. It will take hard work and a lot of communication and team work, but it is not as hard as we think.

Can you imagine life without rivers? It would be a tough adjustment to handle not only economically but also recreationally. There are so many ways that we can enjoy our rivers and so many memories we can make.

I think we take what we have on earth for granted because our parents and their parents also did. This is a cycle that can and must be stopped before it's too late. Our children are depending on us to ensure them a future that is safe and fun as we have been lucky enough to enjoy. No one can do everything but everyone can do something. This is the key thing to remember for complete success.

It is true I have learned a tremendous amount of useful information on the river's ecosystem by reading and researching the topic. The river's numerous ways of uses and contributions to and for the world are uncountable. From recreation to transportation, the river can be our best friend.

It can also be our worst enemy, like in the recent flooding of our Red River Valley. I, along with millions of others, have watched the endless stories on the news about the devastation caused by the waters of the rivers. Seeing the effects the river really does have on us has been a cold reality.

I often wonder if any one of the sandbags I helped fill made a difference. It is hard to watch other people's misery. It does make me realize that along with the many wonderful things the river does for us, there are just as many terrible things it is capable of doing in return.

I feel we will all learn a lot from this disaster. Perhaps maybe this is what was needed to wake us up to and make us look at the power and importance of the river. Now we need to concentrate on our job of keeping the rivers and other ecosystems healthy and safe for future generations.

County fair gets break in the weather

Light rain Saturday no problem; Bullride '97 draws well; $10,607.25 in premiuyms awarded; carnival sets record

Mark Kuhn of Mandan, ND, turned in two high scoring rides Saturday to win the overall championship of Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair. The 37-year-old Kuhn—who is not a member of the Professional Bull Riders Association which sanctioned Bullride '97—took on the big name pros and headed down the road with first place money of $5,972.40. Kuhn scored 80 points on the bull he is shown riding in the photo above, then marked 85 on his second bull of the evening for the high score among 58 riders competing over Friday and Saturday nights. His total of 165 points was six points higher than the 159 of second place Mike Visnieski of Harrah, OK.

Pennington County Fair completed its five and one-half day run Sunday with a break from the weatherman, record setting carnival sales, $10,607.25 in premiums awarded to exhibitors in 4-H and open classes and enthusiastic crowds totaling about 2,500 for two sessions of Bullride '97 Friday and Saturday nights.

A light rain fell late Saturday afternoon but quit shortly before the 7 p.m. bullride. For the most part weather was cooperative and crowds responded. Rogers Brothers Funland, an old carnival with new ties to Thief River Falls, received good reviews from public and fair board alike for the rides it offered and the appearance and courtesy of personnel.

Carnival Sales A Record

Record carnival sales of approximately $87,000 were reported by Floyd Erickson, past president of the fair board who worked on arrangements for the carnival. He said he was pleased not only that the carnival delivered on everything it said it would do but that the public responded and supported the fair again this year. He said negotiations are underway with the carnival for a future contract.

Auto parking on the grounds, which was conducted this year by the vocal music department from Lincoln high school, also set an all-time record.

Raffle Conducted

[illegible] its bandshell program of [illegible] throughout the afternoons and evenings of the fair, the [illegible] conducted a raffle with prizes awarded Sunday night. Winners are listed the following and are from Thief River Falls unless otherwise noted:

Olson, Sean Stenberg, Dana Holter and Theresa Rupprecht of Thief River Falls, George Panek of Goodridge and Len Wasvick of Warroad.

A share of 51 pig prizes was collected and the hog awarded was purchased by the fair board at the 4-H market livestock auction Sunday afternoon.

Teen hurt, bull lost in accident

by David Hill
Associate Editor

A dozen bulls being used at Bull Ride '97 during the Pennington County Fair escaped from their pens Saturday evening. One of the large bulls was involved in an accident on Highway 59 that left one person with minor injuries.

Minnesota State Patrol responded to a report of an accident on Highway 59 and a short distance from Highway 1 at 11:59 p.m. Saturday, July 19. Upon investigation it was learned that a northbound car driven by Kristi Price of Newfolden, 18, had collided with a large bull standing in the driving lane of the highway. When the bull, which was used in the bullrides held over the weekend in Thief River Falls, was struck it went over the hood and windshield and onto the roof of the vehicle and then rolled into the ditch. Because of its injuries it had to be destroyed. Shawndee Price, 14, Newfolden, a passenger in the vehicle, had some lacerations and was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls where she was treated and released. Neither Kristi or Shawndee were wearing seat belts. The vehicle driven by Price, a 1988 Oldsmobile Cutlass, was considered a total loss.

This wasn't the only bull to escape, however. As the State Patrol officer was writing up the accident report, officials were already trying to roundup the errant bulls, which had made their escape by going through a fence at Joppru's Meats.

According to Roger Shaffer, one of the event organizers, the bulls were owned by Joe Simon's Dakota West Rodeo Co. of Minneapolis and leased by David Bailey Rodeo Co. When contacted Monday, Joe Simon's Dakota West Rodeo Co. did not know that one of the bulls had to be destroyed and did not know which one it could have been.

Bob Cardinal, Northwest Sentence to Service (STS) supervisor, said he was supervising a crew taking down pens at the Grandstand when they heard the sirens. He said he wondered what was going on and he soon found out. He said his crew was asked to help roundup the bulls, explaining that 12 had gotten out of pens near Joppru's. One was involved in an accident and another just stood around the outside of the fence at Joppru's, leaving 10 on the loose.

Cardinal said they learned that the bulls were around the Jim Brizegno residence so they set up the pens in their yard. The bulls, however, decided to travel in a different direction, and the STS crew had to take down the pens again.

Cardinal said they began following the trail left by the bulls. He said it went north and then east and then north again. Eventually the bulls crossed Highway 32 heading east and then north. He said he had difficulty keeping track of just how far they were away from the town because they were traveling in one-mile sections trying to cross paths with the bulls and to get ahead of them. Eventually they caught up with the bulls near Highway 32. Cardinal said they stopped what little traffic there was on the highway and set up the pens again.

Cardinal said two handlers explained that as long as the crew was calm and stayed a fair distance from the bulls there wouldn't be much of a chance that the bulls would charge the would-be cowboys from STS. Cardinal said that's just what happened. He said they were about 100 to 150 yards from the bulls, which looked like a walking wall, when they yelled once. The bulls stopped, stared at them for awhile, and then slowly turned around. With the STS cowboys following at a safe distance, the bulls just walked into the pen. A truck backed up to the corral gate and the bulls entered the back of the truck. The STS crew then took down the pens and Highway 32 was open to traffic.

By the time the bulls were rounded up it was 5:30 to 6 a.m. Cardinal said what was supposed to be a four hour job at the fair turned into a 12-hour job. Cardinal added that the STS crew members are now experts in putting up and taking down temporary pens.

Mark Kuhn wins $5,972.40 Prize at Bullride '97

Mark Kuhn of Mandan, ND, made the most of his opportunities Saturday and turned in two high scoring rides to win top money of $5,972.40 at Bullride '97 during the Pennington County Fair.

Fifty-eight bullriders took part in the event which was sanctioned by the Professional Bull Riders Association (PBR) and offered points toward qualifying for the PBR Finals in Las Vegas, NV this fall. Kuhn, however, is not a card holder in the PBR and entered in the open spots available after the PBR registration closed.

The 37-year old cowboy—a veteran by bullriding standards—had an 80-point ride in the first go-round Saturday night to qualify among the top 10 for the short go-round finals. He then took control for an 85-point ride—tops scene at Bullride '97— in the finals and high total of 165 on two head.

Second place went to Mike Visnieski of Harrah, OK, who scored 159 on two head and won $4,266. Visnieski also rode Saturday night.

Third place resulted in a tie between Tater Porter of Kissimmee, FL, who was leading after Friday night with that night's top total of 158 points, and Chris [illegible] of Queen Creek, AZ, who rode two head on Saturday. They each received a check for $2,133.

Only other rider to cover two bulls was Jed Ward of Newton, KS, who scored a total of 150 points and took home a fifth place check for $1,023.81.

Australian cowboy Owen Dunn, now of Mena, AR, and Ryan Langston of Locust Grove, OK, shared the high score of 84 points in the qualifying round, both riding on Saturday night. They each earned $1,493.10 for high score in the first go-round and $597.24 for a share of sixth and seventh places in the overall for a total of $2,090.34 each.

DeWayne Evans of Canadian, TX, earned $853.20 for third place in the first go-round and $341.28 for eighth place in the overall for a total of $1,194.48.

Also finishing in the money was Charles Litchfield of [illegible], TX whose 81 point ride in the first go-round on Friday held up for fourth place and $126.60.

In total the payout was $21,330 with the prize pool including $8,700 in entry fees (58 riders x $150 entry fee), $15,000 added monies from Bullride '97 sponsors, less 10 percent commission to the PBR.

CRP acres in area opened for hay use

Marshall and Pennington counties have received word that their request for Emergency CRP haying has been approved.

Allowing CRP to be hayed will provide needed relief to livestock producers, particularly those who suffered from the severe blizzards last winter. Haying will be authorized until August 31, 1997, or until disaster conditions, reviewed monthly, no longer exist — whichever comes first.

Only livestock operations located within approved counties are eligible for emergency haying of CRP acreage. CRP participants who do not own or lease livestock may rent or lease the haying privilege to an eligible livestock producer located in an approved county. Hay from CRP acreage may not be sold and participants are limited to one cutting.

CRP rental payments will be reduced to account for the acres hayed. Payments will be reduced by 25 percent on acreage hayed after July 15, 1997.

Other restrictions and limitations also apply. CRP participants can get more information and must apply for permission to hay CRP acreage at their local FSA office. The Marshall County FSA office can be reached at 745-4251. The Pennington County FSA office can be reached at 681-1612.

Approval must be obtained before participants begin haying.

Crazy Day on Saturday

Crazy Day will take place in Thief River Falls Saturday, July 26 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. with a number of activities included in the event. (See schedule in the advertisement in this issue.) The one-day event is one of the community's major retail promotions of the year.

Inspecting condition of alfalfa cut during a hay day Monday afternoon on the Don Joppru property west of Thief River Falls are Ray Thompson (left), Marshall county extension educator from Warren, and Dr. George Marx, dairy specialist at the University of Minnesota in Crookston. Hay was cut using several different operations and will be checked after baling for nutritional value. About 50 people attended the demonstration and program.

Tater Porter of Kissimmee, FL, finished Friday's ride in Thief River Falls in first place during the bullride. After Saturday's ride, however, he finished third overall. He finished with a total of 168 points and earned $2,133.

Once a bucking bull succeeds in getting his rider off balance, the results are predictable. This speckled bull provided by stock contractor David Bailey of Tahlequah, OK, had all the right moves to shed his rider in fairly short order at Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair.

Mark Kuhn wins at Bullride '97

With 17 completed eight-second rides among the money winners, the total computes to earnings of nearly $157 a second. Of course, there is travel time.

For instance, Tater Porter of Kissimmee, Florida, drove to Dallas, Texas, to catch a ride to Thief River Falls with five other bullriders in a van. They left Dallas Thursday and drove 23 hours to arrive here in time to ride Friday night. Immediately after the rides here they left for an estimated 22-hour drive to Tupelo, Mississippi where they were scheduled to ride Saturday night.

Only one injury of consequence was noted during the event, thanks in large part to the experience of the riders who knew when to get off and the quick action of bullfighters Eric Olson and Ray Wiley. Mike Hermanson of Bismarck, ND, sustained two broken ribs in the first ride of the evening Saturday when his spur caught in the flank strap of his bull. He was treated and released from Northwest Medical Center the same evening.

ON MY MIND

Kim Chadwick-Quade

Don't say what you're thinking

I've been known to do strange things. I also think strange thoughts and oftentimes say strange things. I recently realized how oddly my mind sometimes operates. It goes back to an innocent incident about two weeks ago. It happens to almost everyone now and then. I was stopped by a policeman for "possible" speeding.

Let me preface my story by saying that I respect all law enforcement people and appreciate the job they do. While stopped on the side of Highway 59 just outside of Callaway, I was very polite to the town policeman and realized I had made a mistake. I will slow down next time. But my mind wouldn't shut up, it wanted to say all these silly things.

It was a Monday night and I was on my weekly trip to Detroit Lakes. By now my car knows all the dips and curves in Highway 59 (and it doesn't particularly like them). I don't consider myself a speedster. In fact, while on my weekly sojourn I'm usually the passee not the passer. Five miles an hour over the speed limit is tops (most of the time anyway).

I was just entering and exiting Callaway (which doesn't take long), when I noticed that the town policeman was ready to make a U-turn. He executed that action and was soon following me. I thought I heard a siren but had to turn down the volume on the radio to confirm my suspicions, rock music can be very deceiving. Soon I saw the red flashing lights and knew that, most likely, he wanted to talk to me and not the guy in the car ahead of me.

Slowly and carefully I pulled to the side of the road and placed the car in park. While he was radioing in my license plate number to make sure I wasn't an escaped convict, I thought of all the possible excuses I could make when he came to the window. I'd heard other people tell tales of their narrow escapes with a ticket-and wondered what would work for me.

On my way to the hospital to have a baby? Not likely.

The speedometer must be broken. Possibly.

I won big at the casino and in the excitement didn't notice how fast I was driving. Fat chance!

But by the time he arrived at the window, nothing convincing and workable had come to mind. He said, "Do you know why I stopped you?"

I pondered a moment. I wanted to say, "So you could compliment me on my choice of automobiles?" "To reward me for wearing my seat belt?" "To see how clean the inside of my car was?" "To tell me to have a nice day?"

Instead, I ventured a guess. "Because I was going 40 in a 35?"

He said, "Try __ in a __. Actually I had you at __, but you slowed down before I could lock on." (You don't think I'm actually going to reveal these numbers?)

Next, he asked to see my driver's license. Reviewing it, he asked if all the information was accurate. I confirmed that. What I really wanted to say was, "Everything except my weight."

The next question was, "Have you had any violations in the past year?"

I merely said, "Nope. None." What I really wanted to say: "I've NEVER had a ticket. Not in the last 15 years."

Proof of insurance came next. I floundered around in the glove compartment and produced a handful of expired "proof of insurance cards." I was about to question out loud why I couldn't find a current one when I remembered it was sitting on the kitchen table waiting to be paid.

As he walked back to his car to confirm all that I told him, I considered my fate. I saw dollar signs. There goes that new pair of shoes I was going to buy.

He came back, handed me my license and said: "I think you better slow down."

I said "thank you." I wanted to say, "Through Callaway, anyway."

That evening I was a little late for dinner with my parents. I said driving through Callaway took longer than I expected. I was just glad I didn't say what I was thinking or I'd probably still be in Callaway.

Arts Council plans musical October 22-26

by Rob Burkel, Member
Thief River Falls
Community Arts Council

On October 22-26 the Thief River Falls Community Arts council and Northland Community and Technical College will present the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical The Sound of Music.

It is the story of Maria, a young Austrian woman studying to take her religious vows, who finds her true calling when she becomes a governess to the Baron von Trapp family. This is a classic in my home. My wife and I make viewing it an annual event. One could say I knew everything about The Sound of Music, or so I thought.

What I didn't know is that The Sound of Music is based on a true story. Furthermore, the story is written by none other than Maria herself. Her full name is Maria Augusta Trapp and in 1949 she published The Story of the Trapp Family Singers (Image). It is the book that Rodgers and Hammerstein used to draw material for the musical.

The beginning of the book is pleasingly like watching the movie, starting when Maria is asked to temporarily leave the abbey. As she states in chapter one, "I was the black sheep of the community.. my upbringing had been more that of a wild boy than of a lady."

The Reverend Mother tells Maria, "The only important thing... is to find out what is the will of God and to do it... It seems to be the will of God that you leave us for awhile."

With that, Maria is on her way to the home of Baron von Trapp. When she reaches the home and is introduced to the Baron, we read how he summons the children with a whistle. "I now expected to hear a loud banging of doors and a chorus of giggles and shouts," Maria writes. "Instead, an almost solemn little procession descended step by step in well mannered silence—four girls and two boys, all dressed in blue sailor suits."

There are differences from the musical, of course. The children's names are all different (much more Austrian) and one of the children is actually bedridden. Overall, The Story of the Trapp Family Singers is an entertaining book which spawned the very entertaining The Sound of Music.

In late October we will be able to see how our local talent recreates this enjoyable musical. Auditions will be September 4 and 5.

SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

. . . Mosquitoes Are Driving Me Batty

I was going to write about something else, but as I sit here at my computer, I am scratching big welts on my legs, ankles, arms and neck and thinking about how much I dislike mosquitoes and other biting bugs. Aren't we having entirely too many of those little pests this year?

I made the mistake of going outdoors today. Yes, that was an unusual activity for me, because everybody knows I rarely venture out of the house from May to August unless it is absolutely necessary.

It doesn't seem to matter how fast I move when I am outside, the mosquitoes still get me. I try to hurry as fast as possible, but, since I am getting older, it is harder and harder to move so fast that I am outrunning the nasty biting bugs - and this year they seem to be even faster than usual.

I hurry out to the car and find that several of them have fastened their nasty little probosces (or I suppose it would be "probuscees") into me during my short walk. Then there they are with me in the car. This is not a good thing because then they are able to bite and feast on whichever part of me they want to and I can't do anything about it. From experience I have found that it is dangerous to try to swat mosquitoes while driving - one either has to stop and swat or else risk having an accident while swatting in a moving vehicle.

When I come home from work the dog usually meets me at the door and I normally bend over from outside the house, fasten his chain to his collar, and let him out as I go in. Now I find I need to protect my rear while I am bending over too, because darned if those mosquitoes don't find a spot to take a bite of me as soon as I am stopped and bending. It is very miserable to spend the rest of the day trying to be careful not to scratch a mosquito bite on one's behind.

And this year's mosquitoes are big, too! I have seen some that are as big as birds (well, hummingbirds, anyway) and I have been bitten by them. Their bite appears to be as big as their bodies - the itching goes on for days and the welt is big as a quarter and also lasts for days. Many days I am walking around with big, red lumps all over me, and, believe me, it is not a pretty sight.

Needless to say, a bottle of insect repellent has a prominent place in my kitchen. It sits, like an icon, in a place of importance on my counter, and I put it on every time I am going outside, even if it is just to take out the garbage. Even putting out the dog (from the inside) or getting the morning paper lets in a few of those nasty things. I may start putting on the Off to do those chores too. Maybe I should just put it on in the morning every day, kind of like deodorant, and that might work better.

Nothing seems to appease the itching of this year's mosquito bites either. There are all kinds of products in the store, but it seems they must be applied every half hour or so to do any good. The only thing that seems to relieve my itching is plain old soap and water, and it isn't always possible to take a shower whenever I have an itchy mosquito bite.

I've heard that there aren't mosquitoes like this in other states. My son who lives in Washington state swears that they don't have mosquitoes there like they do here. Wouldn't it be heavenly not to spend the summer swatting? Could it be that in other parts of the country people don't stand around slapping or scratching themselves on various parts of their bodies in the summertime?

I heard that bats eat mosquitoes. In fact, on the television show I saw, people were encouraged to build little bat houses and set them very high up in their back yard and the bats would come and live in the houses and then fly out in the evening and eat mosquitoes. I am no fan of bats, but I am getting so desperate that this idea is beginning to sound good to me.

I wonder if there is anyone in town who knows how to build bat houses and would want to sell a couple. I know just where I would put them too. But bats don't bite, do they?

Granddaughter of Thelma Bendickson joins NBC to broadcast new WNBA

Lisa Malosky

Lisa Malosky, 35, granddaughter of Thelma Bendickson of Thief River Falls, continues to climb the national ladder in television sports broadcasting, according to a story in the Duluth News-Tribune.

Lisa is the oldest of four children of University of Minnesota—Duluth football coach Jim Malosky and his wife Lilah. Lilah is the daughter of Thelma and the late Ben Bendickson, a graduate of Lincoln high school and a Miss Thief River Falls winner around 1950.

According to the News-Tribune article, Malosky covered the first game of the Women's National Basketball Association for NBC, working with Hannah Storm and Anne Meyers. She was the courtside reporter, joining teams in the huddle and doing on-floor analysis and interviews—similar to the job Ahmad Rashad and Jim Gray handled for NBC during the recent NBA playoffs.

Malosky got the lucrative WNBA assignment—which runs throughout the summer—following positive reviews of her work on two regional telecasts of Houston Rockets games this past season. She has come to know a number of people at NBC during her four years in Houston and has covered the Rockets the past two seasons.

"Hannah Storm is a good friend and so is Greg Gumbel," she told the Duluth newspaper. "Actually, Marv Albert was in town, saw me on the air and was instrumental in me getting this assignment. He put in a good word for me with NBC and, on his recommendation, they gave me a shot to do the two Rocket regular-season games. That led to this."

Malosky works regularly for the Houston Rockets and Fox Sports, serving as a studio host and sideline reporter for their telecasts, and will do color on six Houston Comets WNBA games in that locale. She has been in television work for 13 years, including a four-year stint in the late 1980s as a news reporter and weekend anchor at KDLH-TV in Duluth.

"If I were to have picked a sport to cover for my national debut it would be basketball," she said. She played high school basketball at Duluth Central and and college basketball at St. Olaf in Northfield.

Malosky said the WNBA is much more physical and faster than either college ball or the Olympics. NBC reportedly carries WNBA games on Saturday afternoons during the summer.

Leah Kenner competed in Miss Teen

Leah Kenner

Leah Kenner, daughter of Lyle and Peggy Kenner of Thief River Falls, was among the candidates competing for the title of Miss Teen of Minnesota at the 1997 State Pageant, which was held in St. Cloud July 17-19. The winner of the pageant competition received a $2,000 savings bond to be used at the college or university of her choice. In addition, her high school will receive $500 from the Miss Teen of America Scholarship and Recognition Program. The new state titleholder will also be eligible to compete for the National Title of Miss Teen of America and vie for additional scholarships, prizes and awards.

Each state candidate was scored in six areas including scholastic record; achievement and service to school and community; personal development of hobbies, talents and skills; general awareness written test; personality projection in formal wear; and judge's interview.

Kenner is involved in a number of activities at Lincoln High school including volleyball, band, varsity singers, pep band, Project 4 Teens, and is a member of the National Honors Society. Outside of school she is a member of the Thief River Falls Skating Club.

"I am looking forward to this opportunity to meet other young motivated girls. My goal in participating in this pageant is to meet, and hopefully build some friendships with other teenage girls around Minnesota," said Kenner.

Kenner was sponsored by Diamonds and Designs, Sheers, New Attractions, Northern Veterinary Service, and Dr. Benjamin Saylor, DDS.

ACTIVITIES

Ring the Bells

Young children are fascinated by bells and the sounds they make. Collect as many different kinds of bells as you can, such as jingle bells, a sleigh bell, a dinner bell, a cowbell and a bird cage bell. Let your child play the bells and listen to their different sounds. With your child, decide on a name to identify each of the bells. Then have your child turn away while you ring one of the bells. Ask your child to tell you which bell it was. Repeat with remaining bells.

PARENTING TIPS

Inexpensive Family Fun

Now that warm weather is here, families are looking for simple inexpensive outings away from home. Here are a few ideas:

•Plan a picnic. It doesn't have to be elaborate, nor must it take place in a designated picnic area. Gather together a blanket, sandwiches, fruit and something to drink and you'll have the makings of a fine picnic, no matter where it's held.

A jar of bubbles or an inflatable beach ball can provide needed picnic recreation. If the weather is bad and you're picnicking in your den, substitute scissors and paper to make paper dolls and snowflakes for a picnic activity.

•Go camping. If conventional campgrounds are too far away, put up a tent in your back yard or on your porch. A blanket over a clothesline will do. Much of the fun in such a trip is in the planning: children can help make lists, pack, and set up camp.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

While outdoors with your child, take time to stop and watch things that children notice, such as flowers, small animals, and insects. Talk with your child about what you see, ask simple questions about what he/she sees.

PRAIRIE RAMBLING

Gretchen Beito

Some settlers came to Thief River Falls not by covered wagon but by rented box car and passenger train. Thirteen-year old Josie Phillipson Bourgenol's family undertook just such a move from Brookings, South Dakota, arriving in Thief River Falls in early December 1898. This article was transcribed from her 73 page memoir written at age 89.

JOSIE Part 2

One night about two weeks after the Phillipsons moved in, they were awakened by an awful racket. It sounded like someone was beating on tin pans, and dogs were howling. Father got up and went out to investigate as the noise made the horses in the barn restless. He came in and said that the neighbors' daughter had been married. In those days a shivaree was the order of the day.

It was now near Christmas. The Phillipsons were asked to come to the Methodist Sunday School and join the Christmas program. It did not take long to get acquainted and soon Josie had many good friends.

Skating had been Josie's favorite sport in Brookings as she got her first pair of skates when she was six years old. Her brother Henry got a pair later and they were always skating or coasting down the long hills in South Dakota. Thief River Falls was a different country: no hills and no prairie, mostly brush and trees. She was happy that here they had the river to skate on and could coast down the banks of the river.

The school was just two blocks from home so after New Years the older children, Marie, Henry and Josie, started school. They attended school until March when they moved to the farm their parents found. So that is how they started life in Minnesota in January, 1899.

In the latter part of March 1899, Father and Henry began to move machinery that Father had brought up to the farm. The farm was located 15 miles north of Thief River Falls. After all the machinery was moved, Father put the hayrack on the bob sleds as there was still enough snow left on the road. They loaded much of their household goods on it including their chickens which they placed in a large box on the back of the load. Then everyone in the family, including their dog Rover, got on the hayrack. It was a very rough and bumpy road but a beautiful late winter day.

All went well for 7 miles. Then they struck a very bad place when the sleds slid to the side and tipped over. There were no ditches at that time so they were lucky. They all rolled out in the snow, some of the furniture and the box of chickens included.

Mother told Josie to sit down on the side of the road and hold baby Ernest on her lap with a quilt wrapped around them both. The rest of the family got busy: they had to unload some before they could lift the sled up on the road again. It looked so funny to see them working around, the chickens cackling, the dog barking, that Josie couldn't help but giggle in spite of trouble. Later Josie heard Father tell people that no matter how bad things looked, Josie could always see something funny in it.

After about an hour's work they started again and arrived at their new home about 6 o'clock. The farmhouse was not a very pleasant place to come to whether inside or outside. The house had been empty for a month and cattle had been around the house. The people had not left things very clean inside. The house was made of logs with two very large rooms downstairs and a room upstairs over the front room. Everyone got very busy and soon had it cleaned out fairly well, stoves and beds up and a good supper made, early to bed as they were all tired and ready for sleep.

The next morning they were up very early as Father was going back to Thief River Falls to get the rest of their belongings. Mother did not like to have Father go alone and Henry was only 10 years old, so Josie got to go along. She was always ready for excitement!

They started their 15 mile journey at 6 in the morning. They worked all that day and got the load ready to go. The next morning they started back. When they got outside they were disappointed as a bad snowstorm blew a hard wind from the north which they had to face. There was nothing to do but start out. They sat on the load part of the time but most of the time they walked. Father walked beside the load driving the horses and Josie walked behind trying to keep out of the wind.

It took them five hours to make the fifteen miles to their home. If ever a home looked good to them, the old log house did. It was cozy and warm and Mother soon had a good meal ready for them.

Samantha Jarde of the New Solum 4-H club won a Grand Champion award with her painting in the 4-H division at Creative Arts Junior during the 1997 Pennington County Fair.

This young rider didn't notice the ewe turn sign and kept going straight when the ewe turned. Action was from the Bullride '97 Mutton Bustin' event.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793 come to the aid of the Pennington County 4-H program this summer with a donation to purchase a portable digital livestock scale. Pennington county 4-H livestock exhibitors Amber (left) and Ashley Morkrid are pictured with Commander David Foisberg of Post 2793. On the scale is LaVerne Hamre's ox "Ola."

This sheep looks a little embarrassed (dare we say sheepish?) that its rider fell off during Mutton Bustin' at Bullride '97 during the Pennington County Fair.

Samantha Jerde of the New Solum 4-H club won a Grand Champion award with her painting in the 4-H division of Creative Arts, Junior, during the 1997 Pennington County Fair.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793 came to the aid of the Pennington County 4-H program this summer with a donation to purchase a portable digital livestock scale. Pennington county 4-H livestock exhibitors Amber (left) and Ashley Moikrid are pictured with Commander David Forsberg of Post 2793. On the scale is LaVerne Hamre's ox "Ole."

This young rider didn't notice the ewe turn sign and kept going straight when the ewe turned. Action was from the Bullride '97 Mutton Bustin' event.

This sheep looks a little embarrassed (dare we say sheepish?) that its rider fell off during Mutton Bustin' at Bullride '97 during the Pennington County Fair.

Perfect form is shown by sheep and rider in this dash across the bullriding arena at the Pennington County Fair. Mutton Bustin' was an added attraction of Bullride '97.

Little gals as well as little guys joined in the Mutton Bustin' sheep riding entertainment Friday and Saturday evenings during Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair.

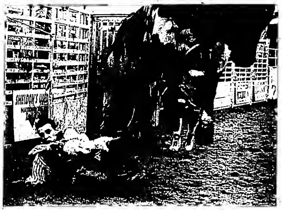
When this cowboy was bucked off the wrong side of his bull and got hung up in the wrap of his bull rope (top photo), bullfighters Eric Olsen (left) and Ray Wiley rushed to his rescue. Luckily the cowboy lifesavers were able to turn the bull and allow the cowboy to free his hand and avoid serious injury. Action was at Bullride '97 during the Pennington County Fair.

Ray Wiley, who leads the Wrangler Bullfight Tour in total money won, shows some of his moves during Bullride '97 at the Pennington County Fair. Wiley and Eric Olsen teamed up to do an excellent job of cowboy protection for the 58 riders who competed over two nights.

In the top photo of this sequence of Times' photos, bullrider Mike Hermanson (left) of Bismarck, ND, gets ready for the opening ride of Saturday night's Bullride '97 performance at the Pennington County Fair while stock contractor David Bailey watches. In the second photo, Hermanson appears to come out clean, but his spur caught as he was bucked off and he suffered some bad blows. He scrambled into the bucking chute where he required attention from chiropractor Kent Kolnz (in hat) and personnel from the local ambulance service.



After turning in a complete ride on a National Finals Rodeo bull named "Alligator," this cowboy still had to find a way down without using the elevator. Fortunately Alligator's leap carried him over the fallen rider and the heavy hooves did no damage.

25th annual threshing bee to be held at Grove farm on August 2 and 3

by Beth Jeffrey

It all started with a farmer buying a piece of history and wanting to share it with his friends and neighbors. Twenty-five years later it has grown to the single largest attraction in Lake of the Woods County.

In 1971, Carlos Grove of Roosevelt purchased a Minneapolis Steam Engine at an estate sale. Meanwhile, that winter, an Advance Steam Engine was being restored by others in the Grove Farm workshop. The close proximity of these two antique agricultural pieces got people interested in trying their hand at some old-time farming. On a perfect Sunday afternoon in the fall of 1972 [illegible] was gathered to the Grove Farm and the first Threshing Bee was held.

This is the [illegible] beginnings of an annual event that will be celebrating its 25th anniversary this August 2 and 3, Saturday and Sunday, at the Grove Farm located nine miles north of Roosevelt on County road 17. Or the show can be reached by taking the [illegible] east of Warroad on County road 12. Extra activities and displays will be offered in honor of the occasion. Gate admission is good for both days and people are encouraged to come and make a weekend out of it.

One new attraction is a 12x16 log cabin that will be constructed on site. Throughout the weekend raffle tickets will be sold and on Sunday afternoon one lucky person will win. Gerald Phillipe will be the log master and Joel Miller and Sue Stuss, the show's resident blacksmiths, will be supplying the custom ironwork needed for hinges.

Another new event will be a two-man team horseshoe contest sponsored by the Northern Lights First Responders. This competition will take place both days and is offering cash prizes. For registration or more information, please call 218-442-5931 or 218-783-3541.

A pie baking contest will also take place. The pie will be the entry [illegible] prizes will be awarded. For more information call 218-442-[illegible] evenings.

As with every year, many Steam Traction Engines and all types and models of old time tractors are on display. One of the steam engines, a Frost Advance with a compound engine, is powering the Historic Comstock Sawmill, just as it has for generations. A fine collection of "portable" stationary engines that were used to power smaller machinery will also be at hand.

There is also a pioneer log house, a one room school house, a mini-museum, and a large display of antique [illegible] will be hooked up to the [illegible] Church [illegible] fully equipped [illegible] blacksmith shop complete with old time line shaft, power and hand tools.

For those looking for bargains or just some hard to find items, try out the Big Flea Market. To reserve a booth for your own arts and crafts call 218-442-6[illegible]. The Warroad Eagles Auxiliary will be serving a lunch and there is a non-denominational Sunday worship at 9:30 a.m. Children's activities will [illegible]

Peterson won his sixth consecutive feature title in the Sportsman's Class during the weekly stock car races at the track, located one half mile north of Greenbush on County Road 7.

Starting from the outside on the front row, Peterson, after a series of five yellow caution flags through the first six laps, led the 21-car field to the finish. Peterson continues to lead the Sportsman's Class point standings.

Another Thief River Falls driver, LeMar Rantanen, capitalized on mechanical problems incurred by leader Rick Bates of Badger to win the Mini-Sprint feature. Dave Bach of Thief River Falls is the Mini-Sprint point standings leader.

The evening menu of races featured the second Sprint Car Special of the 1997 season at the track.

Special Mini-Sprint Invitational, along with a regular racing program, will be featured at the track Saturday, July 26. Hot laps start at 6 p.m. Races begin at 7.

East Grand Forks catcher Scott Johnson could not pull down a high throw in time to tag out Thief River Falls runner Andy Harbott, who scored from first base on a two-out Mike Dowers double over the center fielder's head during the first inning of the American Legion baseball doubleheader nightcap Friday at the Northland Community and Technical College diamond. Umpire Roger Cote watched the action. East Grand Forks won twice, 5-4, 7-2.

Legion plays well, but still drops two

Defending Ninth District champion Detroit Lakes will be at Irv Wilson Field Thursday for a 5:30 p.m. doubleheader that close out the 1997 regular season schedule for the Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team.

Detroit Lakes, battling Moorhead for the top seed in the upcoming Ninth District tournament, swept an earlier twinbill from Thief River Falls at Washington Park 9-7, 5-2.

Coach Bruce Elseth's Thief River Falls squad took a 3-28 record into a Tuesday doubleheader at Crookston.

Despite losing both games, Post 117 is coming off a strong Friday effort against East Grand Forks. Solid defense kept it close in both starts, but inability to come up with the key hit when needed led to 5-3 and 7-2 losses – extending Thief River Falls' losing streak to 14 games.

Thief River Falls did not commit an error in 14 innings of baseball and completed three double plays. But it wasn't enough to break the string of losses.

The games were played on the diamond at Northland Community and Technical College because of Pennington County fair activity that prohibits use of Irv Wilson Field – located at the fairgrounds. The umpire tandem working the 3 p.m. doubleheader was broken up at 4:30 when Chris Mills received word his wife, Angela, was about to give birth. He left in mid-game and was replaced behind the plate by partner Roger Cota, whose spot on the bases was filled by a volunteer from the crowd.

A walk, hit-batsman and an error set up a bases-loaded walk issued to Derek Berg for a Thief River Falls run in the first inning of Game 1.

East Grand Forks' Paul Stinar and Jamie Campos came up with an RBI single and a run-scoring sacrifice fly, respectively, in the second inning for a 2-1 edge. The same formula worked in the fourth when a sacrifice fly by Jeremy Aker and an RBI single by Campos made it 4-1.

Joey Pribula's two out single to center in the bottom of the inning cut the lead in half, but a single to right by Jerod McCauley extended the East Grand Forks lead to 5-2.

Thief River Falls came right back in the bottom of the fifth when inning-opening singles by Andy Harbott and Mike Dowers were followed by a run-scoring fielder's choice ball off the bat of Courtney Skjerven.

A walk issued to Berg, a wild pitch, and a two-out double to right by Travis Black closed the gap to 5-4, but Black was left on second base – the tenth Thief River Falls runner stranded in the game.

Game 2 was another close, well-played affair until East Grand Forks used a string of bloop hits to break open a 2-2 tie in the sixth.

Hit by a pitch with two out in the bottom of the first, Harbott scored moments later when Dowers drove the ball over the head of the center fielder.

Jeremy Houske singled to right to lead off the Thief River Falls third inning, advanced on a sacrifice by Pribula and scored on a single to right by Paul Frank to tie the game 2-2.

It remained deadlocked until the sixth when Stinar bounced a one-out ground ball single through the left side, stole second and scored when Hoff's short fly ball eluded the running efforts by Dayton Elseth in center field and Berg, who was playing second. Scott Johnson's pop-up found the same hole to scored Hoff, and Jim Richter followed with a fly ball to short right field to make it 5-2.

A two-run home run over the right-center field fence by Jeremy Aker in the seventh completed the scoring and the sweep.

N.D. state meet has TRF entries

■ Six TRF USS swimmers will be in Grand Forks

Six Thief River Falls 15-year-olds have qualified to compete in the 1997 North Dakota state long course swimming championships Aug. 1-3 at the Hyslop Pool on the University of North Dakota campus in Grand Forks.

The meet attracts some 400 to 500 competitors ranging in age from 8-under to 18. Winners and time-qualifiers advance to zone competition.

Thief River Falls' delegation includes Andi Sorvig, Jenny Sorvig, Julie Chrzanowski, Andrea Olin, Lindsay Ehrenstrom, and Zach Olson. Outside of Ehrenstrom, who met qualifying standards earlier this summer, the group earned spots in the North Dakota state meet with performances in the recent Island Park Invitational, a huge gathering of swimmers in Fargo July 11-12.

All six Thief River Falls swimmers were multiple-event state meet qualifiers:

■ Olin - 50 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 400 freestyle, 500 freestyle, 800 freestyle, 100 butterfly, 200 individual medley;

■ Olson – 50 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 400 freestyle, 800 freestyle, 200 individual medley, 400 individual medley;

■ Jenny Sorvig – 50 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 200 individual medley;

■ Andi Sorvig - 50 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 100 breaststroke, 200 breaststroke;

■ Ehrenstrom - 50 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 200 individual medley.

■ Chrzanowski – 50 freestyle, 200 freestyle.

Combined times of Andi Sorvig, Jenny Sorvig, Chrzanowski and Olin qualified them for entry in the 400 and 800 freestyle relay races.

They compete during the summer with the Thief River Falls United State Swimming program, directed by Brian Olson. Meets are usually short-course (small pool) variety, like at Thief River Falls, Roseau, Warroad, Crookston and Grand Forks. The Fargo meet was the only long-course competition of the summer for most competitors.

"The long course is a lot tougher on the kids," explained Brian Olson. "There's not a lot of turns,

Thieves start district playoffs on Saturday

Losses on the road at the hands of Crookston Wednesday night and Glyndon-Felton Sunday afternoon dropped Thief River Falls to the .500 mark in amateur baseball. But the Thieves' top-caliber play in the two setbacks has manager Howard Dalager optimistic on the eve of post-season play.

Crookston won 6-3, Glyndon-Felton 5-4.

"Pitching and defense has really been good the last two games," pointed out Dalager. "They were two well-played ball games. Hopefully, this will carry us through the playoffs."

The Thieves, who had a regular season final at Roseau Tuesday, will be the home team for a 7:30 p.m. first round district tournament match-up with Warroad Saturday that will be played at Red Lake Falls due to VFW District 9 action taking place at Irv Wilson Field.

Play will continue Sunday at Roseau, the third – and top seeded – team involved in the double-elimination district tournament.

Top two finishers will move on to regional play in Crookston, where a four-team, round-robin format will advance two qualifiers to the Class C state tournament.

Thief River Falls scored first in Wednesday's match-up with Crookston as Chris Nelson doubled, Ryan Bendickson singled and Nathan Anderson came up with a sacrifice fly for a fourth inning run.

Trailing 3-1, the Thieves rallied for a 3-3 eighth inning tie on a run-scoring double by Nelson and an RBI single up the middle by Anderson.

Crookston, however, scored three times in the bottom of the inning on an RBI double by Jerod Hahn and a two-run single by Mitch Bakken for the win.

Against a strong Glyndon-Felton team, Nick Chiodo, Jason Kempert and Steve Burslie all had two-out base hits to produce two third inning Thief River Falls runs, and a home run by Nathan Anderson made it 3-0 in the top of the fourth.

However, A three-run home run by Jesse Rostad quickly tied the game in the bottom of the third, and back-to-back home runs in the Glyndon-Felton fifth made it 5-3.

An RBI ground-out in the sixth by Bendickson scored Blaise Larson, who had reached base on an error.

DNR NEWS

Hunter Education Training

To help meet a growing demand for certified instructors, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources will offer instructor training for its Bowhunter Education and Advanced Hunter Education programs. Training sessions are planned July 26-27 at the Komonia Retreat Center west of Annandale, and Aug. 19 and 23 at the Harriet Alexander Nature Center, 2520 Dale Street in Roseville.

"The response to our instructor training has been overwhelming," said Dick Anderson, senior trainer for the DNR's hunter education programs. Almost 100 new instructors have been certified in the instructor training programs this year alone.

"This program is designed to protect our hunting heritage based on knowledge, responsibility and respect," Anderson said, "and to develop responsible role models for future generations."

Anderson said there is a pressing need for Bowhunter Education Program instructors. "Somewhere, between yesterday and tomorrow the need for Bowhunter Education Certification will exceed our wildest dreams," he said. "More and more special hunts will be available, calling for responsible, knowledgeable and proficient archers only. Special hunting opportunities will be open to those certified in Minnesota's Bowhunter Education Program. The same hunting opportunities will not be available to those uncertified."

Bowhunter Education Program instructor candidates will learn how to facilitate bowhunting seminars using techniques such as cooperative learning, and using videos as a learning tool. Among other things, instructor candidates will also learn how to effectively use other archers and pro-shop operators as education resource people.

Advanced Hunter Education instructor candidates will learn how to facilitate seminars using group discussions to reach a consensus on hunting-related issues, how to use resource professionals most effectively, and much more.

The $30 registration fee includes meals and lodging plus all materials and certification costs. Register by calling toll-free in Greater Minnesota 1-800-766-6000. The registration deadlines are July 11 for the Annandale training and Aug. 5 for the Roseville training.

Changes posted in regulations for early goose hunt

September Canada goose hunting season will be held from Sept. 6-15 this year, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR). While most regulations will be the same as last year, hunters need to be aware of several significant changes.

Hunt applications no longer need to be mailed to DNR to purchase a special season permit. Hunters will be able to purchase the $3 season permit from most license vendors, sporting goods stores, county auditors, and the DNR License Bureau at 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul. The permits, which will be available beginning about Aug. 10, are required of all goose hunters ages 18 to 65. The permits, which will be on self-adhesive labels, are designed to allow hunters to affix them to their small game licenses. The permit must be signed to be valid. Hunters must also have state and federal duck stamps and small game licenses, as required by state law.

The entire state, except for the Northwest Goose Zone, is open again this year. Maps of the early season Canada goose zones are shown in the 1997 Hunting Regulations Handbook, which will be available at most license vendors in late July or early August. Hunters may not hunt within 100 yards of surface water during early seasons. Because most hunting opportunity will be on private land, hunters are encouraged to get landowner permission before the season.

The daily bag limit was increased to five geese in southwestern Minnesota this year. The daily bag limit for the Twin Cities metro zone is also five Canada geese. Except in the Northwest Goose Zone, which is closed, the daily bag in the rest of the state is two Canada geese. The possession limit for all areas is twice the daily bag. Finally, hunters are no longer required to leave the head on bagged geese during transportation. Only one feathered wing is required to be left on while transporting bagged geese to their final destination. Hunters are encouraged to thoroughly read regulations in the 1997 Hunting Handbook before heading afield.

Butch Bakken, executive director of Geese Unlimited, noted that more than 30,000 Canada geese have been moved to northern Minnesota since 1982, including 1,400 this year. "It's been a win-win effort," he said. "We reduce goose numbers where they're causing problems, and create additional viewing and hunting opportunities where goose populations are currently low." Geese Unlimited is also providing funds to DNR for three years to study how transplanted geese adapt to their new homes. Information from this study will be used to guide future releases in northern Minnesota.

Thefts in LEC news

Thefts and vandalism were just a few of the incidents law enforcement personnel investigated last week

Thefts. On July 15 at 6:38 a.m. a red Polaris 4x4 was reported stolen from a trailer parked on a lot just off Atlantic Avenue. The vehicle was lifted over the rails of a trailer and driven from the scene. It has a large homemade rack on the back and a snowplow mount bracket on the front. It was valued at $3,500.

On July 15 at 11:22 p.m. two containers of CDs were reported stolen from a pickup. Entry to the pickup, which was parked near the fairgrounds, was gained through the sliding rear window. The theft loss of 40 CDs in the containers was estimated at between $600 to $720.

On July 17 police received a report that a pair of in-line skates, Black Bauers, had been taken while being stored at the fairgrounds. A worker had hidden them under the bleachers for a short time and when the worker returned the in-line skates were missing. The theft loss was estimated at $130.

Vandalism. On July 16 police received two reports of bike tires being slashed at the fair. In all, tires on three bikes had been slashed.

Assault. On July 16 at 10:35 p.m. police received a report of a domestic incident at a local residence. Marcial Moreno III, was arrested and charged with fifth degree assault after he turned himself in to authorities. The female complainant did not require hospitalization.

On July 19 at 12:15 a.m. police received a report of an assault at a local residence. Upon investigation, Stacy Diane Bulger, Thief River Falls, was charged with fifth degree assault and consumption under age. The male complainant had scratches and a torn shirt, but did not require hospital care.

On July 19 at 1:07 a.m. police received a report of an assault at a local residence. Upon investigation Wendy Sue Przybylski, Thief River Falls, was cited for fifth degree assault. The male complainant had been struck in the face and neck but did not require hospital care.

Vandalism. On July 16 at 10:36 a.m. police received a report of vandalism to the Pine Avenue pool. Furniture had been broken and/or tossed into the pool along with chlorine and filtering material. The damage loss was estimated at $1,000.

Accidents. On July 18 at 5:20 p.m. police received a report of an accident 100 feet east of Arnold Avenue on First Street. According to the accident report, Craig Charles Lawrence, Thief River Falls, was driving a car east and out of a parking stall when his vehicle collided with a car driven by Peggy Ann Kraemer, Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at $700 to the Lawrence vehicle, and $900 to the Kraemer vehicle. There were no citations or injuries reported.

On July 19 at 11:55 p.m. police received a report of an accident at First and Spruce. Carol Joan Klopp, Thief River Falls, was driving a car south on Spruce and making a left turn in front of another vehicle driven by Maren Alice Tweet, Thief River Falls, and the vehicles collided. Klopp was cited for making an improper turn. The Klopp vehicle, a 1988 Dodge, was considered a total loss. The Tweet vehicle had an estimated $2,000 damage. Klopp complained of a sore wrist and a passenger complained of a sore neck.

Drugs. On July 19 at 1:56 a.m. an officer observed two cars turn into the parking lot of a local business. Upon investigation, Heidi Lynn Dahl, Roseau, was charged with driving while intoxicated. Krystal Marie Dahl, Badger, was cited for consumption under age. Chad Aaron Anderson, 21, Karlstad was charged with possession of a small amount of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Criminal damage to property. On July 19 at 4:56 p.m. police received a report of damage to a trailer house. Upon investigation police found holes punched in walls and other considerable damage to a trailer home. A 17-year old male faces charges of criminal damage to property.

Weapons. On July 21 at 5:27 p.m. police received a report that a youth had been shot in the back of the head with a pellet gun. According to the report, a group of friends were playing when the play turned dangerous. Two juvenile males were threatened with a pellet gun and they began to run away. One male was hit in the head with a pellet, and when the other youth turned back to help his friend who was on the ground, he was hit in the leg. The male youth who had been hit in the head had to have minor surgery to remove the pellet from his head. It required one stitch to close. Two male minors face charges in juvenile proceedings for a weapons offense. The Silver Anniversary pellet gun was confiscated.

These reports include names of individuals charged, arrested or cited with various crimes and offenses by police, the sheriff's department or other law enforcement officials. Depending upon the circumstances of a case, charges can be, and sometimes are, changed or dropped by law enforcement officials or attorneys even before the case reaches court. Readers should also realize that under the American system of jurisprudence, individuals charged with crimes are innocent until proven guilty of those crimes in a court of law.

Mailbox supports being installed throughout county

Mailbox supports are being installed by the Pennington county highway department.

The highway department had permission to begin installing the mailbox supports a year and a half ago but only recently started installing them. The county is authorized to remove and install mailbox supports by Minnesota law, which declares certain supports to be a public hazard. Where mailbox supports are being installed, the county is billing the resident or property owner [illegible].

According to the Minnesota department of transportation "[illegible] such as state aid standards require a clear recovery area adjacent to the driving lanes of state aid highways and these unlawful mailbox supports would be a violation of [illegible] standard. State Aid will [illegible] and enforce this statute in [illegible] manner for state aid route and state aid construction projects.

"1) Each county and city should survey their system for non conforming mailbox installations. Mailboxes outside of the recovery area on rural routes with speed limits less than [illegible] miles per hour need not be considered non conforming.

"2) When improvements are made to routes on the state aid system the following criteria will apply.

"a) Reconstruction. All non conforming mailbox installations shall be removed and replaced as part of any reconstruction project, unless a variance is received for recovery area.

"b) Resurfacing. For non conforming mailbox installations within the limits of a resurfacing project, the guidance in the AASHTO Roadside Design Guide and the Mn/DOT Road Design Manual should be followed. Essentially, the benefit of replacing the non conforming support should be weighed against the cost of replacement and the existence of other roadside hazards not being corrected. The decision to replace supports or allow supports to remain in place rests with the local authority.

"3) For all other non conforming mailbox installations on or off the state aid system, the decision to replace supports or allow supports to remain in place rests with the local authority. Each agency should contact their own legal counsel for advice.

"4) Replacement of mailbox supports shall be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 8818 of the Minnesota Rules.

"5) Mailbox supports are an eligible state aid expense, but mailboxes are not. The decision on whether or not to charge owners is left to the local agency. County-wide mailbox support replacement projects are acceptable.

"6) The mailbox support remains the property of the owner upon completion of installation. Mailboxes are the owner's responsibility and must conform with U.S. Postal Service requirements.

"7) Local agencies should work closely with the local postmaster whenever mailboxes will be relocated or replaced."

MnDOT thanks volunteers

Northwest District of the Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn/DOT) has expressed its appreciation to all of the Adopt-a-Highway volunteers who have given their time and energy to keep Minnesota roadways beautiful and clean.

"With our thanks, we would also like to remind motorists to be watchful of the Adopt-a-Highway volunteers to ensure everyone's safety. Mn/DOT appreciates all that the volunteers do and would like to see that they are safe so their work may continue," notes Karen Berlein, public affairs coordinator for Mn/DOT District 2 with offices in Bemidji.

ASK YOUR LOCKSMITH
Questions And Answers
Q I locked my keys in my car. Can you "break" into it?
A Yes. However, professional locksmiths do not break into cars since "breaking in" indicates damage is done. Most locksmiths have 24 hours mobile emergency service just for this type of problem. They have the proper tools and, more importantly, the knowledge to open your car without damage. Consumers should be aware that attempts to open a locked car by anyone other than a locksmith could result in severe damage to the lock mechanism. A locksmith can also replace lost car keys from either the key code number or by hand fitting the key to the locks.

The World Has Changed Since 1957

Robert Nyvall, a member of the Lincoln high school Class of 1957 and now living in Grand Rapids, wrote the following for the 40-year reunion booklet and submitted it to The Times at the request of several people attending the reunion. We are pleased to use it as a guest editorial as a reminder of how quickly things change. The first installment is published below and the conclusion will follow in the July 30 issue.

THE WORLD HAS CHANGED SINCE 1957

by Robert Nyvall
LHS Class of 1957

Is 40 years a long time? Not in the cosmic sense, but for most of us creeping, crawling or occasionally loping toward 60, it's been almost two-thirds of our lives since we graduated from Lincoln High School. In that time we've become business people, doctors, dentists, university professors, scientists, farmers, mailmen, teachers, lawyers, radio announcers, ministers, authors, soldiers, sailors, pilots, moms, dads, grandmas, grandpas and bums.

Many of us left high school as self-absorbed and hormonal young people out to make a living or get a post-secondary education. Whatever happened in the rest of the country or world ... well, it just happened. Out there was not the concern of 17, 18 or 19-year-olds stumbling into the future.

However, events did happen that affected us directly and indirectly and for the most part, we saw them unfold as helpless spectators fit only to comment on the final score. We matured in a time that saw multitudinous changes unrivaled in historical number and scope and unbridled by individual will or inclination.

Many of us will continue to work, are planning retirement or have already retired. Whatever we decide to do will be in a world that will continue to change daily, maybe hourly. Will it change as much as our world has changed from the time we graduated from high school until now? Maybe.

I could find no single defining event or moment that impacted people's lives like a world war with the possible exception of the Vietnam War. There were the personal highs of marriages, births, deaths, divorces, job changes and mortgages but generally there was a uniform melange of events that passed through out TV, radio, newspapers or magazines. Some made us stop and pause to wonder, "What next? What does this mean? How will this affect me ... or my family ... or my job?"

However, most events simply flowed unheeded through our lives like a slow murky river until one stopped on the bank to stare and wonder, "Where is this going and when will it get there?" Those changes continue to affect us, our children, grandchildren and whomever comes after us.

Most of us were born during World War II and we continued to experience a war somewhere in the world. From 1957 to the present we lived under nine Presidents. In high school, we lived under the threat of a nuclear holocaust and feared a Soviet Union that eventually crumpled into disparate and destitute countries whose nuclear-tipped rockets are no longer aimed at us.

During the "quiet time" under Eisenhower, most Americans became equal under federal law, regardless of skin color. We were distracted by the Beatles flaunting long hair and redefining music and culture in the frenetic screams of adolescent girls. Who can ever forget those autumn days as we wondered if a nuclear war was to begin over a Communist country 90 miles from our shores? A year later, we collectively sank into a national miasma as we were told again and again President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas. The accompanying angst strangled normality throughout the country that entire black weekend. The assassination began a process of decay to our national innocence, leaving a void that was slowly replaced by a cynical psyche.

The Civil Rights movement swept the country as evidenced by massive demonstrations, sit-ins, and murders of both famous and unknown people. Many of us from 1957 were affected by the Vietnam War, either by carrying a gun, losing a family member or friend in that sultry jungle or watching American society fray and unravel on streets and campuses.

It seemed that inappropriate behavior became commonplace and the unthinkable became the norm as drugs fueled our culture, frequently destroying those who extolled their freedoms. Janis Joplin was only one of many victims who screamed through a chemically-induced haze interspersed with moments of brilliance. For most there was little glamour in their end. Elvis perished in ignoble conditions on his bathroom floor as his vital organs shut down.

Lyndon Johnson gave up on the "Great Society" and Richard Nixon became the first President to visit China and the first to resign from office rather than be impeached. We witnessed the bizarre scene of President Ford pardoning an ex-President and experienced double-digit inflation and interest rates under President Carter.

Our national debt ballooned under President Reagan who distracted us with the "Evil Empire." We regained our "national honor" as President Bush assembled a coalition of nations in a "just" cause to destroy an evil and aggressive dictator. We are now witnessing the grotesque scene of a President accused of sexual harassment while our former enemies in Eastern Europe join us in the NATO alliance.

Color television became our prime entertainment and source of moronic boredom. In the process it has become the paramount babysitter and culprit in atrophying our brains. It is sobering to consider the "golden years" of TV may have been while we were taking English from Miss Skomedal and History from Mr. Carlson.

We saw the first landing on the moon of a human being and Neil Armstrong's famous sentence became part of our lexicon. There is now a permanent space station in which people live for months on end. Space shuttles from earth to orbit and back again are routine except for the reminder our technology is fallible when the shuttle Challenger blew up. Satellites now float in space that are vital to our everyday life. Telephone service, television and global positioning units all depend upon technology that seemed far-fetched in '57.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I would like to thank Kathi Carlson for her review in The Times of the All Nations Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire.

I started this project five years ago not knowing whether it would ever become an annual event or if people would even like coming back to this type of festival. The first year was a complete disaster financially for my wife and myself and we decided the event would not be held again.

However, the people of St. Hilaire believed in the idea and offered to be the main sponsor of the event and help get it going the following year. Other major sponsors came in and the festival took off once more. Through this dedication and financial backing the festival has grown each year until the present.

The amount of time spent on planning and actual set-up is, as Kathi wrote, a major undertaking for a community of this size. But through cooperation and determination they get done what some would think might be the impossible.

So, for myself and all of you who enjoyed the festival, let us thank the City Council of St. Hilaire, the Community Club, and all of St. Hilaire for all the time and hard work they put into making this festival an annual family event.

Also let us thank all our sponsors for their generosity to make this program possible: Pepsi-Cola, Hartz Foods, Harvest States Northwest Grain Division, VFW Post 2793, KKAQ AM, KKDQ-FM, WDAZ-TV, KYCK-FM, Westside Motors, Coca-Cola, Peterson Lumber, Garden Valley Telephone Co., Grand Forks Rental, Kruse Inc., Kruse Backhoe Service, The Times, Guy Kruse and Kruse Builders, St. Hilaire Liquor Store, Budweiser, Skalsky Electric, St. Hilaire Lions, Budget Electronics, Kezar Music, Wilcox Furniture and Appliance Co. and all of the co-sponsors who have been with us since the beginning and those who have just joined.

I would like to personally thank the festival committee—Don and Evie Trettline, Dave and Renee Rasmussen, Larry and Bea Kruse, Jill Altendorf and Don Scott for their understanding and dedication to make the festival run as smoothly as possible over these past five years.

We'll see you July 11 and 12, 1998, with an even bigger show and, hopefully, NO RAIN!

Sincerely,
Ed Leeper

Northwest Minnesota weather has been keeping Roy on his toes the past couple of weeks. Since he can't tolerate unkept lawns, as soon as the grass dries out he hops on that green one and never lets the grass grow up, a phrase he has taken from the TV. In all, we have accumulated over 4 inches of rain since the middle of June and a lot of mown hay laying down is getting washed out. Around here the farmers say it's enough for awhile, but the funny part is that they take it as it comes. Some day they will realize that is all they can do.

Contract Is Let For New Highway

"A long forward step in the development of the area southeast of the First street bridge was taken Tuesday when the county board, acting also for the city of Thief River Falls, awarded to the Anderson Construction company the contract for constructing a .6 mile section of State Aid Road 2 across the old millyard.

"The Anderson firm, sole bidder, was awarded the job on its bid in the amount of $25,786.25. The award is subject to the approval of the state highway department and the federal bureau of public roads. The new highway, to be known as Pennington avenue, will furnish the approach for the proposed new First street bridge."

Deal For Palm Garden Is Not Yet Complete

"While an oral agreement was reached last Thursday evening between the city council and Carl Kretzschmar, owner of the Palm Garden cafe, for the purchase of his building to house the municipal liquor dispensary, the agreement has been yet been reduced to writing, and it appeared this week that some issues will have to be ironed out before the deal can be definitely closed. The price agreed on for the structure and its equipment was $40,000."

Fair Offers Big Show On Midway

"The Sunset Amusement company, originating at Excelsior Springs, Missouri, will supply the midway attractions at the Pennington county fair July 29, 30, 31 and August 1. A. F. Berge, secretary of the fair board announced today. Operating for its 19th season, the company will present 12 rides and eight shows in addition to numerous concessions. Featured rides are the 20-car Dodgem and a new ride, a minute caterpillar, in addition to which there will be three kiddie rides for children under the age of eight."

Teachers' Rooms Urgently Needed

"Supt. Philip L. Fjelstad of the local schools stated this week he had received no responses to the appeal published in The Times last Thursday requesting local householders to notify his office if they have any rooms available for teachers during the coming school year starting September 1. With fifteen rooms urgently needed, Mr. Fjelstad stated the fear that a number of teachers will be lost to the schools if living accommodations cannot be provided. Anyone able to provide one room or more is asked to notify the superintendent's office, phone 695."

Mercury Hits Low

"In marked contrast to the torrid weather of a week ago, temperatures early this week dropped to the 40s, reaching a minimum of 41 Monday morning. The mercury had rebounded by Wednesday afternoon, reaching a high of 86."

Legion Municipal Band To Play Friday Evening

"The Thief River Falls Legion-sponsored municipal band will appear Friday evening in an informal concert on the downtown streets, it was announced today. Continuing the campaign to equip the members of the organization with uniforms, band booster buttons will be sold during the evening by members of the Legion auxiliary unit."

NOTICE OF HEARING PLANNING COMMISSION CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Thief River Falls City Code, that T.R.F. Mini Storage, Inc., c/o Tom Ostelie, President, 000 Highway 32 South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, has reapplied for a Conditional Use Permit. The site is located on Highway 32 South at Greenwood Street West and is an unplatted tract of land which is part of Government Lot 3 in Section 4, T153N, R43W.

In a Notice of Hearing dated May 28, 1997, notice was given that Family Bowl had applied for a Conditional Use Permit to construct two additional mini storage facilities on the above described property. The City gave approval for construction of a 50' x 100' facility to be located in the northeast corner of the property near Greenwood Street. However, during the review process by City staff it was discovered that the second proposed storage facility would have been located on an existing utility easement. T.R. Mini Storage withdrew their request for the second storage facility.

Now doing business as T.R. Mini Storage, Inc., they are reapplying to construct a 30 x 100' mini-storage facility to be located near the southerly property line west of the existing mini-storage facilities. Storage facilities are a Conditional Use in the General Business District (C-2) and must conform to the requirements of Sec. 11.70, Subd. 6, which provides for certain requirements and conditions which must be met by the property owner erecting such a facility.

Notice is further given that the Planning Commission will conduct a Hearing on the Conditional Use Permit Request at 7:15 p.m. (CDST) on Monday, August 4, 1997, in the City Council Chambers, City Auditorium, 123 Main Avenue North, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. All persons wishing to comment on the Conditional Use Permit Request will have the option to be heard at this time. Persons who wish to submit written comments prior to the Hearing or who have questions should address them to the Office of the Community Development Director, City Auditorium, P.O. Box 528, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, or telephone 218-681-2500.

NOTICE OF HEARING BOARD OF ZONING APPEALS CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Thief River Falls City Code, that Kordel, Inc., c/o Roger Prisenbarger, P.O. Box 1107, Moorhead, MN 56561, owner of property located at 1875 Highway 59 S.E., has applied for a Variance to the Land Use Regulations (Zoning), Sec. 11.71, Subd. 5 K 4 (b). The property is legally described as Lot 11 in Block One of Barnlek's First Addition.

In the future, Kordel, Inc. will be operating at the above location as Slumberland Furniture. All existing signage at the above location will be removed, including the free-standing business sign. The owner proposes to erect a new single pole free-standing business sign at the same location as the existing sign in order to utilize electrical conduit which is in place.

The above referenced Subdivision provides that the maximum height for a free-standing sign at this location cannot exceed 26 feet. Because the ground surface at the proposed sign location is lower than adjacent properties, the owner is requesting that they be granted a Variance of four feet (4) to install a free standing sign with a height of [illegible] feet ([illegible]) which would place the top of the sign at the approximate level of free standing signs on adjacent properties.

Notice is further given that the Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a Hearing on the Variance Request at 7:00 p.m. (CDST) on Monday, August 4, 1997, in the City Council Chambers, City Auditorium, 123 Main Avenue North, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. All persons wishing to comment on the Variance Request will have the option to be heard at this time. Persons who wish to submit written comments prior to the Hearing or who have questions should address them to the Office of the Community Development Director, City Auditorium, P.O. Box 528, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, or telephone 218-681-2500.

If you have a disability and need an accommodation in order to attend this Hearing, please contact the undersigned as soon as possible or at least two (2) days in advance of the Hearing at the above telephone number.

Howard Person talked to Rick Bouldriger from SWISS PENNCO and they are hauling two loads of fluff a day over to the Grand Forks landfill. Due to the flood the Grand Forks landfill can only haul in two loads a day. After July they will be able to handle more. SWISS PENNCO is continuing to screen material and are putting compost in windrows. The netting is not on the poles that was supposed to hold the material from flying around while loading the fluff into the trucks. Ken Mehrkens was very concerned that Bob Kruse promised the netting would be up before they started hauling and was still not done. Howard Person also mentioned that Hubbard County will continue bringing their solid waste to SWISS PENNCO once they are back in full operation.

Roger Rolph, MPCA, was unable to meet with SWISS PENNCO about the stipulation agreement but a draft agreement would be sent soon. This agreement is only a starting point for negotiations and is not intended to be the final agreement.

The County Board requested Howard Person to find out why the netting has not been put in place. The County Engineer was requested to take the block out of the ditch along County Road #75.

Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Carlson to authorize Howard Person to purchase up to 200 fast growing popple trees to plant on the triangle south of the County's Solid Waste Facility. Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Naplin to authorize the County Engineer to advertise the sale of 108.83 acres of land in section 28 and 29 of Sanders Township with the building site as described in the survey. Rep. Tunheim sees benefits to seniors

Rep. Jim Tunheim has reported that Minnesota seniors will realize a number of benefits from the work of the 1997 Legislative session.

"Like many other states, Minnesota has had to look for alternative strategies to provide long-term care for our growing elderly population. The focus has been on expanding community-based alternatives that enable seniors to remain in their homes at less expense than nursing home placements. Under an omnibus health and human services bill, support services are also expanded to help seniors maintain their independence. Other provisions relevant to seniors include:

"• Senior Property Tax Deferral. Under this provision of the tax bill, a senior citizen's property tax deferral program is established for persons 65 years of age or older, effective in 1999, who own their homes and have household incomes of less than $30,000 annually. Seniors may defer payment of property taxes in excess of five percent of their household income until the property is sold, transferred or reclassified.

"• Senior Prescription Drug Coverage. A program is established to provide prescription drug coverage for low-income seniors with incomes below 120 percent of poverty ($9,468 for a household of one and $12,732 for a household of two). Enrollees are required to pay an annual $120 premium and a $300 annual deductible which can be paid monthly. The program is to begin January 1, 1999. Up to $4 million from the general fund is available to administer the program. Approximately 4,250 seniors will be able to enroll.

"• Living at Home Block Nurse Program. $650,000 is provided to expand the program from 15 to 27 sites. One half of the programs are required to be located in non-metropolitan counties. The Living at Home Block Nurse Program enables senior citizens to live as independently as possible in their homes and in their communities through providing health care and support services.

"• Criminal Penalties. A new crime of gross misdemeanor is created for those who cheat or swindle elderly or disabled persons if such fraud causes them to lose assets or income. This is in addition to the civil penalties already available under current law.

"• Charitable Gambling: Card tournaments are legalized as long as there is no direct financial benefit to promoters or organizers and the total prizes awarded do not exceed $200. Social card game tournaments are a popular pastime at veterans' and social clubs.

"In other news, a flood task force from the Minnesota House recently visited East Grand Forks and Moorhead. My thanks to all who showed up at these hearings, whether to testify or to lend support. The task force heard valuable testimony that strengthened my resolve to push for a more equitable federal disaster relief funding split and to provide state aid as possible to victims of the flood during the upcoming special session, which will be devoted to flood relief.

"Your input on these or any other issues is always appreciated. Please contact me at Box 66, Kennedy, MN 56733 or 218-674-4480 during the legislative interim."

U of M develops internet site for hay buyers, sellers

Minnesota livestock producers needing hay and hay producers needing a market can now take advantage of the Internet to meet their needs. The University of Minnesota Extension Service has developed a "Minnesota Haylist" database that can be accessed by computer at all county extension offices in the state. The Minnesota Forage and Grassland Council and the Minnesota Department of Agriculture are also cooperating in the project.

The haylist is organized so that users can search for specific kinds of hay lots located in specific states and telephone area codes.

Initially, the haylist will serve as a forum for sellers to describe available hay lots. Later, the haylist will add the ability to have buyers list their hay needs. Forage producers and users wishing to be included should contact a county extension office to complete the haylist entry form (copies of the form can be printed from the networked computer in the extension office). Extension personnel can then submit the form through the computer.

For a seller's listing to be accepted as complete by the computer, the following personal items must be provided: last name, state, zip code and telephone number, plus specific hay lot data, including tons available, asking price, hay type (alfalfa, alfalfa-grass, etc.), form of hay package (small square bales, large round bales, etc.), harvest year and cutting, and number of days to be listed. The asking price and the quantity must be on a per ton basis, not a per bale basis. Optional items include forage quality (relative feed value, crude protein, dry matter), transportation options, and full address (street, city, fax, e-mail address).

Those with access to a computer connected to the Internet can use the haylist without going through extension offices. The computer must be equipped with a graphical web browser such as Netscape for users to submit or retrieve haylist data. The Internet address for the haylist site on the World Wide Web is http://www.mes.umn.edu/Haylist.

The haylist allows computer users to put in or change information on their haylots on their own, and to search for and print out information on specific hay lots.

"Farmers are asking for hay supplies now and have been for some time," says Neal Martin, U of M extension forage agronomist. "Minnesota's hay stocks on farms May 1 were 540,000 tons, the lowest on record for that time of year. In addition, U.S. hay stocks on farms are at an all-time low."

Martin says the 1996 Minnesota hay crop was 4,573,000 tons, 8.3 percent below 1995 production and the second lowest production during the last 16 years.

"The situation didn't improve much with the first cutting of alfalfa this year," Martin adds. "The first cutting was late and the yield was below normal because of winter injury and low availability of soil moisture."

SBA disaster loan deadline August 6

The deadline to apply for U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) physical damage disaster loans has been extended to August 6.

According to Regional Administrator Peter Baren, SBA has approved $66.4 million in disaster loans for Minnesota homeowners, renters, and businesses affected by flooding and other weather events that began on March 21.

Barca reminds, "If you were referred to SBA for possible assistance when you registered for help, you must complete and turn in your SBA disaster loan application for processing. If you don't do this you risk losing out on other possible forms of disaster assistance."

SBA also urged that you not wait to settle insurance claims or get contractors estimates. Applications can be processed now and adjusted for any insurance recovery.

Brian Gillespie on dean' list

Brian Gillespie, son of Neil and Joy Gillespie of Thief River Falls and a graduate of Lincoln high school, has been named to the spring quarter dean's list at St. Cloud Technical College. Full-time students who earn a grade point average of 3.50 to 3.99 are placed on the list in recognition of their high level of achievement.

Kmart, AAL join to aid flood victims

A matching funds check of $2,000 from Aid Association for Lutherans was sent July 9 from the Kmart store in Thief River Falls to the manager of the Kmart store in Grand Forks, ND, to be used by store employees for flood relief efforts.

The local store earned the AAL matching funds by its efforts to assist flood victims in late April. Thief River Falls Kmart associates donated more than $500 in cash from aluminum can sales and other employee funds as well as purchasing items which were donated to Thief River Falls shelters and church relief efforts.

Flood victims were given 10 percent discounts on items they purchased at the Thief River Falls store and a table at the front of the store was used as a collection point for store associates and customers to donate purchased items to flood victims. Those items exceeded $4,000 in value during the April 21-24 collection period and went to the local shelters and relief programs.

AAL agreed to match the donations up to $2,000, and it was that matching funds check sent to the Grand Forks store employees who had suffered flood damage.

Kim Rose is working her way toward stardom

27-year-old rural Erskine native returns home to headline Summer Sizzler Festival

Kim Rose entertained residents of Pioneer Memorial Care Center at Erskine Monday afternoon.

By Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Those who think they have to drive hundreds of miles or pay hefty admissions to hear real live musical talent should be informed that it ain't necessarily so. A short drive to Erskine for a free outdoor concert early Saturday evening, August 9, will prove that point.

The feature attraction will be Kim Rose, 27, who grew up southwest of Erskine, graduated from Fertile-Beltrami high school in 1988 and has a voice, stage personality and repertoire that are top shelf in every respect.

Kim will perform as a main attraction for the first ever "Summer Sizzler" promotion sponsored by the Erskine Commercial Club as a successor to its annual winter carnival. She will perform on Main Street from 6 to 9 p.m., between a disc jockey at 4 p.m. and dance music by the Roseau band "180 Degrees" from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Other events of the day include an arts and crafts show from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., kid's games and food st[illegible]

"A New Folk Sound"

[illegible] would describe the [illegible] she performs, Kim [illegible] a new folk [illegible]

[illegible] perhaps because [illegible] but she is more than a folk [illegible] and her music is more than [illegible]. In fact it seems to be whatever she wants it to be at any given moment. Every song is sung with [illegible] different from the one before it.

A folk song from Ireland brings a hint of Irish lilt and accent to her voice. An a capella version of "Amazing Grace" reveals her vocal power [illegible] emotion. Patsy Cline's "Crazy" is both subdued and impish and "Sweet Madeline" — one of many of Kim's own creations and sung as though it was written by her grandfather to her grandmother — showcases her writing talent as well as her voice.

Grandma Is Special

It is easy to tell that Grandma — Madeline Johnson — is a very special person to Kim. Madeline and her [illegible] who died while a resident at Pioneer Memorial Care Center in Erskine last December, took in Kim and her sister [illegible] when they were 10 and 13 years old. The Johnsons [illegible] Kim and [illegible] mother had [illegible].

In her [illegible] Kim grew up in the Union Lake area. She first started singing in the Union Lake Lutheran Church [illegible] when she was eight years old. But her singing career didn't blossom at Fertile-Beltrami high school.

"As I remember it," she says with a sparkle of rebellion in her eyes, "I tried out for the choir and was told I would have to wear a dress to sing in it. That was the end of my high school music career."

After graduating from high school in 1988, she went on to college at the University of Minnesota in Duluth, attending for four years in the area of visual arts but leaving without getting her degree.

Kim spent the next several years [illegible] She has written about [illegible] of them about [illegible].

A couple of years ago she returned to Duluth where she began performing in coffee shops, coffee houses, parks, book stores, festivals, schools, churches, anniversary parties, homes for the aged — wherever and whenever she could find an audience.

County to regulate septic systems

Pennington County is proposing to create a septic system ordinance. Notice is given in this edition of The Times, that the county intends to regulate septic system installation.

According to the notice, the purpose of the ordinance is two fold. According to recent state legislation, all counties will be required to pass a county wide ordinance regulating septic systems according to Chapter 7080 and recent changes in law. Chapter 7080 contains the rules set out by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency which dictates how septic systems are to be designed, installed, repaired and otherwise regulated.

The second purpose of the ordinance relates to legislation sought by Pennington County and others this last legislative session. This legislation allows counties with special conditions and a county-wide ordinance to create standards for septic systems which are less stringent than current state rules.

According to a summary of the 1997 Individual Sewage Treatment Systems (ISTS) report, all local units of government are required to pass ordinances regulating septic systems area-wide rather than just in shoreland areas. If a township or city chooses not to pass an ordinance then the county ordinance prevails in that jurisdiction. Township and city ordinances must be as restrictive as the county ordinance.

Another change this year includes the grandfathering of systems with two feet of soil separation that are not imminent public health threats. According to the ISTS report summary, existing individual sewage treatment systems which do not present an imminent public health threat (direct discharge to surface water, ponding or pooling sewage on the ground, or backup of sewage into the home) and have at least two feet of vertical soil separation (compared to the three feet which is the failing criteria in state code) need not be upgraded. This "grandfathering" will not apply in existing shoreland areas, wellhead protection areas or to systems serving food or beverage or lodging establishments licensed by the Department of Health.

Pennington County is acting quickly to implement its own ordinance because without the ordinance residents would be bound by a more restrictive state code. Again according to the ISTS report summary, "Counties can adopt ISTS standards for existing septic systems that are less restrictive than the state 7080 code providing the standards are protective of health and the environment."

According to the published notice in this edition of The Times, the county plans to establish standards which will allow the county to continue to use trench type drain fields in most circumstances.

There have been other changes as well, regarding new technologies, certificates of compliance and installation.

- Warrantied individual sewage treatment systems offering new and promising treatment technologies are allowed if certain local government and state requirements are satisfied.
- Certificates of compliance are now valid for three years if issued for an existing system and five years if issued on a newly constructed system.
- And, a licensed inspector, or Designer I who is also a licensed installer can inspect an existing system and subsequently install it.

A copy of the Pennington County's proposed ordinance is available upon request by calling the Pennington County auditor at 681-4011 or the Pennington County Extension Service at 681-2116.

City to annex industrial park

Austin Haugen, 4, and Ben, were among the Crazy Day Kiddie Parade participants Saturday in Thief River Falls.

First steps in annexing 80 acres of land for the city's industrial park was approved Tuesday night by the Thief River Falls City Council.

The first step in annexing the property, which is located directly south of the Municipal Services Center, is to start a petition. Don Stewart, community development director, explained that it was necessary to begin the process now because there are at least two very serious proposals, and they are interested in starting construction next year. Without annexing the property, the city would not be able to respond to their needs by getting sewer, water, electricity and streets to and through the property. Stewart added that he was not recommending that all of the utilities be put in the property at once — that would be very expensive. But, he recommended the city needs to start planning for expansion into the industrial park.

■ The council approved a proposal to provide in-kind work to develop an additional 36 car parking lot at Campus Courts. The work would include excavation, aggregate back fill and engineering staking.

It was explained that the parking lot out at the apartment complex was full with only 100 beds filled. More parking problems are being anticipated, as the apartment complex is 20 beds shy of being full. While the facility is managed by NETA Property, the property is owned by the city.

The cost of the project has been estimated at $16,590, which would be split with Northwest Minnesota HRA, if approved by their board.

The project could be completed sometime in September. The motion to provide in-kind work was approved by the council. Dale Wennberg, council representative, did oppose the motion but didn't explain during discussion.

■ The council has approved the expenditure of $500 for a "records management executive session" with Dr. Mark Langemo.

Ken Schmalz, city council representative, asked if the city was spending $500 for someone to tell us we need to overhaul our system. How much will it cost to overhaul the system, he asked. Why can't the city just use the same system for purging records that the state has developed.

Roger DeLap, city administrator, said it depended on what direction the city takes after visiting with Langemo. The city's system hasn't been overhauled in such a long time that nobody can remember when the system was last overhauled. It is needed, he said.

Frank Hamerlinck, council representative, said he thought there was a little more to it than just getting rid of old records. Once they feel confident with what is proposed, there's no reason city employees couldn't do that, he said.

DeLap said they do need a little more direction.

Ron Lindberg, public works director, said there are years of records in his department that need to be purged before they move to the depot.

Schmalz seized the moment and asked, don't we have room at the depot?

Jean Heinrichs, council representative, defended the statement by saying that "whenever you move it's time for some house cleaning."

Dave Carlson, council representative, added to the discussion by stating it would probably improve communication between departments and within departments.

During the vote on the matter, Schmalz opposed the motion.

■ The electric power suppliers who serve both rural and municipal consumers in the area — Minnkota Power Cooperative and Otter Tail Power Company — are working jointly to provide a $6.1 million system upgrade involving a 115 kV transmission line project into the area. The Oslo to Thief River Falls transmission line project would involve rebuilding a 41.6 kV line for 115 kV operation from the Oslo substation in Walsh County, ND, to Warren and building a new 115 kV transmission line from Warren to the existing Thief River Falls substation. The total length of the project is 50 miles.

Arlo Rude, superintendent of utilities in Thief River Falls, explained that a public meeting will be held from 4 to 8 p.m., Thursday, July 31, at the Heritage Community Center.

Rude said they had been planning the project prior to events in April which caused downed power lines. That storm might have caused the new power line to go down as Among events on the schedule are several grandstand programs, team penning, church service, fireworks, teen dance, 4-H on stage, senior citizen events, 4-H horse show and more. Rogers Brothers Funland will be on the midway. Mega ride passes good for the entire fair at $25 and daily ride passes good for one full day and night at $12 are available through 6 p.m. today at 23 Marshall county locations. Rates will be higher on the grounds during the fair.

In addition to the 7 p.m. parade tonight, go kart racing will take place at the fairgrounds with hot laps starting at 6 p.m. Admission is $3 for adults and $1 for children 12 and younger.

Thursday attraction at the fair on entry day will be "Aflame" at 7 p.m. in the grandstand. Admission will be $5 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under.

A Kid's Day contest will start at 1 p.m. Friday, August 1, and the senior citizen program at 3 p.m. will include honoring of Marshall county's outstanding senior man and woman. 4-H On Stage at 7:30 p.m. will include crowning of Agassiz Leaders for Marshall county. This program is free to the public.

A free teen dance is scheduled for the evening, sponsored by K-Lite and KCNN and free fireworks will be provided at dusk, sponsored by Marshall county businesses, the county fair, K-Lite, KCNN and Roger Brothers Funland.

Starting off the concluding weekend of the fair will be the 4-H horse show at 9 a.m. Saturday, including a number of riding classes as well as game events. In a new Music in Motion category riders guide their horses around the arena in time to music.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday, the Monsignor A. J. Meuth Council of the Knights of Columbus is sponsoring Bingo in the area under the grandstand.

At 6:30 p.m. Saturday the Argyle Lions club will sponsor Sportsman's Class Racing in front of the grandstand. Admission is $7 for adults and $4 for children 12 and under. This is a successor to demolition racing where drivers were disqualified if they pulled out of a race before their car was demolished. The cost of wrecking a car at every race drew complaints, however, and Sportsman's Class racing began.

Sunday at 9:30 a.m. an all-faiths church service will be conducted by the Warren Ministerial Association.

Team penning competition will begin at 11 a.m. with added money by the Northern Minnesota Team Penning association. Competition will be held in open, amateur, youth and two on-two classes. This event is free and open to the public.

Stock car racing at 1:30 p.m. Sunday will be sponsored by the Marshall County Fair with action from the Wissota Superstock, Modified and Mini-Sprint cars. Adult admission is $7 and children under 12 are admitted for $4.

At the amateur talent contest at 7 p.m. Sunday, talented area contestants will compete for a first prize of $200 and qualification for the State Fair Amateur Talent Contest and a second place prize of $100. Admission will be $5 for adults and $2 for children 12 and younger. Entries for the contest may be made by calling Joan Peterson at 218-745-5460 or Diane Abrahamson at 218-745-4042.

Buildings on the fairgrounds have been recently painted and the grounds trimmed and prepared for the county fair. A variety of food and beverage stands will be operating and a fair shuttle will provide transportation from parking areas.

Sharon Thompson of Lake Bronson will provide puppies, kittens, ducks, chickens, sheep, goats, llama and a donkey for the children's petting zoo.

Also open throughout the fair will be Settler's Square—a museum and other buildings and activities operated by the Marshall County Historical Society. Settler's Square is located on the fairgrounds.

Otter Tail Power Company completing storm cleanup

Three full months after the April snow, wind and ice storm that caused widespread electrical power outages in North Dakota and western Minnesota, Otter Tail Power Company crews are completing cleanup and permanent repairs to electrical equipment.

During the days following the storm, crews made temporary repairs in many areas, foregoing cleanup, salvage and permanent repairs until weather improved and terrain became more accessible.

The storm toppled 977 poles on the company's distribution system, most of them along Otter Tail's 41,600-volt and 12,500-volt systems. The company dispatched line personnel from other regions of its system to assist employees in areas devastated by the storm.

About 20,000 Otter Tail customers in 125 communities were without electric service on Sunday, April 6. By Friday, April 11, service had been restored to all Otter Tail communities.

Restoring service took priority over permanent repairs and salvaging of equipment, according to Marlowe Johnson, vice president of customer service in North Dakota, and Roy Larson, vice president of customer service for Minnesota and South Dakota.

"Even though the damage was widespread and something that hadn't taken place in close to 40 years, it didn't undermine Otter Tail's commitment to customer service," Johnson said.

"Our company's restoration of electric service, often with temporary repairs, couldn't have been accomplished without the understanding and assistance of our customers," Larson added. "We'll continue to work in partnership with our customers in all aspects of electric service."

Lake Itasca pioneer show August 15-17

Twenty-second annual reunion and show of the Lake Itasca Region Pioneer Farmers will take place Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 15-17, at the organization's grounds located one-half mile north of the north entrance to Itasca State Park on Highway 200.

Several Thief River Falls area people are involved with the group and active in improving facilities and presenting the show.

Honored on the show's admission buttons this year are Ole and Wally Berge of Cass Lake. Ole has built and restored hot air engines of the type built from the late 1850s until the early 1930s, and is completing his 11th engine project to display at this year's show.

An addition has been built to the sawmill and logging display, and displays are also expected to include a crawler tractor once used in road construction by Clearwater county and a mechanical rock picker and windrower built and patented in 1957 by LIRPF member Melvin Hier.

Also featured are women's crafts and activities, music, daily parades, North Itasca Railroad, horse teams and horse machinery, lunches, breakfasts, Sunday morning worship service, playground for children and the Minnesota State Championship old-time tractor pull.

In response to a question about putting the power line underground, Rude explained that option had been considered, but it would have been eight to 10 times more expensive.

He said the power line would enter the city along Greenwood Avenue.

It would be such an intrusion, that the city anticipates it will require issuance of a conditional use permit, requiring a meeting with the planning commission.

■ Use of the city auditorium gym facility by St. Bernard's Church School on a trial basis until December 31 between noon and 3 p.m. two times per week, at no cost, was approved by the council.

During discussion, Mayor Robert Reese read a letter from Council Representative Milt Burstad, which stated his intent to resign from the public works committee for personal reasons. The resignation was accepted and Ken Schmalz was appointed to the committee.

■ The council approved a recommendation to establish a fee for septic sewer system inspections. The city attorney was directed to prepare an amendment to the city's ordinance.

A limited joint powers agreement between the cities of Bemidji and Grand Rapids, and the counties of Beltrami, Itasca, and the Chisholm/Hibbing Airport Authorities for the purpose of purchasing fire rescue trucks was approved.

In other business, the council: approved renewal of city auditorium office rent with the DNR, approved the low quote of Bert's Equipment for a Boss snow plow and end lift, approved a progression raise for John Kinsman, approved renewal of membership in the International Coalition - Red River Basin, approved a salary progression raise for Mark Beedy, received two lawful gambling applications from St. Bernard's church to hold bingo and a raffle on October 19 and on November 23.

Bob Carlisle concert for flood relief

Bob Carlisle will be presented in concert Monday, August 18, in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Crookston at 7:30 p.m. under sponsorship of Shine the Light, Inc.

With the exception of minimal expenses, all proceeds will be donated to flood-affected churches in the Red River Valley through the Valley Interfaith Coalition to Recovery (VICTORY).

Carlisle's album "Butterfly Kisses" sold more than two million copies and he will sing the title song and other hits at his Crookston concert.

Tickets at $10 in advance are available by calling 1-800-435-1071 and at all Hugo's Supermarkets. If tickets remain, they will be $14 at the door.

Mrs. Ida Haugen, who wrote the Little Oak correspondence for "The Times" for 41 years, died July 22 at her home at rural Thief River Falls. She was 90 years of age. Ida's daughter Fern wrote the news from the Little Oak area for a year or two before she was killed in an auto accident in 1956 at the age of 17. Ida took over the news collection and writing duties which she continued up to the time of her death. "The Times" wishes to acknowledge this long period of dedicated service. A complete obituary is published in this issue of "The Times."

Fine Line dance team restored

Fine Line Dance, which took their Thief River Falls team to top honors in state competition in 1995, has announced a new sponsor which will allow them to reestablish their program this fall. The Thief River Falls Racquetball Club has agreed to provide facilities, promotion, and support for Fine Line Dance, with programs for children age preschool to performance line beginning September 8.

The announcement was made this week by Coach Connie Dorn. "Without a sponsor it just was not possible to run our programs last year but we sure have been missed and we've been looking for a way to reestablish dance line. The Racquetball Club has been very generous. With their support we've been able to expand the program to include even preschoolers. Everyone will have a chance to perform and we are looking forward to a great year."

Under their new format, Fine Line Dance will include three dance lines and a performance line. Registration will be August 4 to 8 at the Racquetball Club on Highway 59 South in Thief River Falls. Tuition will be $10 per month per child or free with a family membership at the Racquetball Club. Class sizes will be limited to 20. Dorn says they hope inexpensive tuition costs will make the program more available. "The expense of youth programs is keeping some families from participating. This year, we will not offer a competition line, and that, along with the support of the Racquetball Club, will limit our costs and allow us to offer more programs at a very reasonable tuition rate."

Programs will run September through March with a December holiday break. Dorn says she has been encouraged to consider reestablishing a competition line sometime in the future. "I think right now we just want to get our children out having fun and performing again. This will be a year of new beginnings. I know the Racquetball Club would like to see a competition line sometime in the next five years. We will just have to wait and see."

Roger Evenson, manager of the Thief River Falls Racquetball Club, says they are happy to have the program on board. "I know Connie will offer a quality program. Many families are looking forward to seeing Fine Line Dance as part of the community again and we are always interested in new activities, especially youth activities, in Thief River Falls."

For more information and class schedules, contact the Thief River Falls Racquetball Club at 681-6709.

It was at Union Lake Lutheran Church where Kim Rose did her first public performing at the age of eight. The church has served seven generations of area families and some of Kim's ancestors are buried in its small cemetery.

Kim Rose and her grandmother Madeline Johnson are shown with Union Lake Lutheran Church in the background. Kim was raised by Albin and Madeline Johnson following her mother's suicide when she was 10 years old. sound equipment, stage costumes and publicity material and serves as a promotion and booking agency for Kim.

Tasha serves as the manager, director and Ben is content to be called the sound engineer, although he is involved in a little bit of everything that has to be done.

A Commitment To Perform

As recently as January, Kim decided that she wanted to pursue entertainment as a career, and she has continued to receive a positive reception wherever she performs. Among those places were Thief River Falls' Fin An American Festival on the Fourth of July and the Polk County Fair in Fertile as an opening act for "The Blenders."

In addition to her singing she is an accomplished guitarist, although virtually totally self-taught in both areas. She claims to know only enough about the guitar to accompany her singing, but she may be overly modest in that regard. Her guitar is a Seagull acoustic model hand crafted to her specifications in Canada and valued at $3,000. That shows more commitment to the art than just pickin' and grinnin'.

While Kim is not averse to stardom, neither is she consumed by it, refusing to allow it to take short cuts or be compromised to get there.

"I don't want to be removed from knowing people," she said. "I love to travel to meet people on a personal basis, to relate to them with my music. If I can continue to do that, and earn enough money doing it to be independent, I think I can be happy and satisfied."

In reaching for that success on her own terms, Kim knows that there will be a price to pay in time spent to build a following.

Thrives On Stress

"I thrive on stress," she said. "It gives me energy. And there's nothing better for inspiration than being miserable for awhile."

Whatever that stress factor and whatever that misery, they seem to melt away when Kim stands in front of a microphone, strums her guitar and molds her audience to the moods of her songs. She doesn't just appear to be enjoying what she is doing, she is immersed in it.

At the Pioneer Memorial Care Center Monday afternoon, Kim performed for a couple dozen residents and gave the same all out professional performance she would have been proud to give before a packed house at Orchestra Hall. She feels her listeners always deserve her best.

"My name is Kim Rose and I'm really happy to be here to sing for you today," she said.

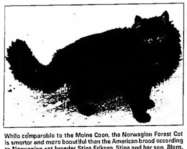
Norwegian Forest Cat and owner visit TRF

A male Norwegian Forest Cat rides in the basket of a bicycle. Note the ruff, a circle of long, thick hair, that encircles the neck of this male cat much like the mane of a lion. The cat has been a recognized breed in Norway for only 20 years. Only four or five have been sold in the United States.



While comparable to the Maine Coon, the Norwegian Forest Cat is smarter and more beautiful than the American breed according to Norwegian cat breeder Stina Eriksen. Stina and her son, Bjorn, visited Thief River Falls recently. Stina is also a journalist for a Norwegian cat publication.

Times Reporter

Have you ever heard of a Norwegian Forest Cat? If not, you didn't meet Stina Eriksen from Oslo, Norway when she visited Thief River Falls recently.

The Times first heard about Stina when an employee from a local motel called inquiring if anyone knew of a local cat club. No one knew of a local organization of cat enthusiasts. A while later, a call was received with regard to a Norwegian journalist staying at the same motel. Were the journalist and the cat lady the same person? There was only one way to find out, and an interview was scheduled.

What this reporter found was the delightful press card-carrying cat lover Stina Eriksen and her son, Bjorn.

The Scandinavian cat breeder and her traveling companion spent 10 days in Thief River Falls visiting with the family of Ingvald Dahle, a resident of Oakland Park Nursing Home. Stina is Ingvald's second cousin. His wife, Thelma, and their four children and their families made sure that Stina and Bjorn took in all of the area sights.

In a comfortable motel lobby, I met Stina and Bjorn and learned all about her special cats, life in Norway and their impressions of northwestern Minnesota.

After the introductions were made and the coffee was poured, Stina brought out an envelope of photographs of cats—Norwegian Forest Cats.

These cats, it seems, were wild until 20 years ago when the Norwegian cat organization recognized them. That organization must compare to the Cat Fanciers Association which has more than 600 member clubs in the United States, Canada, and Japan. They register purebreds—that is, they record the ancestries of the animals—to ensure the preservation of the breeds.

After breeding Siamese cats for 20 years, Stina began raising Norwegian Forest Cats 18 years ago. She did so because of the rarity of the newly recognized breed.

Picture after picture showed cats of every color and color combination. The animals have broad muscular bodies, almost rectangular in shape. Their noses are long, and their eyes and ears are large. The photos indicated medium length, sturdy legs with large round paws, suitable for walking on ice and snow. Their tails are shaggy, or in Stina's words, "like a mop." A ruff, a fringe of long hair, encircles the necks of the males—much like the mane of a lion.

In her description of coloring, Stina kept using the word "ticking," an expression she was unable to translate. Finally, I looked to Bjorn and asked if he could tell what she meant by ticking. According to a Norwegian/English dictionary the word means marking in English.

The protective and insulating coat of the Norwegian Forest Cat has two types of hairs. The undercoat is made up of soft, short, down like hairs. The outer part is made of longer, courser hairs. The outer hairs are covered with a film of oil creating a waterproof cat. The silver markings of Stina's rare cats come about when the hairs of the outer coat are a dark color tipped with silver.

Stina's breeding stock consists of five female cats and three males. While the cats are capable of producing two litters of three to five kittens a year, Stina considers the health of her animals a top priority and doesn't always attempt to breed them that often. She averages 15 to 20 kittens a year.

Her cats live in two houses, one for the males and one for the females. When asked how big their houses are, Bjorn estimated that they are about eight square meters. Eight square meters converts to approximately 26 square feet. Each house has a two-way door which allows the animals to go in and out between their houses and a fenced in outdoor area. During the day, they are turned loose to roam the streets of Oslo.

Stina described them as very good hunters, bringing rats home to lay on the doorstep. According to her they are very people oriented, intelligent animals which respond when called and follow the commands of their owners.

The cats sell for $500 in Norway and $700 to $1000 if they are sold overseas. Stina has sold her cats in Japan and recently sold two kittens to a California veterinarian.

To the best of her knowledge, there are only four or five Norwegian Forest Cats in the United States. Asked if there was a breed in the United States similar to the Norwegian Forest Cat, she said that the Maine Coon is comparable, but her cats are "much better, smarter, and beautiful."

While Stina was traveling, her beloved cats were cared for by an adult grandson who had some very specific instructions for their care. Stina reported that she would go home to a new litter of kittens.

Four years ago, 71-year-old Stina retired from a life-long career in journalism even though she continues to write articles for—what else?—a cat magazine. Previously, she worked as an editor for the largest newspaper in Oslo and also as a writer for various magazines which dealt with home furnishings and maintenance. Her writing endeavors enabled her to travel throughout Europe, and twice she was in the United States: one trip was to a housewares convention in New York, and the other took her to a carpet mill in Atlanta.

She explained that because Norway is a small country dependent upon the rest of the world for much of what its people need, it is necessary for them to sell what's in their heads, or in other words, technology. She also stressed that Norwegians strive to make and purchase furnishings and other items that last a long time.

Bjorn, Stina's son and traveling companion, is a well educated 40-year-old who works as a Certified Public Accountant for a computer firm in Norway. To accompany his mother and travel to the United States for the first time, he left behind a wife and seven-year old daughter.

Holding an engineering degree from the University of Stockholm and an accounting degree from the University of Oslo, Bjorn explained to me how public education which includes years of college is paid for by the government in Norway as is all of their health care. Educations and services are, however, funded by a large tax system.

Beyond cats, Stina's collection of pictures included those of family members and family gatherings. Asked if she and Bjorn lived near each other she said that they did but that she only visited when invited. Catching a glimpse of Bjorn as she said that, I saw his eyes roll and his head shake slightly as he grinned. I chuckled to myself. Family relationships, it seems, are universal.

The Eriksens found our wide open spaces and clean, clear air most impressive. While Norway's population numbers only about 4.5 million, the majority live along the coastline creating density. Stina, who has asthma, has suffered less while visiting Minnesota.

Visiting with Stina and Bjorn was truly enjoyable. The language barrier was slight, and when I could not quite follow what Stina was telling me, I needed only to glance at Bjorn, and he would cheerfully clarify things. They were like old friends, and I was so glad that I had investigated the cat loving journalist and her son. Knowing Stina and Bjorn, if only for a couple of hours, enriched my life.

The Norwegian cat woman told me that her guest room would be available should I come to Norway. Asked what she'd do if I actually showed up on her doorstep, her eyes twinkled as she replied, "I'd say 'Come in.'" I tend to believe she would.

This photo depicts the calm, easy going personality of the Norwegian Forest Cat raised in Norway by Stina Eriksen.

Anyway, other people who are [illegible] and also a lot of walkers have been telling me how diffi[illegible] to walk downtown. No, it isn't that the sidewalks are all cracked [illegible] that the streets have humps and bumps or that the sid[illegible] so filled with people or the streets so filled with poor drivers [illegible] problem is the traffic signals.

Now those people who told me [illegible] must be very law abid[illegible] citizens because the problem is [illegible] Walk and Don't Walk buttons on the bottom of the red, yell[illegible] green signals – the ones that most of us don't even notice are th[illegible]. Take a look next time you are downtown – they really are there [illegible] law-abiding citizens are trying to obey the Walk and Don't Walk [illegible] but they can't.

I know that many people don't pay [illegible] attention to this Walk and Don't Walk stuff. I see people trekking across the street on the Don't Walk signal all of the time. I do it too. My excuse is that I forget to look at them, and I really do (could it be that I don't walk around downtown enough to remember them?)

The problem with the signals is that the Walk signal is not lit up long enough for an average person to get across the street without running. Now I am not talking about a young, sprightly person who runs everywhere, because not everyone is [illegible] and sprightly. I am not talking about tall people with nice, long legs either, because not everyone has long legs. The young and sprightly people with long legs have no problem getting across the street during the time the Walk signal is lit up.

I am talking about an average (not even necessarily older and slower with short legs like me) person walking at an average pace. This average person cannot get across the street on the Walk signal - the average person is caught halfway across the street when the signals says Don't Walk or the light changes to red or green for the other guy or whatever. Then what is he or she supposed to do?

Running across the rest of the street would be foolhardy - the person might take a wrong step and fall down and break something. Obeying the signal and not walking any further at all would be even more foolhardy - he or she might get run over.

What good is that Walk and Don't Walk stuff anyway? I suppose there is a good reason for it, but I can't think of it. I would really like to know. Is it possible that it was put there for some obscure, outdated reason and isn't necessary any more and could be removed? Is it the law?

Since I never walk and drive so much, I plan to take the "55 Alive" driving course in the near future. Maybe then I'll get a chance to talk to someone who knows about those Walk and Don't Walk signals. If I find out anything about them, I'll be sure and let you know.

PARENTING TIPS
Fun Snacks Kids Can Create

•Coat slices of angelfood cake with red raspberry or blueberry preserves.

•Make your own sandwich cookies. Spread jam or preserves on vanilla wafers or gingersnaps and place together.

•Mix two tablespoons of a favorite jam or preserve with one cup low-fat plain yogurt and one teaspoon vanilla extract. Pour into paper cups, insert wooden sticks and freeze.

•As a special ice cream treat, spread any flavor preserves or jam on two toasted waffles. Squish a scoop of softened vanilla ice cream in between the waffles.

(From "100 Quick Tips and Easy Recipes" of the J. M. Smucker Company. Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

When creating your snacks, talk about what you are doing. Use words like "bigger/smaller, roll, spread, first, next." Be sure your child sees the mixture before and after you finish making your snack. Talk about the change that has taken place in the food. When you help your preschooler understand these concepts you are helping him/her to learn about math and science.

Cardiac Rehab patients celebrate life

Tammy Hansen, team leader of Northwest Medical Center's Respiratory Care department and co-director of Cardiac Rehab, visits with alumni of the Cardiac Rehab program.

Florence Nelson, co-director of the Cardiac Rehab department, visits with Cliff Mattson and his wife at the annual Cardiac Rehab picnic held recently in Thief River Falls.

Since the program began in [illegible] about 100 people have completed or are in the process of completing the Cardiac Rehab program at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls.

Last week participants and alumni of the program celebrated at [illegible] together.

Tammy Hansen, coordinator of Cardiac Rehab, explained that the program is for anyone who has experienced heart health problems from heart attack to angina, heart disease, or heart surgery. Participants come to Thief River Falls from all over the region. Generally, they have completed what they call Phase I of cardiac rehabilitation, which is done while they are hospitalized and involves [illegible] education. Phase II of Cardiac Rehabilitation usually begins one to three weeks after the patient leaves the hospital and involves a more intensive course. Hansen said it includes up to a half hour of exercise and education on good eating habits and weight management, etc. taught over 8 to 12 weeks, three sessions per week.

Exercise therapy includes use of a treadmill, stationary bicycle, arm bicycle and stairs. Blood pressure, heart rate and rhythm is monitored throughout the session. The educative component of the program involves teaching the participant and family members about all aspects of heart disease management. Family members are encouraged to attend the education sessions throughout the program at no charge.

The program, which is a partially reimbursable medical expense through insurance, helps these individuals get back to work and a relatively normal lifestyle, reducing their risk for further heart disease.

"After my heart attack in the first week in February of 1995," said Walter Olson of Thief River Falls, "I was asked, or it was suggested, that I should take the Cardiovascular Rehab Program. Being off of work and not much to do, I thought that it might not hurt. The program, as I recall, was only a couple of weeks old at the time. After the required 36 sessions and noticing that my health and my thinking had improved 300 percent, I decided to continue on with the program and try to obtain or pass my flight physical, which I did.

This last January, 1997, I had the good fortune to have a doctor that insisted that I have further tests for some symptoms of slight chest pain. The result was a quadruple coronary bypass.

"The bottom line of all this is, here I am enrolled in the program starting all over again. I feel without this program and the excellent nurses that operate it, my health and outlook on life would probably be 180 degrees from what it is now. I recommend it for everyone who needs it."

Hansen said many people would be surprised at who is involved in the program. Fifty percent are individuals under the age of 50, and 50 percent have been women. These people need support and understanding as they go through difficult changes in their life, which is also why Cardiac Rehab holds "celebrations." Hansen said they have an annual summer picnic and a Christmas celebration.

For more information about the program and other services, contact Northwest Medical Center or check out their new web site at http://www.[illegible]

Leo Hipsher, 87

Thief River Falls - Leo Hipsher, 87, died Friday, July 25, 1997 at Oakland Park Nursing Home.

Funeral services will be held today, Wednesday, July 30 at 10:30 a.m. at St. Bernard's Catholic Church with Father Dennis Weiland presiding. Graveside services and burial will be held at 2:30 p.m. at Sacred Heart Cemetery in Roseau. Visitation was held Tuesday, July 29 from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home with a 7 p.m. Biblical Wake service and one hour prior to services today at the church. Casketbearers were Arthur Fendrick, John Wheeler, Michael Fendrick, Scott Fischler, Doug [illegible] and Floyd Hipsher.

Leo Hipsher was born on April 24, 1910 in Hubbard County, the son of Robert and Mae (Dow) Hipsher. He was united in marriage to Marie [illegible] on August 9, 1932. After farming in Pencer for a number of years, the couple moved to California where Leo worked in the mines for four years. They returned to northern Minnesota where Leo owned and operated a sawmill. The couple moved south of Roseau where Leo purchased a farm and they raised their family. While farming, Leo was instrumental in pioneering Kentucky Bluegrass seed. Marie died in 1967.

Leo married Margaret Kellberg on November 15, 1969 in Roseau. He farmed for about 35 years before retiring and moving to Thief River Falls. Following Margaret's death in 1986, Leo continued to live in Thief River Falls.

He was a member of St. Bernard's Catholic Church. He helped in the building of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Roseau, focusing on the carpentry and landscaping. He enjoyed the outdoors and hunting, working in his yard and spending time with family and friends.

SPEAKING OF EDUCATION

by Jerry Robicheau
Superintendent
School District 564

As you read this column, it is noted that half of our summer has passed. The fair has been completed in Pennington county, the bullride is done and we are now in the process of gearing up for the upcoming school year. In this edition of my column, I'd like to review what has transpired over the past few months.

First of all, we have been actively involved in the process of replacing some individuals who have retired. We were, of course, very sorry to see them leave as we have enjoyed many years of experience these high qualified people have given us. Individuals we wish well in their retirement from the school system over the course of this last school year include: Bob Jury, phy ed teacher at Franklin, 30 years in the district; Mike Lehrer, band teacher at Franklin, 29 years; Dave Morken, music teacher at Challenger, 31 years; Fred Mykleby, transportation supervisor, 17 years; Walt Redinger, social teacher at Franklin, 29 years; Arlyce Twistol, educational assistant at Franklin, 27 years.

We also send our condolences to the family of Al Krause, a 28-year science teacher at Franklin Middle School who passed away this past school year. All of these individuals contributed significantly to the lives of students during their time in Independent School District #564.

The number of new staff we have employed is going to add a new vibrance to our faculty and staff. Although we are still in the process of hiring these individuals, I thought it would be important for you to at least have some idea of those who have been hired so far.

- Terry Blacklance-Minority education coordinator for the District, Tina Columbus-Communications teacher at Franklin, Stacey Hoien-Phy ed/heath teacher at Franklin, Diane Johnson-Music teacher at Challenger, Robert Johnson-Phy ed/health teacher at Franklin, Sharon Johnson-Communications teacher at Franklin, Lori Mackenroth-Teacher of EBD (Emotionally Behaviorally Disturbed) at Franklin, Chris Mills-Dean of students at Franklin, John Vukmanich-Band teacher at Franklin, Chuck Walrath-Math/science teacher at Franklin, Bob Wayne-Social teacher at Franklin, Michael Weinen-Science teacher at Franklin.

With every new face, of course, there comes new excitement and new ideas. That's not to say that new ideas aren't generated daily by our present very qualified staff. However, we welcome these new teachers and staff members to our school system and hope that their experiences in Thief River Falls will be very rewarding.

In addition to the staff members who have retired, we also are looking at two school board vacancies due to the resignations of Larry Belmont and Dennis Kiesow. We are certainly sorry to see them leave not only the board but the community of Thief River Falls. They have contributed significantly to the betterment of our educational program and have given unselfishly of their time to the community of Thief River Falls as they served on our board. We wish them both the best.

As to filling these positions, a notice has been placed in the Thief River Falls Times asking for interested individuals to submit letters of application to the school board. We will be appointing an individual to complete Dennis Kiesow's term which would be from the date of appointment of January 1, 1999, a term of about 1-1/2 years. If you are interested in applying for appointment to this position on the school board, please call the Superintendent's office at 681-8711 for information on how to apply. As far as Larry Belmont's position on the board is concerned, this position is up for election in November and whoever receives the required number of votes will be considered for appointment immediately after the election in November.

We recognize that change is inevitable. Every day we wake up is a change from the day before and we attempt to address that change in a very positive, proactive way rather than a reactive way. We understand and know that education itself is change. Every time you collect information and every time you learn something, you become a changed individual because the information collected changes behavior. All the individuals who have retired and all the individuals coming into the district as new staff members will bring change to the school system.

We are excited about all the wonderful things that are happening in our school system. The summer months have been and continue to be very busy. Our staff is involved in going to school, assisting in interviewing for replacements, doing curriculum writing and staff development activities. We know all members of our instructional staff are busy rejuvenating and developing new energies for the upcoming school year 1997-98.

I do hope your summer is progressing well and if there are any questions or issues you would like to bring to my attention, please do not hesitate to contact me at 230 S LaBree or 681-8711. As we prepare and look forward to a new and exciting school year, we hope you enjoy the remainder of the summer.

Q&A SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. Will Social Security be returning to downtown Grand Forks?

A. Yes. The office is now in temporary space at Columbia Mall but will return downtown approximately this fall. All published phone lines continue to ring at the Social Security office in Fargo but a temporary number of 701-746-1225 rings at the mall site. We continue to use the 124 North 6 Street, Grand Forks, ND 58201 address.

Q. Is it true that Medicare is free?

A. No. There is no such thing as a free lunch or free program. Medicare Part A, for hospital costs does not have a direct fee for those eligible to receive Social Security but is tax funded. Medicare Part B, for other medical expenses, has a monthly premium which represents only about 25 percent of the actual cost. Remaining costs are tax funded.

For your information: Of all adults receiving monthly Social Security at the end of 1996, 42 percent were men and 58 percent were women. More than 80 percent of the men and more than 50 percent of the women received retirement based on their own work. Slightly less than one-fourth of the women received survivor benefits. A person can be eligible for more than one type of benefit.

Q I have a deadbolt that worked fine when I locked it this morning. But now when I put my key in, the key just spins around and the door is still locked. Can you help me?

A Yes. Your professional locksmith can get you in. Then he will attempt to discover what caused the lock to break. If the lock was not installed correctly, he may have to make adjustments to either the lock and/or the strike plate on the door jamb to correct the problem. Be assured that he will do his utmost to solve the problem so you won't have another lockout.

Polaris reports decline in sales and earnings

Polaris Industries Inc. reported a decline in second quarter and first half sales and net income, resulting primarily from lower personal watercraft sales.

For the second quarter ending June 30, sales of $219,888,000 were down from $317,053,000 a year ago and net income was down from $16,286,000 or 58 cents per share to $13,294,000 or 49 cents per share.

For the first half of 1997 operations, net income of $25,313,000 or 93 cents per share on sales of $474,522,000 compared with net income of $29,584,000 or $1.06 per share on sales of $595,091,000 in 1996.

Polaris CEO W. Hall Wendel said the company continues to perform in line with previously stated expectations and that "continued improvement in our gross margins and second half sales approximating last year's second half, should offset a slower first half, resulting in 1997 full year net income well ahead of 1996's record level.

Lower personal watercraft sales reflect the company's decision to lower production of 1997 models to reduce inventory in the field," Wendel said. "To a lesser extent, snowmobile sales will also be reduced. Improvement in margin is being attributed to aggressive cost management, continued expansion of the company's domestic engine manufacturing program, a more profitable sales mix and a more favorable Japanese yen to U.S. dollar exchange rate.

"We are expecting slower retail demand after many strong seasons of snowmobile sales [illegible] our production [illegible] 1998 model year [illegible]," Wendel said.

The company's [illegible] share repurchase program [illegible] repurchased more than [illegible] shares since Jan. 1, [illegible].

Polaris also declared a quarterly cash dividend of 16 cents per share payable on or about August 15 to shareholders of record on August 1.

Polaris reports decline in sales and earnings

Polaris Industries Inc. reported a decline in second quarter and first half sales and net income, resulting primarily from lower personal watercraft sales.

For the second quarter ending June 30, sales of $249,888,000 were down from $317,053,000 a year ago and net income was down from $16,286,000 or 58 cents per share to $13,294,000 or 49 cents per share.

For the first half of 1997 operations, net income of $25,313,000 or 93 cents per share on sales of $474,522,000 compared with net income of $29,584,000 or $1.06 per share on sales of $595,094,000 in 1996.

Polaris CEO W. Hall Wendel said the company continues to perform in line with previously stated expectations and that "continued improvement in our gross margins and second half sales approximating last year's second half, should offset a slower first half, resulting in 1997 full-year net income well ahead of 1996's record level."

Lower personal watercraft sales reflect the company's decision to lower production of 1997 models to reduce inventory in the field, Wendel said. To a lesser extent, snowmobile sales will also be reduced. "We are expecting slower retail demand after many strong seasons of snowmobile sales and are adjusting our production plans for the 1998 model year accordingly," Wendel said.

The company is continuing its share repurchase program and has repurchased more than a million shares since Jan. 1, 1997.

Polaris also declared a quarterly cash dividend of 16 cents per share payable on or about August 15 to shareholders of record on August 1.

Thief River Falls shortstop Paul Frank knocked the ball down as Derek Hepper came up with a stolen base with a slide into second during Thursday's American Legion baseball match-up at Irv Wilson Field. Thief River Falls second baseman Derek Berg backed up the play.

Post 117 ends regular season with 16-2, 13-10 losses...

Detroit Lakes sweeps Legion

Detroit Lakes hits – 14 of them – came in a variety of forms Thursday as the defending Ninth District champions combined high fence-clearing shots with line drives, infield grounders and a couple of Thief River Falls defensive lapses en route to a 16-2 rout in the first half of an American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

Thief River Falls came back to play competitively in the second game before losing a 13-10 eight-inning shootout.

The losses finished a 3-31 season for Post 117. Ninth District tournament play starts Thursday at East Grand Forks. Detroit Lakes left town 21-12.

Kenny Blattenbauer led the Detroit Lakes Game 1 offensive assault with a 3-for-3 performance that included two home runs and five RBI. Doug Muzik was also 3-for-3 with two RBI, and Ryan Whitworth was 2-for-4 with a home run and three RBI.

Blattenbauer even started with a two-run first inning home run. Detroit Lakes took control by scoring six times with two out in the second. The outburst included a bunt single, two infield hits and an infield throwing error.

While the winners might have pickpocketed and dinged Post 117 to death in the second inning, Whitworth went long for a two-run home run in the third.

Three fourth inning fly balls were misplayed into hits and a fourth was dropped for an error, leading to three runs and setting the stage for Blattenbauer's second homer of the game, a two-run shot over the left-center field fence.

Thief River Falls did pick up nine hits, but had trouble converting them into runs. In the third inning, Joey Pribula led off with a single to left, Dayton Elseth put a one-out double into the right field corner and Andy Harbott beat out a run-scoring infield hit.

Second Thief River Falls run came in the fifth when Harbott was hit by a pitch, moved to third on a two-out single to right-center by Derek Berg and scored on a double down the left field line by Charlie Carlson.

The see-saw nightcap included a 4-0 Thief River Falls second inning lead, an 8-4 Detroit Lakes third inning advantage, a 9-5 River Falls fourth inning edge and a game-winning three-run Detroit Lakes at-bat in the eighth.

There were six home runs hit in Game 2. Thief River Falls' Paul Frank cleared the fences in consecutive at-bats, and combined with Dayton Elseth to hit back-to-back homers in the fifth.

"We played much better ball in the second game," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Bruce Elseth. "We didn't do much in the first game, but we hit the ball and we caught the ball in the second game."

Errors committed by a tired Thief River Falls defense, pointed out Elseth, opened the door for the extra-inning Detroit Lakes runs.

Blattenbauer continued to batter Thief River Falls pitching in Game 2 with three more hits and another home run to give him a 6-for-8 doubleheader and three homers.

Bemidji wins VFW baseball title

Bemidji won its sixth straight VFW District 9 baseball tournament title Monday with a 15-3 five-inning championship game decision over Crookston at Irv Wilson Field.

With Thief River Falls natives Barry Dowers and Craig Poole in the coaching boxes, the Bemidji 16-year-olds picked up their 11th district crown in the 13-year history of the event. Now 31-5, Bemidji will compete in the 1997 VFW state tournament Aug. 8-10 at Marshall.

Second-seeded Bemidji started the eight-team, double elimination District 9 tournament, which began Friday, with two close wins. Trailing No. 7-seeded East Grand Forks 2-1, Bemidji scored five times in the bottom of the sixth to win a [illegible] first round game. Tied with No. 3-seeded Moorhead 2-2, Bemidji strung together four straight hits in the bottom of the seventh to win a 3-2 second round match-up.

It got easier after that as Bemidji posted 10-run rule victories over top-seeded Fergus Falls 13-1 in the semifinals and No. 5-seeded Crookston in the title game.

Bemidji won it by playing solid baseball. The winners did not commit a championship game error, they were 5-for-5 in the stolen base department, and they laid down two perfectly executed suicide squeeze bunts.

A single and four walks produced a 1-0 Crookston head start in the top of the first inning of the title game, prompting a quick Bemidji pitching change. And despite committing four errors in the first two innings, Crookston was within 5-3 before Bemidji came to the plate in the bottom of the third.

Three straight one-out singles by Shawn Ross, Ryan Sweeney and Scott Engelson loaded the bases. Justin Skipton scored a run with Bemidji's second suicide squeeze. No. 9 hitter Dusty Gilbertson drove a two-run double into the left-center field gap, and Kurt Fenner followed with a triple for a 9-3 lead.

A six-run Bemidji fourth, featuring a two-run double by Ross and RBI singles by Byron Willard and Engelson, capped the title-winning effort.

Host Thief River Falls lost two District 9 starts – dropping an 8-6 decision to Moorhead Round 1 and falling to East Grand Forks 15-12 in the loser-out bracket – to finish the year 6-16.

MinnAqua Fishing Clinic set for TRF

Put your hooks in the water, it's time for the MinnAqua Fishing Clinic. The annual event will be held in Thief River Falls on August 6 at Chief Red Robe Park.

MinnAqua was created by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in 1990 in an effort to teach the recreation, ecology, conservation and ethics of angling. Thief River Falls has taken advantage of this program in an effort to expand and utilize fishing opportunities in the Thief River and Red Lake River. With a turnout of approximately 180 children it has proven to be a big success.

Trained instructors will conduct the program which includes hands-on activities such as: fish identification, pop can casting, food web tag and of course fishing. Participants also learn sportsmanship, safety, the basics of water ecology and techniques of fishing. The instructors include local residents, conservation officers, area DNR representatives, officers of the Pennington County Sheriff's department, Parks and Recreation department and Thief River Falls Police department.

Professional fisherman Greg Hopps is bringing a simulator depth finder. It shows what the bottom of a lake and river looks like through a depth finder. Hopps will also show the young fisherman what a small fish, big fish or a school of fish would look like.

In addition to a great day of learning, fishing prizes will be awarded. Prizes include fishing lures, tackle boxes and fishing rods.

The MinnAqua Fishing Clinic will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, August 6 at Red Robe Park Fishing Pier. Registration deadline is July 30, and can be completed at the Parks and Recreation office. The cost of the fishing clinic is $3 per person.

For more information please call the Parks and Recreation department at 681-2519.

Russ Holtan winner in Mini-Sprints race at Greenbush Park

Russ Holtan of Thief River Falls won the Mini-Sprints feature Saturday at the Greenbush Race Park.

Thirteen cars lined up for the 20-lap feature. Holtan jumped out to a quick lead, but was passed three laps into the race by Kyle Ridlon of Duluth. Ridlon, however, promptly lost the lead when a caution flag came out and the line-up reverted to the last complete lap on the re-start. Holtan took advantage of the opportunity to lead the rest of the way.

Meanwhile, Thief River Falls' Rod Peterson saw his string of Sportsman's Class feature wins end at six. He led all but the last 30 feet of the 15-lap race.

With just a couple of laps to go, Peterson developed transmission trouble, and was slowly losing his lead over second place Pat Lund of Greenbush. Lund was about to take the lead with a half a lap to go, but a loose battery cable left his car silent on the back straight-away. Peterson coasted his car out of turn 4, toward the checkered flag, but was passed by Roman Gudmundson of Lake Bronson with about 30 feet to go.

Peterson coasted to a second place finish and maintains the points lead in the class.

Regular five classes of racing will be featured Saturday, with hot laps starting at 6 p.m. and races starting at 7. The Greenbush Race Park is located one-half mile north of Greenbush on County Road 7.

Rydell Refuge swan program scheduled for Sunday at 2 p.m.

An anticipated event each year at Rydell National Wildlife Refuge near Erskine involves the return of the trumpeter swans. This year's hatch occurred in mid-April and has resulted in two cygnets (young swans) being reared, which can often be seen swimming around Swan Lake just south of the refuge visitors center.

To learn more about the graceful, beautiful bird, the public is invited to a free program being presented by Wayne Goeken at 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 3 at the refuge.

Trumpeter swans have an interesting history in Minnesota, and with Rydell Refuge. Eliminated in Minnesota by the late 1880s, trumpeter swans were reintroduced into the state by the Hennepin County Park Reserve District in 1966, with the Department of Natural Resources expanding the restoration program in the 1980s. The Rydell Refuge property became involved in 1986 as a holding facility for release birds. One pair was released on the property and hatched its first young at Rydell in 1988. There has been varying success since that first hatch.

To reach Rydell Refuge, go three miles east of Mentor or three miles west of Erskine on U.S. Highway 2 and turn south on Polk County 210. Follow 210 about 2.5 miles south to the large entrance sign and main gate of the refuge. If arriving from the south, turn north off Polk County 41 onto Polk County 210 and go about 3.5 miles north and turn left at the refuge entrance sign. For additional information call the refuge at 218-687-2229.

TRF 13-year-olds win Fosston baseball title

Thief River Falls 13-year-olds won the 1997 Cadet World Series title, the playoffs for the Fosston League in which the team competed this summer – with wins over Fertile-Beltrami and Red Lake Falls Thursday.

Strong pitching efforts from Jared Swanson, John Forney and Steve Reed were keys to the wins, pointed out coach Scott Vedbraaten.

Thief River Falls handled Fertile-Beltrami 19-0 in a one-inning game and beat Red Lake Falls 10-4, with Dann Momerak and Jared Swanson legging out inside-the-park grand slam home runs.

Crookston runner J.J. Scheving got to the bag ahead of the tag by Bemidji third baseman Ryan Sweeney on a pick off play in the championship game of the 1997 VFW District 9 baseball tournament completed Monday in Thief River Falls. Bemidji won 15-3 in five innings.

Disorderly conduct case investigated

Law enforcement officials investigated a variety of incidents including one involving an intruder.

Disorderly conduct. On July 22 at 12:33 a.m. police received a report of a man entering a garage in the South Conley area. The resident surprised the man and asked him what he was doing there and he quickly fled. While searching for the intruder police received another report at 1 a.m. from the South Conley area. A local woman said she was asleep on the second floor of a residence when someone grabbed her hair through an open window. A short while later 42-year-old Ricky Thomas Brunner, Mahnomen, was stopped in the Oakmont Drive area and was charged with disorderly conduct in connection with the garage entry. Brunner allegedly said he was looking for his pickup. Police do not know whether the two cases are related, and are still conducting an investigation.

Accidents. On July 18 at 1:14 p.m. police received a call from the fairgrounds requesting an ambulance. An 11-year-old boy attempting to exit the Fun House at the Pennington County Fair accidentally ran through a plate glass window. Staff at the fairgrounds had taken care of the bleeding from a four-inch cut on the youth's leg before emergency personnel had arrived.

On July 24 at 3:50 p.m. police received a report of an accident involving a car and bicycle at Tindolph and Gulf. Sally Ann Collins, Thief River Falls, was driving south on Tindolph when a bike ridden by Grady Brooks Griffen collided with the side of the truck. Damage to the truck was estimated at $1,000. Grady had bruises to his head and legs, but did not go to the hospital by ambulance.

On July 24 at 10:13 a.m. police received a report of an accident on Sixth Street. According to the accident report, Lacey Annsheffel Hoselhe, Thief River Falls, was driving a station wagon on Sixth Street and attempted to pass a Blazer driven by Stella Bernadette Blawat of Viking, which had pulled to the right. Blawat, however, turned left and the vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $800 to the Hoselhe vehicle and $1,500 to the Blawat vehicle.

On July 26 at 12:45 p.m. police received a report of a car and pedestrian accident at Third and Main. Mary Ellen Langevin, Newfolden, was driving a car east on Third and turning south onto Main when her car struck a pedestrian in the crosswalk. Julia Alvida Hoven, Thief River Falls, had a bump to her head and was taken to Northwest Medical Center.

Driving while intoxicated. On July 19 at 7:57 p.m. police received a report of a young man in a car vomiting. Upon investigation, 22-year-old Frederick Wayne LeMoyne, Thief River Falls, was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Thefts. On July 21 at 7 p.m. police received a complaint from a local woman which ultimately led to an investigation into felony theft. Duke Allen Grove, 27, Thief River Falls, was charged with felony theft, after items from the Arctic Cat Service department were found in his possession. Items included parts and clothing totaling nearly $1,200 in value.

On July 24 at 9:30 p.m. the sheriff's department received a report of a stolen handgun. A Norden township resident reported that he last saw the 9mm handgun and 13-round clip on July 17. On July 19 he held a party at his residence. On July 20 he noticed the handgun was missing. The theft loss was estimated at $400.

On July 23 at 11:34 p.m. the sheriff's department received a report that there had been an attempted break in at the Golf Course Clubhouse. There were pry marks on an office door. Nothing appeared to be missing.

Criminal sexual conduct. On May 22 police received a report of possible sexual abuse. Two 15-year-old females were allegedly involved. Two counts of criminal sexual conduct in the third degree have been filed against Carlos Villegas, 20, Thief River Falls, and Jose Cruse Romero, 20, Thief River Falls. Both men appeared in Ninth District court on the charges Monday, July 28.

Driving while intoxicated. On July 28 at 12:37 a.m. officers arrested Carryll Owen Thompson, 56, Thief River Falls, for driving while intoxicated.

Assault. On July 25 at 6:31 p.m. police received a report of an assault. Richard Allen Nelson, 28, Thief River Falls, faces a charge of fifth degree assault. The female complainant was not taken to the hospital.

These reports include names of individuals charged, arrested or cited with various crimes and offenses by police, the sheriff's department or other law enforcement officials. Depending upon the circumstances of a case, charges can be, and sometimes are, changed or dropped by law enforcement officials or attorneys even before the case reaches court. Readers should also realize that under the American system of jurisprudence, individuals charged with crimes are innocent until proven guilty of those crimes in a court of law.

Red Lake County investigates two fires

Red Lake County Sheriff and fire departments responded to two fires on Wednesday, July 23, one of which is considered arson.

According to the news release from the sheriff's department, "On Wednesday evening at 7:11 p.m. a 911 telephone call was received at the sheriff's office regarding a fire at Tailoredwear, Inc. in Red Lake Falls. When the fire department arrived at the scene, a pile of debris was burning at the southwest corner of the building. The debris fire was quickly extinguished by the fire department. The heat from the burning fire had started a small fire in the insulation of the building. The fire department was also able to put out this fire before it spread to the rest of the building. Initial rough estimates of the damage to the building is approximately $1,500.

"The fire origin was of a suspicious nature and therefore the State Fire Marshall was contacted. Assistant State Fire Marshall Dale Volstad arrived Thursday morning and along with the sheriff's department completed their investigation. It was determined that a number of juveniles had started a small fire and thought they had put it out. After the juveniles left, the fire restarted and then spread to the building. Charges are pending against the three juveniles who are currently believed to be involved in the fire.

"The identity of the juveniles were discovered by the efforts of the State Fire Marshall, Red Lake County Sheriff's department and citizen leads. Anyone seeing someone acting suspiciously near a fire is urged to report their information to the sheriff's department.

"Earlier in the day the Red Lake Falls Fire department responded to a hay barn fire at the John Malwitz farm in rural Red Lake Falls. The burning round hay bales were extinguished with little or no damage to the building."

Trees planted in honor of Rep. Tunheim

Association of Nonsmokers-Minnesota has planted a grove of trees near the Capitol to honor 16 legislators who worked hard on tobacco regulation legislation. State Representative Jim Tunheim (DFL-Kennedy), chair of the House Commerce, Tourism and Consumer Affairs Committee, is one of the legislators being recognized for his efforts.

"We made more progress in 1997 than we have in at least a decade," stated Jeanne Weigum of the Association for Nonsmokers-Minnesota in a letter to Rep. Tunheim. "We want to honor your efforts in a very special and long-lasting way. A grove of Northline Maple trees has been planted in recognition of your efforts. They will grow as a living tribute."

This session the Legislature passed a bill that requires retail establishments that sell tobacco products to be licensed by cities or counties. This law is created in an effort to more effectively regulate the sale of tobacco products and prevent illegal sales to minors. The new law requires annual stings or compliance checks; requires fines for violators; regulates how and where in the store tobacco products can be displayed (no vending machine sales allowed and single packs of cigarettes must be kept behind a counter); requires tobacco companies to file an annual report with the state Health department that lists whether five specific harmful substances (ammonia, arsenic, cadmium, lead and formaldehyde) are in their products; and allows local governments to pass more restrictive ordinances to prevent underage youth access to tobacco products.

Golden Wedding

Norm and Shirley Baune (former residents of Plummer, now of Thief River Falls) celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the Plummer Community Center on Saturday June 28th. The couple's six children and their families hosted an Open House and dinner. Special guests were members of their wedding party: Norman's brother and wife Gene and Ruth Baune of Bottineau and their daughter, and the flower girl Janice Baune Stankey of St. Paul, also Shirley's sister-in-law and husband Gary Stoehl and the ringbearer and Shirley's brother Kent Froseth of Eldorado, WI.

Items of interest that were on display were many many photographs, Shirley's wedding dress, the quilt that was made for the couple's 40th wedding anniversary from squares of memories made by family and friends, also a 22 carat gold vase (filled with flowers of Shirley's choice) that had been given to Shirley's parents, Albert and Anne Froseth on their own 50th anniversary. This vase decorated the guest book table.

A "Remember When" book was given to the couple by family and friends who contributed past memories, pictures and stories or best wishes. This will be enjoyed by Norm and Shirley for years to come. The program was given by son, Bob Baune and Joyce (Mrs. James) Carlson, both of Thief River Falls. The couple's other children are Sharon (Mrs. Daniel) Seibel both of Champlin, Byron Baune of Golden Valley, James Baune of East Grand Forks, and Sandra (Mrs. Mike) Greenwald. The remaining brothers and sister of Shirley were present. All 13 grandchildren plus one step grandchild were there. July 4th Celebration

Once again our little town celebrated July 4th with a large crowd of local people, former residents and friends from near and far in attendance. The day began with a noon lunch at the American Legion Club and the Plummer Fire Center also served lunch [illegible] the day. At one o'clock a [illegible] ceremony at a new Veteran's Memorial was held in the Plummer park with patriotic speeches given by Mayor John Reiley and [illegible] Gagner, Mayor of Brooks. Howard Greenwald, Chaplain of the Legion Club, Marlin Jesme, Commander and Ruth Wikens, Auxiliary President were platform guests and took part in the ceremony. A ladies community choir sang several patriotic songs with audience participation. It was reminiscent of old time Independence Days.

This was followed by the children's parade which preceded the main parade. The best entry among the children's [illegible] was a $15 prize awarded to the Tony Gerardy children. 2nd prize of $10 went to Matthew Eskeli, son of Steve and Becky Eskeli. A tie for 3rd and 4th places went to Doug Lacey and Justin W[illegible] who were dressed as clowns and to Hallie Hesse, daughter of Dean and Sandy Hesse who exhibited a goat. In the adult parade the winner of the best Theme Float was the Community Club. Its theme was "Home is Where the Heart Is" and featured one of Plummer's favorite couples Art and Avis Froland riding on the float. The most Patriotic float was won by Red Lake County Coop who donated the prize back to the Community Club. The Antique car category was won by Plummer Creamery and the Antique Tractor class was won by Donald Scott with a 1938 F4 Farmall. Best Marching Unit went to Red Lake Falls Ambulance, best Horse entry won by Bonnie Wichterman with her Paint horses and the People's Choice Award was won by Plummer Boy Scout troop #168 with Roy Holmes leader. The Scouts received $26 with the other winners receiving $25. Congratulations to the Scout entry who had showed in the Thief River Falls parade and were prize winners there, also!

After the parade there was a ping pong ball drop on Main Street for the youngsters with many prizes ranging from $10 to free ice cream cones.

There were 198 winners, too numerous to record the names. A street dance in the evening ended the day's celebration. Weather had been perfect and everyone labeled the day a success. The demolition derby originally scheduled for the afternoon had to be postponed because of wet ground, but it will be held in conjunction with the Red Lake County Fair if all goes well.

Tom and Tina Hesse of Brandon, FL spent a few days over the Fourth at his mother Loretta Hesse's home.

Visitors of Jean Carpenter over the Fourth were Kim, Minette, Nicholas Carpenter of Fargo, Carole and Vernon Hovet of WI, Russell and Chad Carpenter, Corey and Rose Carpenter family, Nick Carlisle, Monte Greenwald, Chancy and Luke Greenwald of Stacy.

The World Has Changed Since 1957

Robert Nyvall of Grand Rapids, a member of the Lincoln high school Class of 1957, wrote a review of changes in the past 40 years for the class reunion booklet. The first part of the essay was published in The Times July 23. The conclusion follows.

LHS Class of 1957

Not much was known about computers when we graduated from high school but they became the essential tool at the center and control of most business, science and education. In the process, thanks to the silicon chip, computers have replaced the laborious checking out at the grocery counter and the finicky carburetors in automobiles.

Who among us in 1957 could envision going on-line to order books, airline tickets or chat about northern Italian cooking with someone in Denmark? Who would have thought that my e-mail, through the personal computer, has replaced 90 percent of my telephone calls and first class mail? Who would have envisioned that I can write a letter to a scientific colleague in Orange, New South Wales and receive a reply the following morning when he gets to his office?

A personal computer can make a calculation in 1/1,000,000 of a second or less, a feat previously accomplished by machines that occupied large air-conditioned rooms.

Jet airline travel is a routine and normal way to travel, but who among us would have dreamed one large airplane could carry hundreds of people thousands of miles in relative comfort, quiet and safety!

My first airplane trip immediately after high school was on a four-engine, propeller-driven plane that was boarded in Minneapolis (and took me) to San Diego to begin three years in the Marine Corps. The TWA "Stratocruiser" was a noisy, shaking, vibrating and bouncing aluminum tube that stunk of fuel and food on which I became violently airsick.

Now a short jaunt to San Diego or an overnight journey to Australia or Europe is safe and commonplace. The food is eatable, the wines pedestrian but drinkable, and the somnolent movies easily put one to sleep.

Perhaps this offsets a gloom caused by the Ford Thunderbird going from sporty well-made roadster (the envy of most high school kids) to a mediocre and junky medium "family-sized" automobile.

We routinely use products made of teflon, fiberglasses and graphites. Airplanes and golf clubs are made of the metal titanium, unknown in '57. We cook our meals in microwave ovens, talk over cellular phones as we walk throughout our office, house or drive our car down the highway.

We view videos of Star Wars and Jurassic Park. We wear lightweight jackets of Gore-Tex that keep us warm and dry with pockets that seal with Velcro. Our refrigerators are energy efficient and the family bulletin board is laden with pictures developed in one hour and "Post-It" notes. Much of our electricity, despite many trials and errors, is being produced by atomic energy.

The credit card was virtually an unknown and futuristic concept when we left Lincoln high school in 1957. It is now possible to leave home without money in our wallet and stop by one of thousands of ATM machines to replenish our cash supply. Additionally, how many of us essentially go through our daily lives without handling paper money but utilize only our plastic credit cards to pay for goods and services?

Since we left high school, scientists have unraveled the very essence of life itself. Drs. Watson and Crick discovered and defined the double helix of which all life is composed. DNA is now well understood and is routinely being used to perform tasks from solving crime to the development of organisms. Life can now be cloned from a single cell and, in the process, human beings are being forced to examine the substance of the human soul and life itself.

In 1957 whoever heard of Kmart, WalMart or Target? There were no Twins, Vikings or Timberwolves.

In 1957 there were between two and three billion people in the world. Now there are over seven billion. In 1957 it was common to hear of mass starvation occurring somewhere in the world because of a crop failure or a gigantic storm, usually in India, China or the Philippines.

Now those countries are food exporting nations, thanks to new crop varieties developed as part of the "Green Revolution"—new crop varieties that have doubled, tripled and quadrupled yield since 1957 and are resistant to diseases and insects.

Agricultural work is done with machines that accomplish as much in an hour as it took a week to do in 1957. New and safe chemicals selectively kill weeds but leave the food plant intact and healthy.

Although it seems we are beset with storms of the century or every five centuries on an annual basis, lives are saved because of new weather predicting techniques that utilize computers and satellites.

We have seen the disappearance of polio but the appearance of AIDS and the Ebola virus. Sadly, many of us have seen our parents, peers and even children pass away due to a multitude of causes. Yet we have also seen heart transplants, liver transplants, artificial hips, knees and other artificial joints and organs that have prolonged the longevity and quality of lives.

We have lived in exciting times!

To The Editor:

Floyd B. Olson Park was the setting for the KKAQ-KKDQ appreciation summer party on July 24. It was a beautiful evening from start to finish.

The party was hosted by Ev Ault and his staff and the Chamber. There was great food and great music and many prizes. "The Fugitives" played their wonderful style of music and the crowd enjoyed them and stayed on. It was estimated that over 375 people were served.

It truly was a wonderful evening and a sincere thanks to Ev Ault, his staff and the Chamber of Commerce.

Respectfully,

Five Babies Born To Two Couples Here Within 24 Hours

"The population of this community experienced a sudden increase this week when five babies were born to two local couples in Mercy hospital within a space of 24 hours. Triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Mellhouse, the first baby arriving Tuesday morning and the other two early Wednesday. At the same time the first triplet arrived, twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Helgeland of Route 3, city. Dr. O. G. Lynde officiated at the births."

Auto Stunts Friday

"Friday (tomorrow) is Thrill Day at the fair, and, given favorable weather, record crowds are anticipated in the afternoon and evening to witness the exploits of the All-American Thrill Drivers in front of the grandstand. Among their hair-raising feats are the spectacle of a car vaulting over a large bus, and a car crashing into a pile of steel barrels with unpredictable results. Also included in the performance are a series of motorcycle stunts. A near record opening night crowd of 2,500 persons attended the night presentation Tuesday night of the Victory Follies revue, together with a choice array of vaudeville and circus acts. Among the top-notch special acts are jugglers, Chinese gymnasts, feminine acrobats, adagio dancers, cycle act, accordianists and knock-out comedy."

Jungs Bakery Is Damaged By Fire

"Damage estimated by the owners at approximately $5,000 was caused to the interior of the rear portion of Jungs Bakery by a blaze discovered Sunday morning at 5 o'clock when a young woman employee reported for work. Had it not been for her timely arrival, the damage would have been much more extensive.

"The fire apparently originated from spontaneous combustion in a small pile of sawdust in the rear portion of the structure that had accumulated during floor sanding operations that had continued until 3:30 Sunday morning."

Tent Mission Now In Progress

"Following the destruction of its tent by fire last week, the Union Gospel Tent Mission is continuing its series of meetings in the Evangelical Free church each week night except Monday and on Sunday in the municipal auditorium at 2:30 and 7:45 p.m.

"Dr. John Zoller will complete his series of messages next Sunday and be followed Tuesday, August 5, by Rev. Elmer Seagren who will continue through August 10."

Morning Meditations Notes 3rd Anniversary

"Leonard W. Lindholm, director of the Sunday Morning Meditations broadcast, announces that the third anniversary will be noted next Sunday morning, 8:15. Morning Meditations was begun August 6, 1944 through KILO, Grand Forks, originating locally in the Mission Covenant Church, the first weekly Gospel broadcast to be sent from Thief River Falls. Since February this year, Sunday Morning Meditations, still originating in the Mission Covenant Church, has been released also through KTRF, Thief River Falls."

Hot Spell Ends

"After a series of hot days which brought the week's maximum up to 92 on Tuesday afternoon, welcome relief arrived Wednesday when the high reading was 72 and the low 52. Rainfall aggregating 1.12 inches was recorded last Thursday night on the KTRF gauge, with .05 inch more arriving Friday."

Red Lake county at the fair

"The managers of the state fair have set aside $1,200 as prizes for the best county exhibits of agricultural products.

Red Lake county ought to be prominent in this competition, the youngest county in the state, yet by a long way not the least in population, wealth or commercial importance. We should have an exhibit at the fair that would bring these facts to the attention the public. This would be a fit subject for the Red Lake Falls commercial club to take up. The fair will be held September 6 to 11, and while there is ample time for preparation, the present is not too early to begin arrangements, for it is a well-settled fact that affairs of such a public nature are always slow of adjustment. It would be well for our farmers to be on the alert for products that would make a favorable showing. Grain of all kinds, grasses, vegetables and fruits should be gathered in due time and brought in plainly labeled with the name of the raiser. It is customary for the railroads to carry products for such exhibits gratis, so that the making of a fine showing will need but the expenditure of a little energy on our part."
